THE WATCH TOWER

one thing, sometimes another. But no matter. It is ours to show our faith in the written Word of God, as it is available to all. We will take knowledge that we have been with Jesus and learned of him. Thus they may be led to God.

While this holy Spirit proceeds from the Word of God and from the Father and the Son, as indicated in our Lord’s words, it does not come to men without divine assistance in the matter. For instance, while studying the Word of God, we may be in touch with the spiritual channel of heavenly communion—namely, prayer; by which the Father and the Son, as the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, may speak to our hearts and minds, telling us His will and purposes, and this holy Spirit comes to us more richly as a further comfort and assistance in the good way. We call to mind the divine assurance, “Like as a father pitieth his children, so also will he deal with his children that reverence him.” And so we come to the throne of heavenly grace to obtain mercy and find grace to help in every time of need. As therefore the needy one comes, he receives more of the holy Spirit.

There is still another means by which the heavenly Father gives his children of his holy Spirit, and this is through his providences. While we know not, of ourselves, the things we should ask for as we ought, we know from his Word that we may always ask for more of his holy Spirit and the fruits and graces thereof. But we may not at first realize how these can best be cultivated in our hearts. We have the instruction of the Bible that we are to put on meekness, self-control, gentleness, patience, long-suffering, brotherly kindness. Yet while we know this, there is something more that we need—experiences in life which will bring these things before our minds, that they may be better appreciated by us and we may get more of the holy Spirit out of these injunctions of Holy Writ. For instance, we shall have special trials, and thus learn what real patience is, and why we should exercise patience. The Lord may set us to stumble into some trial by which we may be led to see our lack in this respect; and we may come to study more carefully the quality of meekness, to see the holy Spirit of meekness as the Spirit of the Lord, and understand what this means.

So God is giving us more of his holy Spirit by bringing the instructions of the Bible forcefully to our attention through these trials. These trials make the Spirit manifest by the Lord, by his holy Spirit, or power, as a part of the means by which we are to attain the necessary heart and character development—that thus we may be rounded out and become rich in all the heavenly fruits and graces.

“O holy Spirit, Messenger of God,
Come, fill our hearts and minds with rich intent!
Illuminate, instruct, and guide our wills,
May they may with sound intent.
By words divine that point the heavenly way,
By discipline’s hard hammer, or by strain
Of heavenly music winged with pleading prayer,
By sunshine bright or dreary days of pain,
Lead thou us on! This narrow, rugged path
We cannot keep alone. We are not cared for,
The way grows luminous and sweet and fair,
Each earthly bond is loosed, and we are free!”

CONVENTION AT PITTSBURGH

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

The Convention of Bible Students at Pittsburgh, January 6 and 7, was a season of blessed fellowship. When the Society began to make arrangements for the annual election of its officers, required by the charter to be held at Pittsburgh, on January 6, it was thought well to have a convention in connection therewith, and a two-days’ convention was then arranged.

This was the first convention held by the Society since the death of Brother Russell. Moderate nominations for Vice-Presidents were expected, the number manifested by the friends in attendance was excellent, giving evidence that all had been living very near to the Lord. The attendance on Saturday, the 6th, averaged about 600, and sessions were held in Carnegie Hall, North Side, Pittsburgh. The addresses by Brother Ritchie and Brother Hirsh were much enjoyed by the friends.

The Sunday meetings were held at the Lyceum Theater, opening at 9:45 a. m., with the Besed service and followed by a praise and testimony meeting. At 11 o’clock there was an address by Brother Macmillan, Chairman of the convention; about a thousand of the friends were in attendance at this time. Afterward, more testimony was given, and the audience was addressed to about 1,500, about 500 of the public being present. Excellent attention was given, and a good proportion of cards received from those who had heard the truth for the first time.

The evening address by Brother Van Amburgh was greatly appreciated and was followed by a love feast, participated in by about 500.

THE SOCIETY’S OFFICERS

Saturday was the day specially set apart for the election of officers to serve the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society for the ensuing year. Much interest was centered in this election by workers throughout the world. Brother Russell had held the office of President from the organization of the Society, in 1884, to the time of his death. Approximately 150,000 votes were represented in person and by proxy. The secretary of the convention was Brother A. I. Ritchie, with devotional services. He stated that the first work would be the appointment of a Committee on rules and regulations. As it would take a little time for the Committee to complete its work four o’clock, a break was suggested, and the meeting was adjourned to 2 p.m.

The next order of business was the nomination and election of a President. Brother Pierson, with very appropriate remarks and expressions of appreciation and love for Brother Russell, stated that he had received special votes for Brother J. F. Rutherford for President, and he further stated that he was in full sympathy with this and therefore would place his name in nomination. This was seconded by the brethren from Pittsburgh, Boston, Cleveland, Washington, Pa., New York, and other cities. There being no further nominations, a motion was made that the rule of balloting be suspended, and that the Secretary of the convention be directed to cast the entire vote for Brother E. W. Van Amburgh. Thereupon the Secretary cast the ballot as directed, and Brother Rutherford was declared the unanimous choice of the convention as President of the Society for the ensuing year.

There were nominations for Vice-Presidents, and after a few words were spoken for, and Brother A. N. Pierson and Brother A. I. Ritchie were nominated, both nominations being seconded by various brethren. The counting of the ballots showed that Brother Pierson received the largest number of votes. A motion then made the election of Brother Pierson as Vice-President of the Society unanimous.

There was but one nomination for Secretary-Treasurer, and the Chairman was requested to cast the vote of the convention for Brother W. E. Van Amburgh, who was declared elected.

The friends everywhere had prayed earnestly for the Lord’s guidance and direction in the matter of the election; and when the ballots were opened, everything was found to be in order, believing that the Lord had directed their deliberations and answered their prayers. Perfect harmony prevailed amongst all present. A resolution was passed to the effect that while the President is the Executive Officer and General Manager of the Society’s work and affairs, both in America and all foreign countries where the Society has branches, he might appoint an Advisory Committee from time to time to advise and consult with him concerning the conduct of the affairs of the Society. It was understood that this resolution was passed at the suggestion of Brother Rutherford, to the end that the President might have certain persons upon whom he might call at any time for aid and advice in the weightier matters pertaining to the affairs of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society.

Following the election Brother Rutherford, addressing the meeting, said in part:

“Dear friends, I cannot let this occasion pass without saying a few words to you. My heart is full to overflowing. You will bear me witness that I have not in any way sought the office of President of this Society. Up to this hour I have not discussed it with any one. I have purposely avoided doing so, believing that the Lord would accomplish his purpose. But now I feel that the Lord has directed, and I humbly bow to his will. To him alone is due all honor and glory.”

“The Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society is the greatest corporation it has ever been associated with as probationary president of its organization until now the Lord has used it as his channel through which to make known the glad tidings to many thousands, which glad tidings the whole world soon shall know. It is a great privilege to be one of its officers. I am mindful of the great responsibility resting upon the one who attempts to fill the office of President. I am especially mindful of my inability to measure up to the full requirements.

"One who follows a great man in office always finds it a more difficult task to fill the office than it was for his predecessor, due largely to the fact that his acts are measured by the high standard set and maintained by the great man who preceded him. Brother Russell was only a great man, because especially fitted for the use to which the Lord put him. No one can fill his place. While I am fully conscious of this fact, yet I realize that through Christ Jesus I am strengthened. I can do all things, for it is he who will I shall do. I will therefore attempt, by his grace, to continue to make known the glad tidings of Messiah's kingdom, which Brother Russell did as no other man has done since the inauguration of the Apostles. The policies which Brother Russell inaugurated I will attempt to carry forward. Brother Russell was deeply convinced that there is a great work yet to be done; that the Jordan must be smitten; that the people must know of Messiah's kingdom, which Brother Russell did as others have not done for the world will be applied. Then Sin and Death will be no more."

DESTRUCTION OF THE TWIN MONARCHS

"Knowing this, that our old man is crucified with him, that the body of sin might be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serve sin."—Romans 6:6.

The Apostle Paul in his epistles represents the world as being under an evil reign of Sin and Death. (Romans 6:12, 14, 17, 21; 8:12; 1 Corinthians 15:20.) He presents the matter as though there were Twin Monarchs, Sin and Death, and their reigns have been reigning over the world for six thousand years. Sin binds and fetters mankind, and finally turns them over to Death. Under their blighting reign thousands of millions have gone down into the tomb, mentally, morally and physically degraded.

It is not in our power to destroy these great monarchs. They can be destroyed only by the One who has been given all power. This great One can rescue all mankind from Sin and Death and lift them out of their misery and degradation up to purity and life and happiness. Eventually he will fully destroy these great enemies. Then Sin and Death will be no more.

CALLING OUT THE VOLUNTEER CORPS

During this Gospel age God is calling for a volunteer corps of brave soldiers, who have his Spirit and will fight a good fight against sin—a good fight on the side of truth and righteousness. These are called into this great warfare. Whoever is following Jesus, the great Captain, is a soldier in this special corps of volunteers. These are the chosen band of Gideon. We who have answered the call are expected to show our loyalty to our great Leader and Head.

We must first make a full consecration of our lives to God, in order that we may be begotten of his holy Spirit and become as new creatures. It is this holy Spirit of righteousness that leads us to hate iniquity and to walk in the footsteps of our Leader, Christ Jesus. After having been as aliens adopted into God's family, begotten as sons, as members of the body of Christ, we now have a new relationship to him, and any sympathy for sin would be so much of disloyalty to our Captain. Hence we are bound, as true soldiers of the Lord Jesus Christ, our Gideon, to fight a good fight against sin.

Our old man, our human nature, which otherwise would have been made just and perfect in the Millennium, we have surrendered voluntarily to a sacrificial death, just as Jesus surrendered his human nature. This old man, our corpse, is covered by the imputed merit of Jesus Christ. Our Lord says, "Now ye are clean." The Apostle in enumerating the works of the flesh practised by the world, says, "And such were some of you. But ye were washed, ye were sanctified, ye were justified." The new creature is that which is begotten of the holy Spirit and is to develop to completion, and the creature that must be killed is the old man. Much of our battle with the giant sin is within. And not only so, but we must become as new members of our old man, justified, in our salvation. But while we are laying down this sacrifice, consuming it day by day, the merit of Christ's righteousness covers our flesh, so long as we are loyal to God. And we must keep this sacrifice on the altar until it is completely consumed.

CRUCIFIED WITH CHRIST

Our Lord was crucified in conjunction with the divine arrangement. He did not die a sinner, but as a justified creature, by God's arrangement. The Word declares that we are to be dead with Christ, to suffer with him, to be crucified with him. This does not mean that our new minds are being crucified. It means that as our Lord as a man was crucifying himself for the offering for the world, so we as his members have died as men, sharing in this crucifixion of Christ. We are already dead to death, and the process is now going on, and will not be consummated until these bodies have been actually laid down in death.

So the sufferings of Christ, the crucifixion of Christ, in this large sense of the word, have been in process all through this Gospel age. The sufferings being completed, the glory and honor and the change to the divine nature promised to the "more than conquerors" will take place, and the purchase-price for the world will be secured.

What is the end of this crucifixion of each member of the church with his Lord? The Apostle states it in our text. It is in order that the body of sin may be destroyed. Sin once ruled within us. But he has been dethroned. His power over us has been destroyed. Sin is the great giant that has been ruling the world for six thousand years, in conjunction with Death. These giants have made a terrible reign of suffering, but they are about to be vanquished. The church is now suffering with Christ. And if we faithfully suffer with him unto the end, we shall reign with him and bring about the destruction of sin and death, which will be accomplished in his Millennial reign.—Romans 5:17; 5:10; 20:4-6; Daniel 7:22; Psalm 149:6-9.

"That henceforth we should not serve sin." We as the Lord's people are delivered from this reign of sin. We are no longer under bondage to sin. God counts us as having passed from death unto life, from sin unto righteousness. We
To International Bible Students scattered throughout the world:

DEAR BRETHREN IN CHRIST—

In this hour of sorrow, mingled with joy, we think of the words of St. Peter, so appropriate at this time: "Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fire among you that is to try you, as though some strange thing had happened unto you." (1 Peter 4:12)

Time and again our dear Pastor warned us of this coming time, and now it is here. In THE WATCH TOWER under date of 1897, page 4, he said:

"Fiery trials are therefore to be expected by all of the Lord's people, especially in this day of the Lord. As surely as we are sons of God we shall have them; and when they come we should promptly recognize their mission to us and see that we are exercised by them unto godliness, sobriety and deep and fervent piety."

Who then, will be able to stand? The Lord answers, Everyone who has the heart is perfect.—2 Chron. 16:9.

Seeing the activities of the Adversary, and that a great trial was coming, I had hoped and prayed that the Church might be spared from it; if it be the Lord's will, but evidently it is His will that the fire shall burn out all dress; that only the refined gold shall remain. I assure you, dear brethren, that in making this statement I have no unkind feeling toward anyone. As I search my heart I am sure it is perfect toward all. The Lord is my judge. I feel, under the circumstances, that I owe it to you to take you into my confidence and make a plain statement of the facts, and then let each of you judge as to what seems best, and may the Lord guide you in hearing. I ask each one of you to be calm, watching and praying while you read, and see that you have no prejudice or feeling, either for or against; and that you do not form any distinct opinion until you have read all this statement. In order for you to understand, it will be necessary for me to speak of the brethren involved by name, even if it is painful so to do. Brother Russell long warned us that the evil spirits would exercise great power in the closing hours of the Church's pilgrimage, and I am wondering if they are the ones who have caused this fearful trial. He will make it clear in due time. Read Rev. 7 comments in Vol. 7 of Scofield. That you may understand why I was led to appoint four members of the Board of Directors in order to save the Society's money from being tied up by law suits and its work wrecked, both of which have been threatened, it is needful that I relate to you some things that have occurred since I became your President. To do this, I am impelled to tell you what occurred in Great Britain with reference to Brother Russell long since, members of the Bethel Family, acting under advice of a lawyer who is not friendly to the Truth, and under the advice of another who is not a lawyer, had been about some of the classes making derogatory statements against the President, Secretary and Treasurer and others of the Society with a view to creating a sentiment in the minds of the friends against these brethren. They have done this while traveling at the expense of the Society and its representatives. Since they have made it public and disturbed the minds of many of the friends, it becomes my duty to you to make a statement of the facts.

EPITOME OF FACTS HEREAFTER ESTABLISHED

That you may intelligently follow the evidence hereinafter set forth, I first give a brief outline of what the facts prove:

1. That Brother P. S. L. Johnson was sent to Europe last November to do pilgrim work for the WATCH TOWER BIBLE AND TRACT SOCIETY and, in order to procure a passport, was given a letter of authority which he understood in fact limited him to preaching the Gospel and ascertaining by inquiry certain facts there; and that the Society was fully aware he possessed his authority; that he charged several brethren with disloyalty to Brother Russell; that he discharged, without authority, two of the managers of the Society’s London office and compelled them to leave the London Bethel.

2. That the Executive of the Society appointed a commission of five able brethren of Great Britain to go to London and ascertain the facts and report; that Brother Johnson attempted to unduly influence this commission before it met; and being unable to do so, he repudiated it and refused to appear before it; that he was recalled from England by cablegram.

3. That Brother Johnson announced in various places in England that he was the “Steward” of the “Penny” mentioned in the Lord’s parable (Matt. 20:3), and claimed all the powers and authority that Brother Russell possessed; that he had a well-laid plan to take full control of all the Society’s work in Great Britain and to establish a new WATCH TOWER there; that he announced to the friends in Great Britain that he should have been the Society’s President but declined to accept.

4. That when the commission met in London for the purpose of examining into the facts, Brother Johnson then repudiated the action of the Shareholders in electing the President of the Society at Pittsburgh, January 6, 1917, and ignored the President and began to communicate with Brother A. I. Ritchie and, through him, to appeal to the Board of Directors.

5. That while he was resisted by Brother Hemery, the remaining manager in the London office, Brother Johnson, together with an accomplice, took possession of the keys and forcibly took possession of the London office, the Society’s mail, opened the safe and extracted therefrom a large sum of money belonging to the Society and then instituted a law suit in the High Court of Chancery in London, in the name of the Society by himself as special representative, against the manager of the London office and against the Bank where the Society’s funds were deposited and alleged that this law suit was decided adversely to Brother Johnson, and his solicitor was required by the High Court to pay the cost, and that later Brother Hirsh and allies and at the instance of Brother Johnson tried to have the Society pay Brother Johnson’s solicitor in the case, but failed.

6. That everything in the Brooklyn office was moving smoothly, with no discord, until Brother Johnson demanded of the Society’s President that he be returned to England and, being refused, then resorted to his influence over Brothers Hirsh, Hoskins, Wright and Ritchie and induced them to believe that the President was ignoring them. He influenced them to ask for a meeting of the Board of Directors to give him the third hearing about what he did in Europe; that when the President refused to call a meeting for that purpose, the Society’s funds were set aside; that the shareholders had passed and which the Board of Directors had passed, and take away from the President all of the authority and turn it over to these four brethren. Brother Johnson, on the 25th day of July last, admitted that the trouble hereinafter described was the result of the refusal of his demand for a re-hearing with a view to his being sent back to England.

7. That the other four brethren, acting under the advice of Brother Johnson, began a systematic campaign amongst the brethren, charging that the President is ignoring Brother Russell’s will and going contrary to the precedent established by Brother Russell. That a plan was outlined by them and they, acting under the advice of Brother Johnson and the lawyer, set about to influence some of the prominent brethren against the President, and had the President brought before a meeting of the Board of Directors. That they outlined a course exactly parallel to that pursued by Brother Johnson in England, and openly stated that if the President and the PEOPLE’S PULPIT ASSOCIATION resisted their action that they would resort to the courts of law and tie up all the money of the Society, so that it could not be used, and that they would either run the Society or wreck it; and that their wrongful action was prevented by the President.

BROTHER JOHNSON GOES TO ENGLAND

Brother Russell had arranged last Fall for Brother Johnson to visit Europe, and those left in charge after Brother Russell’s departure thought well to carry out his wishes and send him. Brother Johnson called at the State Department at Washington, and the Bureau of Citizenship in New York for information concerning passport. Receiving he informed the Committee that it was necessary for him to have credentials showing that it was imperative that he visit the foreign countries in the interests of the Society; and the government, because of the war, would not grant the passport. Myself and Brother Johnson together prepared a letter to present to the State Department, with the understanding that it was for the procuring of a passport. When it came to the signing of the letter Brother Van Amburgh, the Secretary, refused to sign, because it granted sweeping authority to Brother Johnson. Then it was explained in the presence of Brothers Van Amburgh, Ritchie and myself, and Brother Johnson that the endorsement of the letter was necessary to enable Brother Johnson to procure a passport. We both agreed that his authority would really be the same as any other pilgrim or lecturer. Brother Ritchie then remarked to Brother Johnson that he would be well for him to inquire at the Society’s offices he visited in Europe as to the manner of conducting the work, to enable him to carry on the work to Great Britain.

TROUBLE BEGINS IN ENGLAND

About the 6th of February a cablegram was received from Brother Johnson, reading as follows:

“Situation intolerable. Shearn, Crawford, dismissed. Appealing to you. Withhold answer pending my mail.”

About the same time another cablegram was received from Brothers Shearn and Crawford, as follows:

“Astounding developments, office and Tabernacle. Please defer all judgment.”

The INTERNATIONAL BIBLE STUDENTS ASSOCIATION, organized under the laws of Great Britain, has a council of five members, Brothers Hemery, Shearn and Crawford constituted the members in Ireland, while Brother Russell and myself were the two members here. The same three brethren above mentioned were the managers of the London office, conducting the work there.

Knowing that Brother Johnson had no authority to discharge Brothers Shearn and Crawford, and being doubtful of the information, I sent the following cablegram to Brother Johnson:

"Have contending sides sign agreed statement of facts and send for my decision."

Then in a few days I left for California. Some time after I reached Los Angeles I received information from Brothers Crawford and Shearn, also from Brother Johnson, that the two brothers mentioned had been discharged from the London office and the London Bethel. I appointed five able brethren in Great Britain as a commission to investigate, and then sent the following cablegram:

"Shearn, Hemery, Crawford, Johnson, London:
Shearn, Crawford dismissal absolutely without authority. Restore them immediately. Must have fair trial before my commissioners. Show cable commission notice."

The next day I received a cablegram dated Liverpool, February 24, 1917, and reading as follows:

"Rutherford, Watch Tower Society, Brooklyn, N. Y.
"Surprised at cablegram. Have you not received my letters, second, eleventh, twenty-one, January? Shearn, Crawford, leading sixth sitting, Eskepiie Nine Beware. Cablegram campaign engineered Crawford, Shearn, Ezra Nehemiah Maw. If so, experience needed here, since twenty-eight am Stewart, Matthew, twenty, eight. Shearn, Haman then hanged on gallows for me. Was then given Esther Eight, Two Fifteen powers like Russell, Crawford, San-ballat, Shearn, Tobias, Guard Senior, Gishen. Will you be my right hand? Must keep my hands on."

"JOHNSON."

(This, and subsequent cablegrams sent out by Brother Johnson cost the Society hundreds of dollars for their transmission.)

Within the next two or three days I received the following cablegram from Brother Hemery, dated London, Feb. 26th:

"Johnson claims full control everything. I resist as your representative. Dispute with co-managers. Los Angeles cable has attention. What are Johnson's powers?"

On the 27th of February I cabled Brother Johnson as follows:

"Your work finished London; return America, important."

Believing from the information that I had, and from the language used by Brother Johnson in his cablegram, in which he stated that he was "steward" with all powers formerly held by Brother Russell, I was convinced that his mind was disturbed and that he was disturbing the work in Great Britain. Thereupon I cabled from Los Angeles to Brother Hemery as follows:

A cablegram dated London, March 7, 1917, addressed to Brothers Ritchie and Van Amburgh, was received from Brother Johnson, which is as follows:

"Society's interest demand I retain powers Board, not executive committee, gave me. I appeal Board through you against Brother Johnson's repudiating Board's representative. He is subject Society. Society's representative subject to it as against him. Letter follows. Continue letter appointment and credentials. Increased injury otherwise. Congregations unanimously voted me confidence appreciation against Shearn, Crawford. Rutherford's committee approves me. Disapproves him. Bethelites approve dismissals second harmonious with my powers. I protest in God's name to Board through you."

Later, Brother Hemery, learning of this cablegram, sent the following, dated London, March 18th, addressed to Brother Rutherford:

"Understand Johneson cabled untrueists Ritchie. Hopo soon report his collapse."

The following cablegram was received from Brother Hemery, dated March 14th, London, addressed to myself:

After the commissioners were appointed and Brother Johnson learned that they were to go to London to investigate the facts and report, he visited each one of them personally and tried to influence them in his behalf and against the others. This fact is proven by the following letters from Brother Crawford:

LETTERS FROM BROTHER CRAWFORD

DEAR BROTHER IN THE LORD:

"Long. your choice of those who are in high places is as follows: About a month or so before our dear Brother Russell passed beyond, the Elders of the London Tabernacle—realizing that the arrangements then existing in the Tabernacle were not giving complete satisfaction to the members of the Congregation—unanimously agreed to call a meeting and inquire into all the circumstances which lay at the root of the trouble. . . . Shortly after, word came that Brother Johnson was on his way, and we wondered whether it was to have been charged by Brother Russell with the expression of his mind on the matter. When Brother Johnson arrived, however, he knew nothing of the correspondence and at once told us of his intention to set things in order in the Tabernacle. We all wished him God speed and gave him every assistance possible. Judge, then, of my surprise when, a few days later, I found all the three brethren of the Office staff charged by him on the following three counts: (1) With attempting to deceive Brother Russell. (2) With concealing the real purpose of the Resolution. (3) With having an evil motive in signing same. At first I did not take the matter seriously and tried to believe that Brother Johnson surely did not mean to brand all the eleven Elders of the Tabernacle as hypocrites, etc., without any proof or hearing whatever, and the three brethren of the Office as even worse. . . .

"The situation that was created became impossible, because, in the first place, neither of the three involved were conscious of any sin or evil motive nor had they agreed any thing either by word or action; secondly, to relinquish the position he was in his behalf, and against the others. This fact is proven by the following letters from Brother Johnson:

DEAR BROTHER IN THE LORD:

"Long. your choice of those who are in high places is as follows: About a month or so before our dear Brother Russell passed beyond, the Elders of the London Tabernacle—realizing that the arrangements then existing in the Tabernacle were not giving complete satisfaction to the members of the Congregation—unanimously agreed to call a meeting and inquire into all the circumstances which lay at the root of the trouble. . . . Shortly after, word came that Brother Johnson was on his way, and we wondered whether it was to have been charged by Brother Russell with the expression of his mind on the matter. When Brother Johnson arrived, however, he knew nothing of the correspondence and at once told us of his intention to set things in order in the Tabernacle. We all wished him God speed and gave him every assistance possible. Judge, then, of my surprise when, a few days later, I found all the three brethren of the Office staff charged by him on the following three counts: (1) With attempting to deceive Brother Russell. (2) With concealing the real purpose of the Resolution. (3) With having an evil motive in signing same. At first I did not take the matter seriously and tried to believe that Brother Johnson surely did not mean to brand all the eleven Elders of the Tabernacle as hypocrites, etc., without any proof or hearing whatever, and the three brethren of the Office as even worse. . . .

"The situation that was created became impossible, because, in the first place, neither of the three involved were conscious of any sin or evil motive nor had they agreed any thing either by word or action; secondly, to relinquish the position he was in his behalf, and against the others. This fact is proven by the following letters from Brother Johnson:

Mr. J. E. RUTHERFORD and The Executive Committee,
Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society,
either under the influence of spiritism or else has temporarily lost his balance of mind. No sane man would say or do the things that he has done during the last month or so. For no cause whatever but merely evil surmising on his part he has denounced me for hours in the Tabernacle, telling them that I was dead spiritually and no longer a brother, etc., etc. He has also gone to my wife when I was absent on more than one occasion, telling her the same ridiculous story and tried to separate us. Once he gave her a talk in this way that when I came in I found her weeping and almost in hysterics.

"... Brother Johnson has been telling the classes that he is the steward of the parable of the Penny and that he would have been the president only he refused to allow his name to go forward for nomination.

"A peculiar delusion of his which he has been preaching to the classes is, Brothers Shearn and Guard and I are fulfilling some types promised in Nehemiah, Chap. 2: 4 and 6. He says that I am "Sanballat," Brother Shearn, "Tobish," and Brother Guard "Geshem."

"The classes here are in sore straits through his visits. He seems to have unsettled nearly every class he visited. The brethren have been much relieved however by the receipt of your cable and are glad to know that his doings did not represent the Society.

"Brother Johnson, however, does not now acknowledge your authority to counsel his dismissal and says that 'the interview' did not come before the Executive Committee. He refused to allow either Brother Shearn or me to be reinstated.

"... Now just a word about the Commission of Inquiry. I should like you to make this arrangement and I much appreciate your efforts to have justice done. I would like however to make a few remarks regarding the members of the Commission and how the inquiry was carried out. It was no fault of the members of course that they had been interviewed by Brother Johnson and their minds influenced to some extent by Brother Johnson's views of things. Brother Johnson had spent several days in Brother M. Cl. Church trying to confound him of his views of things, and indeed was there when your cable of instructions was received.

"Yours by his Grace, W. CRAWFORD."

BROTHER JOHNSON WRITES BROTHER HEMERY

We also quote a letter addressed to Brother Hemery, written and signed by Brother Johnson. This letter appears as an Exhibit in the High Court of Justice in the case wrongfully instituted by Brother Johnson in the name of the Society against the London managers. The document follows:

"1917 W. No. 541.

"Mr. J. Hemery,

"Enquire Brother Hemery.

"Grace and peace. Glad to receive your letter.
Will answer it first, and then give you something else.

"Re a further trip. I had better remain at London from the time of my arrival there until the following Thursday or Friday, then go to Glasgow, with possibly a day off at Manchester. I will wait and see what Manchester develops next week. On the way back, so far as I can see, I would like an appointment at Edinburgh so as to get matters clearly before the Edinburgh Church.

"Everywhere I go I am now giving an account of this trouble. This must be done to circumvent the mischief that they are already working. They are working on quack doctors; and this we must frustrate. Shearn is spreading the report that I have interfered with his success in the Military matter. As to whether I will have appointments after Edinburgh I have no idea what will develop. Keep your eyes open, please, for sore spots. These are the places to which I wish to go.

"Thanks for information about Sister Annie, and the adoption. I understand your letter to mean that I want even to go to Court to have it settled—that our agreement before the Bethel family made it binding and legal; am glad.

"Re food: I wish, dear Brother, that you would follow my suggestion on this line. I am speaking very advisedly when I say it is imperative that staple articles be gotten and stowed in a safe place, safe from men and from rats. Please let them be bought at different times, and suggest, the making of a false ceiling as a receptacle, and let it be lined throughout with tin, as a safe-guard from rats. Wheat is the special thing needed, and monkey nuts. The famine will be very sore shortly, and the prices will rise. You will notice Elisa calls attention to the famine, and that is what I have in mind. You will remember that I told you when I came at first, that there would be this condition shortly, and now I know it is at the very door, and therefore suggest that it be done immediately, for the good of the family. I have a way of answering questions that would be perfectly right, and will do no harm to the food. Will tell you about this when I see you.

"Re Brother Shearn's furniture: I think you did very well on what you have bought. However, the balance of his furniture must leave the house as soon as possible. We will wait for indications and so, for the present, will let the furniture stand as it is.

COMMISSIONERS INTERVIEWED BY BROTHER JOHNSON

"Thank you for the Manchester matter. I have it under advisement; also Brother Smedley. I am going to dictate a letter to those brethren who furnished me names, asking them to come to Bethel for a Conference with me, March 3rd at 2 p.m. I am going to lay the whole position before them. Brother Edmunds has pointed four of these eight as a Committee to investigate; Brother Housden is the fifth member of the Committee.

"I trust Sister Cormack has returned, and thank you for what you have done re Elders and Deacons. Re Brother Cormack: Thank you for bringing this to my attention. I will do as you suggest; we must put an end to grasping for power on the part of everybody. I will write him today on this line, sending the letter to the office.

"Re the six Elders elected who signed the Resolution: You will that on the 1st day that the Jews stood for their lives, which, I understand, would refer to last Sunday, the ten sons of Haman are spoken of simply as slain and that in the 2nd day they were hanged up. This 2nd day I understand will be March 4th. At that time, since they are the sons of Haman, the Agagite (an Agagite represents a sinfully ambitious person), I am sure that everyone of those brothers were the ambitious, and their ambition moved them, along with other things, to sign that Resolution, and I will therefore, after proving this point, recommend their dismissal. This process will be their the Lord will sustain me to finish the work that he has given me to do.

"I send the family, the associate managers, your wife and yours, much Christian love. The Lord bless and keep thee.

"Your brother and servant,

SUIT INSTITUTED WITHOUT AUTHORITY

When Brother Johnson was unable to influence the Commissioners he remained quiet for a day or two, and then suddenly it occurred to him to deny that I had been elected President of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society. He began to cable Brother Ritchie; and wrote him letters, and then proceeded to forcibly take possession of the mails and money in the London office, and employed a lawyer and instituted a suit in the High Court of London in the name of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society and against Brothers Crawford, Hemery and Shearn, and the bank where the Society's money is kept, and tied up all the funds of the Society. Brother Hemery thereupon cabled me as follows:

"Johnson applying court Friday next for injunction restraining bank. Cable us instructions immediately."

I immediately cabled Brother Hemery to oppose injunction and in reply received from him the following cablegram:

"Am consulting Greenop. Please cable him direct to oppose injunction and take necessary steps, restraining Johnson's action. Nothing as representing Society any capacity."

Thereupon I cabled Mr. Greenop, London solicitor for the Society, as follows:

"Resist Johnson's injunction. Does not represent Society. Restrain him."

On March 24th Brother Hemery cabled me:

"Johnson business frayed. Situation normal. Most money received. Deposits safe. Johnson's supporters departed. He left Bethel suddenly by upper room window."

On the same day Brother Hemery wrote me in detail a letter, of which the following is a copy:

LETTER FROM OUR LONDON MANAGER

"My Dear Brother Rutherford:

"At last I am able to write you with some measure of satisfaction with reference to this sad business which has been the source of so many carpetbaggers exchanged between yourself and us in London....

"The immediate situation is this, as my telegram would indicate. Johnson's rebellion, and his attempt to seize the whole of the British work, and its funds in bank deposits, has failed, though the matter of the injunction is not yet out of the High Court because of the question of costs. Judge Peterson adjourned the hearing of the Motion until next Friday. But the case will not again come into the Court. On receipt of your cablegram of the 10th, in which you instructed us to take full possession, I, knowing something of Johnson's mind, immediately got in touch with the bank to safeguard the deposit of £500. I was none too soon: he was there immediately after me, endeavoring to use his letters from head office to gain control of the money. We fought for it. At last he issued an injunction through the High Court for a claim on the money, and against the bank for withholding it. The writ was returnable yesterday. However, when the case came before the judge yesterday, Johnson's counsel said, after reading my affidavit, that he did not propose to proceed with his motion; but we here, trying to protect ourselves, had made a little slip, and thus gave them a chance to haggle over the costs for the action, and this is all that remains to be settled as far as the motion is concerned. This will mean that the bank account here stands in the names of Brothers Shearn, Crawford and my own, and this hanging. First, however, we will settle the matter with Shearn and Crawford, but the whole thing will be settled March 4th and after that there will be joy and rejoicing on the part of the faithful and many new ones will come into the Truth to take the places of others. I increasingly fear that Brother Cormack is the son-in-law of Sanballat, and what you write me only strengthens that fear. If that proves to be true I will 'chase him from me.'

"Thanks for the cablegram from Brother Rutherford. He is undoubtedly the victim of a cablegram engineered by Shearn and Crawford. This morning I sent Brother Rutherford a long cablegram telling him that I was anti-typing Ezra, Nehemiah, Mordecai, and that on the 26th I would be hanging up Brother Shearn on the scaffold that he had prepared for me. I was appointed by the Lord according to Esther 8: 2, 15, the Steward referred to in Matt. 20: 8. I asked him to be my right hand man. I expressed astonishment at his cablegram, and inquired whether he had not received my letters of Jan. 2nd, 11th and 21st; told him that Haman represented Shearn in Esther, and Tobish represents him in Haggai, while Crawford was created by Sanballat, and Geshem represented Guard Seren. I trust this will change his attitude, for he is evidently becoming excited. I told him I could not keep hands off. Brother Hemery I will be responsible for everything. I think you see enough to see what the Lord has been, and is doing for me. I believe that you consider that my communications from these Books are correct. Everything that unfolds seems to make it all the clearer to my mind, that the Lord has given me the proper light on the books. I did not mention it in my cablegram to Brother R., and again by forgetting that the congregation unanimously voted confidence in me, and approval of what I have been doing for them against Shearn and Crawford. Seemingly the Lord permitted this forgetting again in order that you, as Chairman and Brother Sleed, as Secretary, might convey the news. We have a somewhat too intensive with cablegrams and have allowed the other side to keep the wires hot. However, the Lord is on our side against all them that rise up against us. I notice from Taras Towes, that Brother Rutherford is in Santa Barbara, on the 24th. I trust my cablegram reaches him. I think the Lord is going to let him mix things up quite thoroughly, until He shows him who has been his choice as Brother Russell's successor. Brother Rutherford wrote me that the Executive Committee is not in favor of the question, and I am wondering bow this is. Seemingly from this, he is acting wholly alone as the authority. It may be all right, but I do not understand it. I think Brother Rutherford will come to see the position properly in a very short time. My cablegram this morning ought to open his eyes.

"To the Elders and Deacons: I had better see the Elders and Deacons together for part of the time, and then the Elders alone the rest of the evening. What do you think of Brother Dingle as an Elder and speaker in the Tabernacle? Please let me have your opinion. Have you any other recommendations? According to Neh, there will be twelve Elders in that congregation, and not eighteen. Notice the passage that speaks of Ezra arising with the priests on each side. This is at the water gate, which I understand to refer to the Elders. One after another of these gates are becoming clear to my mind. I have nearly all of them now, and will have them all, I believe, in due time.

"Am not at all well. My brain is quite weary, and the Lord, seemingly in compassion for me, has arranged but one meeting a day for me until this trip is finished. Annie is a great help to me, I am sure that the Lord has given her to me to give me much needed relief. If this relief would not have been forthcoming, I am satisfied I would have had a repetition of my 1910 breakdown, but of arrangement will suit very well until any further readjustment needs to be made according to whatever you may decide."

"Now I must tell you how the immediate events developed. After your telegram giving cancellation of all Johnson's activities, he was quiet for twenty-four hours or so, then suddenly blossomed out with the statement that the election of the President of the Society was absolutely out of order. He asserted his right to sit at the head of the table in the Bethel family, and in order to make sure of his right, he went and spoke to the Chair before the family assembled. I refused to acknowledge him as having the seat to represent you, and said to the family that this was open rebellion. I called upon them to give no adherence to the rebellion against your authority as representing the Society. To my surprise, most of the brethren stayed with Johnson, and they continued to handle the work. That morning Johnson raved at me for a couple of hours and dismissed me half a dozen times or more. His insistence, his insinuation, his mouthing, made some of the brethren think that he was the person in authority, and they had, unfortunately, listened to his claim of being the antetype of many years, and, as they now saw—'

'a donation, and which I believe we shall yet save to ourselves, though at the present moment there is a doubt. Housden refused to say where the money went, and we had to talk to him pretty plainly. He promised however, that he would not aid Johnson any more. We asked him about the possibility of the police coming in. I should here tell you that the day before, Brother Dinglo, who had his head twisted with Johnson's talk, saw the folly of his apologetic and repudiated Johnson's position. He, feeling some responsibility, had gone up to Brother Housden's room to plead with him. The window-blind was up. Brother Dinglo said one thing, and got so busy talking with Housden, that the family noticed that they were breaking the lighting regulations. About 11.30 p.m., the door bell rang, and I went down to see what was the matter. A constable was at the door wanting an explanation of this violation of the very stringent London lighting regulations. He insisted upon seeing those who were responsible, and I had to take him upstairs. You can imagine the situation! There was a constable appearing at the bedroom door immediately after our talk about the constable coming. However, that matter was soon over, and the constable went away, knowing nothing, of course, of our conversation.

"About 8 o'clock in the morning Brother Johnson's foot began pounding on the door, and he had not a great difficulty in driving away the bit of wood that had been edged against it to keep him within bounds. It had been his habit of late to wander about the house between two and four in the morning, evidently seeing if his possessions were safe, for he is a very suspicious character. Brother Cormack, who was with me that night, spoke to Johnson, told him he could not keep Johnson within bounds. He rent up towards the bathroom if he wanted, but he must remember that he could not have things his own way, and that a constable had been sent to see him the night before. Of course this was a bit of bluff to help to keep Johnson within bounds. He went up to Housden's room, and when he found that Brother Housden would not come out to him, he began to think there was something wrong. He went with me to Co. Green Terrace. Instead of going into the bathroom, he hastily dressed himself, left his baggage open, got out on the balcony, and then the milk deliverers saw the ludicrous sight of a man in a frock coat and a greatcoat, running down the balcony into the street. The matter was not so serious, the ludicrous side comes on this, because for his skin, impelled by an evil conscience, that made him do this foolish thing. The front door was loose, he could have walked down and walked out. We wondered what had become of him, but one or two strange telephone messages through the day assured us that he was standing by the speaker endeavoring to get some knowledge of his friend, Brother Housden. He turned up at the Court yesterday, and saw his failure written large across the happenings at the Court. Afterwards he said he was willing to go back to America, and Brother Housden expressed his readiness to go; if he thought he should go to take care of Johnson, but, as I believe, with the fear in his heart that this embezzlement of the money might bring serious consequences to him.

"During the day Brother Housden delivered to Brother Gentle, who had had some talk with him, a package of money containing about £200 in gold, a few notes and a paper, but here seemed a little trickery, because he has said he was willing to deliver up the money to me, for Brother Gentle phoned to say that the money had been placed in his care, but he felt it was to hold it until he had a note from Johnson's solicitors giving him the right to hand it over. I immediately reminded Brother Gentle of his danger in handling what was practically stolen property, and of what he himself has said to Brother Housden on this matter. He had no difficulty in coming to a decision, and I got the money, £217, last night. They have paid out £40 to their solicitor to meet preliminary expenses, but we are asking for a full statement of receipts and expenditures, and whether we shall get it or not, we do not know. The cheque for £300, which Brother Housden had said was in the package, was not there—I had the money covered in Brother Gentle's presence. I am at the moment waiting for news respecting this cheque, and may be able to report something before this letter is despatched.

(Later—Cablegram was returned to drawer, and is safe from Brother Johnson's hands.)

"The costs in this case must be heavy, for Johnson had to employ not only Solicitors, but Counsel. The writ was served on the Bank as well as us, and they employed their Solicitors and Counsel, and it was necessary that we should do the same. The law is that a solicitor who enters into an action of this kind becomes personally responsible for costs if this case fails. I should judge from the look of the Solicitor which they employed, that he has not much money, hence his desire to get £40 to go on with. It may be that they have more, but I know of no payment beyond this. Our Solicitors, Messrs. Greenop, are intending to push this matter somewhat as a lesson to Brother Johnson's solicitor, and, of course, in our own interests. Johnson has made an awful mess of this business. The Bank's position is that the account is really not the Watch Tower account, but was under the control of the original signatories. The question of the validity of the receipts of accreditation did not arise, for the simple reason that my affidavit killed the business. Had this question of validity been raised at all, probably they would have been rejected because not actually signed before the British Consul in New York. It is not at all likely that we shall have any further trouble with these letters, but for safety's sake it is to be hoped that the cancellation papers have the British Consul's signature on them, and you might note this for any future use of such papers."

"Johnson speaks of being willing to return to America, but what his movements will be remain to be seen. He is floored in all his efforts, and there is nothing more ludicrous in the whole business, and which may be said to be a proper ending to all his abnormal claims, that this Plenipotentiary—a word which he has used a hundred times of late—charged with full powers, at the sufferance of his bank, in place of his bank or his agents, and with his bank in the background, and with the shadow of his bank and with a coward's heart and an uneasy conscience getting over the rails outside his bedroom window with his tall hat escaping from no danger but that which was created by his imagination.

CASE FULL OF LESSONS

"We received him as a good brother, accepting him at his own estimation of himself, and now have to admit that we were imposed upon, and to say that he has been here as an impostor. But in saying this, I would not have you think that his life and work here have been that of a hypocrite. The whole case is a strange one, and has been full of lessons to us—the ways of working of Divine Providence. From the moment that Brother Johnson got off the steamer St. Louis at Liverpool, he ceased not to talk about himself. It was not easy to measure him, for, being an unusual man, and the circumstances being unusual, it is not until we could know more of him. For a while he seemed to act very cautiously and wisely, but meeting a little opposition, as he thought, and which perhaps was actually present, he developed a more sly side of character. From a time when he thought he would find some opposition in Brother Shearn and Crawford, and he had asserted authority, he visibly swelled in importance. As I have previously told you, I believe that the work he did here, though done in so rough a fashion, was according to the Lord's providence, and I say this after much time for reflection, and even though it was not related to the affairs. But the unusual situation in which Brother Johnson found himself, allowed his mind to develop very rapidly some things which had been there for a while. From time to time he had told me of thoughts in his mind, and of some of the happenings during his nervous breakdown in 1910. (You will perhaps remember that when I was with you in the United States in 1910 Brother Johnson was then sick, and I did not see him.) From what he has said, I have no doubt that he has seen himself in his imagination as successor to Brother Russell. The voice which he heard in 1910 has given him that impression upon him. Coming over here he seems to have thought that his work was antityped by Ezra's commission to help the spiritual work of Jerusalem. His smashing blow against Brothers Shearn and Crawford at once made apparent a reconstructive work. It was easy then for him to think of Nehemiah and rebuilding the walls of Jerusalem. He seems to have spent almost every moment of available time in this cognizance. From the moment that he was left to the other day, he had found twenty-five to thirty instances where, from point to point in what had been done or said to a brother until something, fifty-two years had elapsed. It is surely true, as I told him, that there was some sort of connection between Nehemiah and himself, not only that both of them were Jews, but Nehemiah the son of his opponents, and in telling the Lord that he should be remembered in all the work he had done. After seeing himself in Ezra and Nehemiah as, first his Pilgrim work, secondly his commissioners work, he began to hint that he had seen possible further work, and that this was typified in Esther. He did not say what it was, but at last hinted that he thought may be he would be Steward.

CLAIMED TO BE 'STEWARD''

"Going down to Liverpool, he lost such reserve as a Plenipotentiary ought to have, and he proclaimed himself openly as the "Steward of the Parable." I heard of his cable to you; and of what he had said, and I immediately, as I informed you, took a stand, in opposition to him, in matching his impression. From that time his hidden scheme got a shock, for he saw that he would have little hope of making great progress here as a leader if I were not with him. He tried to counteract me, and sometimes went to the extreme of flatly, but on my refusal to compromise one little bit, he came in open opposition. I cannot say that Brother Johnson is insane, but there is a sort of madness common to that is in his heart. He lacks balance is clear, for he would not have sent such telegrams had his mind been in proper balance. He has played for high stakes, and there seemed to his mind two weeks ago, a chance of winning his game. Now he is a pricked bubble. I regret to have to say that I have no confidence in him whatever. He has such cunning which is not insanity, and he is so capable of attending to his affairs, that I have no other conclusion but to say that he has been attempting a great imposture upon those whom he hoped would be with him, and by whom he hoped to continue his scheme.

"There has been no greater surprise to me in all this strange business that certain members of our family should cast in their lot with him. I mentioned the name of Brother Cormack in my cablegram to you. He has, to my mind, taken an ignoble part in this sad business. Instead of taking the only stand that could be taken, one who was loyal to the work, for some reason or other as between himself and the Lord he said he preferred to wait until Brother Johnson's cancellation papers should be here. In the words he ignored your telegrams and the telegrams which were sent over the signature of the Watch Tower Society. Brothers Dingle and Guiver who gave me great disappointment by their action, have come to see the foolishness of their way in aiding Brother Johnson, and have expressed deep and, as I believe, sincere apologies. Brother Cormack are the only ones in the house who are waiting for the cancellation of Johnson’s papers, for Johnson is, of course, out of the house, and Brother Housden has gone home. I believe that if Brother Cormack, whose long and able service has given him a more decisive character, had taken the only stand that could properly be taken, that neither Brothers Dingle nor Guiver would have been so led astray by Johnson’s words, and—I think—promises. I do not know what to say about Brother Cormack. The situation here under the National Service Scheme is that no one can take on a new employee unless by special permission. I do not feel that it would be proper to take Brother Cormack should stay longer in the home, and I am doubtful about his staying on in the Pilgrim service. I do not feel that I can commend him to your favorable consideration, but I am glad to think that you know him, and know of his long service in the cause of the Truth, and also to believe that the Lord will guide you as to what you may decide in his case. In respect to Brother Dingle and Guiver, I feel that their repentance is so sincere that I would suggest they be allowed to continue in the work in such way as may seem prudent here. Brother Guiver so far has been saved from the operation of the Military Service Act, because of an endeavor we made to save some of our helpers. If his work here is discontinued, he immediately comes under the claims of the Military. Brother Dingle is beyond age, and we would be thrown under the National Service scheme aforementioned. But I believe their hearts are now right, though their standing in the Church will surely be affected. As for Brother Housden, I do not know yet where he stands. He has returned the money, but I believe it is more for fear of what he has done than belief in the falseness of his claims. I want to keep in touch with him to save him, if this is possible. In the meantime we are now quite capable of going on with our work as in normal times. Brother Kirkwood can do the general office work—the execution of orders, etc., and he is a very useful brother. We have good stenographic help, and indeed, have no difficulties in the work.

“As I wish that you should have the foregoing as soon as possible, this portion of my letter is now mailed. The second portion shall be sent shortly. In it I shall hope to give you my thought of the entire of this matter to the general work in the country, and an account of the Church in London, and, I hope, information of Brother Johnson’s return.

“In the meantime, with warm love in the Lord, and prayers that the Lord will guide you in all your way, I am, dear Brother Rutherford,

“Your brother and servant in Him,

“J. HEMERY.”

BROTHER JOHNSON LEAVES ENGLAND

Brother Johnson, as seen from the above, left the London Bethel and his whereabouts were unknown, until on April 4th when the following cablegram was received from Brother Hemery, dated London:

“Discovered Johnson sailed (Steamship) St. Louis Saturday.

“Learning thus that Brother Johnson was on his way to America, it was arranged that brethren should meet him at the dock and bring him to Bethel. I had been personally requested by his wife to keep him here until he recovered. When he appeared in the Bethel Home, to all intents and purposes he was sane upon every point except himself. He asked me if he might have a hearing before the Board. I called the members of the Board to the Study, and several other brethren, and we listened to Brother Johnson for two hours. I presented to him a copy of the cablegram which he had sent me wherein he claimed to be the "Steward" of Matt. 20:8, and asked him if he sent it. After much effort he finally acknowledged that he did.

“On another occasion the Board and other brethren sat and listened to Brother Johnson for two hours describing how the Scriptures foreshadowed his experience in England, and his activities there. It was the unanimous conclusion of all present that Brother Johnson was unsound in mind. I then stated to him, in the presence of the others, in substance: Brother Johnson, for the purpose of this matter we will concede that you thought you had authority to do what you did in Great Britain, and that you were acting honestly. Let us drop the matter now and not think of it any more. We all shook hands kindly, and he went to his room. He continued in the Bethel home uninterrupted for two months, except on one occasion he announced at the table that he had the "Steward" mentioned in Matt. 20:8, but in a few days thereafter withdrew the statement. Our hope was that he was recovering, and we rejoiced.

THE BEGINNING OF TROUBLE IN AMERICA

“However, some time near the latter part of June he approached me in the dining room and said, "I feel able now to go back to England and take up my work there." I replied, "Brother Johnson, you are not in England; you have no work there." He insisted that he should go, but I told him that he could not go. He left me then, with the statement that he would appeal to the Board. (On July 25, 1910, Brother Johnson came to the Board and stated that he was the "Steward" mentioned in Matt. 20:8, and in the meantime we are now quite capable of going on with our work as in normal times. Brother Kirkwood can do the general work."

“On another occasion the Board and other brethren sat at the same table with me at every meal, and one just immediately to my left, and all four of them in the dining room regularly could easily have spoken to me directly. But in a few days thereafter he announced that he would appeal to the Board and I will see that I have a hearing; or words to that effect. The next morning he approached me in the dining room and handed me a paper, of which the following is a copy:

"DEAR BROTHER RUTHERFORD:—

"We, the undersigned members of the Board of the W. T. B. of Bethel, do kindly request that you call a meeting of this Board to hear Brother Johnson on his activities in Great Britain and to examine the facts of the case. We will be glad to have you call this meeting at as early a date as possible.

"Praying the Lord’s blessing on our deliberations on this matter to the end that it may be to the Lord’s glory and the good of the cause we all love, we remain with much love,

"Your Brethren and Servants in the Lord,

"ISAAC F. HOSKINS,

"A. I. RITCHIE,

"R. H. HIRSH,

"J. D. WRIGHT.”

This paper had been written by Brother Johnson himself, and he had taken it to Brothers Hoskins, Ritchie, Hirsh and Wright, and they signed it, asking me to call a meeting of the Board, when two of these brethren sat at the same table with me at every meal, and one just immediately to my left, and all four of them in the dining room regularly could easily have spoken to me direct about the meeting. They had not mentioned this matter of a meeting to Brother Van Amburgh, who is also a member of the Board. It seemed rather a strange thing that they should take this course, so I called them into the drawing room for a conversation about the matter. The four brethren insisted that I should call a meeting of the Board of Directors to hear Brother Johnson. I finally told them that the matter had already been closed; that it was not a matter for the Board now to take up; that I would not permit him to force Brother Johnson back to England; that he should not go; and that I would not permit him to force a meeting of the Board in the way that he was proceeding; but I asked the four brethren named to have an interview with him and go over the facts if they desired and report the same at a meeting of the Board. I thereupon delivered to them the commission and my funds upon the report, and other documents bearing upon the case.

COMMISSIONERS EXPRESS VIEWS

The following letters from Brothers MacKenzie, McCloy and Warden, three of the Commissioners who examined into the London office, also letters from two other representative British brethren, show how Brother Johnson would be received in Great Britain now:

"Glasgow, 4th July, 1917.

"My Dear Brother Rutherford:"

"Glasgow, July 15, 1917.

"Great help! In my little note to you on your appointment at the Society I did not express that I hoped to write you more fully soon, and let you know how we are getting on at Glasgow. Since then, however, much has transpired and somewhat I delayed writing until now.

"You are often in my thoughts, and am constantly remembering you at the throne of Heavenly Grace realizing more than ever your need of help and strength in the arduous duties that devolve upon you.

"I would like to express to you my appreciation of your confidence in me in selecting me as one of the Commissioners in connection with the London difficulties, and my willingness to do anything that I could in the matter; and I would like to tell you how much I appreciated your caustic, characteristic, but loving recommendations to those concerned, and my regret that they did not fall in with them at once. I enclose copy of letter that I wrote to Brother Crawford (after your judgment had been communicated to me) in reply to some letters I had from him; this letter will indicate to you my view of the whole matter.

"Brother F. S. L. Johnson was evidently used of the Lord in bringing to light much of the discord and lack of harmony that existed in the London Tabernacle and Office, but he surely did not go about the matter in the right way. He came to us with great messages of love and comfort and to encourage us; and I am afraid it did not by means succeed in his mission; he rather caused a great trial to come upon the brethren.

"He began his work well, and we were all impressed with his earnestness and zeal, and it may be we took too much out of him, and so helped to bring about his breakdown.

"Some of the statements he made, such as who was and what he was, and that only himself and Brother Russell got the truth apart from the Scripture Studies, or could get it, made us wonder what he wanted to be at, and then when we heard of his doings and sayings at London we concluded the brother had gone off his head, and suspended arrangements to have him with us in St. Andrew's Hall. Then when I went to London and saw and heard of his acting there I had no further doubts, but his mind was unhinged. Of course, we do not blame our dear Brother Johnson; he was not responsible, but really what took place after that and before his departure to the United States was the most undignified conduct of any brother I have ever heard tell of. It was a great relief to know he had ultimately returned to Brooklyn, and I sincerely hope he is getting restored to health and strength of body and mind, and that his heart is right.

"Some one has said that he (Brother Johnson) feels that there is more work for him to do in Britain. Well I feel sure that if he comes over again having the same great ideas of himself, and such small ideas of mostly everybody else, he would neither be welcome nor a help here, but if he is fully restored and has now the kind of Christ Jesus (the humble mind) we would be delighted to have him again. But dear Brother Rutherford, is it not within the limits of possibility for you to come over yourself. You know how we would welcome you and what a comfort and help you would bring us. The Lord would take care of you crossing over if he wants us to get a verbal message through you.

"Now I have said how we are getting on at Glasgow, and will not wait to write much now, only to tell you that there is a good deal of harmony in our midst, and we are endeavoring to keep the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace. The number of those who are appreciating the Berean Studies so especially commended by our dear Brother Russell and so warmly recommended by you, is increasing, and those of us who have had the opportunity of appreciating these fully are waiting on the Lord, greatly desiring that the blessings obtained through these Studies may extend to all.

"With much love to you and to all,

"Yours in the one great Hope.

"Gilbert MacKenzie"

"Birkenhead, June 29, 1917.

"My Dear Brother Rutherford:"

"Have just seen our Brother R. G. Smith and glad to get your love. I am very pleased to hear that Brother Paul Johnson is improving in health and hope the rest may do all that is required for him. He tells me that it is Brother Johnson's wish to return to this country to correct the wrong impressions he made here. His desire is good, but I think it would be a very unwise procedure indeed, and I feel sure with your sounder judgment you will not permit him to come over here again for a good long time, until his visit has died a natural death. If his instincts of the Scripture is as when he was here, it would only result in disturbance instead of a comfort to the brethren. I am sure Brother Johnson would see the wisdom of your reasoning, if he is now well in mind and body.

"I am sure, dear brother, your hands must be full just now, but we all pray for you and feel sure the Lord will give you all you need. Faith can firmly trust Him, come what may. Is Brother Johnson in communication with Brother Jenson and influencing him in his views? I am inclined to think so. I don't think he should do that now.

"Now my beloved brother in the Lord accept our united love.

"Yours in the same hope,

"Tomson McCloy."

"Dumbreck, Glasgow.

"Dear Brother Rutherford:"

"I have heard that Brother Johnson has the desire to return to Great Britain to finish what he considers his work here.

"Previous to Brother Johnson's dismissing Brother Shearim and Brother Crawford from the office in London I received a letter from him which I read to the Elders of the Glasgow Class, who were all unanimous in the opinion that Brother Johnson's mind was disturbed, and we accordingly communicated with London and cancelled a meeting arranged for him in the St. Andrews Grand Hall, Glasgow. The incidents that happened from then up to the time of Brother Johnson's departure from Great Britain further confirmed us in the decision that we had come to, and personally I think it would be to the advantage of the brethren here if Brother Johnson did not return at present.

"We at Glasgow, with many of the other classes, have little difficulties of our own at present, and it is only with special care and the spirit of the Lord being manifested amongst us that these difficulties can be adjusted to the best advantage of the brethren, and unless Brother Johnson has improved in his health I do not think he would be of any help to us. This does not mean that Brother Johnson was of no assistance to the brethren when he first came to Britain: in fact, I am of the opinion he helped us over here in many ways, but meantime we do not see any reason to agree with his interpretation of the Scriptures regarding "the stedward."

"We daily remember you, dear brother, before the Throne of Grace, having some idea of the many difficulties that you have to contend with, and how much you will need to use that wisdom which cometh from above. May our loving Father continue to guide and direct you in all your labors of love for his dear children."

"Yours in One Hope,"

"W. O. WARREN."

NOT WANTED AGAIN IN ENGLAND

"Manchester, June 30, 1917.

"My Dear Brother Rutherford:"

"Greetings in our dear Lord."

"The purpose of my writing at present is just to give you some idea of the influence our Brother Paul Johnson exercised when on his Pilgrim trip in Great Britain."

"The first time I came in contact with him was at the Manchester Convention last New Year. While I could see he was a brother of great ability, yet I was not fully satisfied with his presentations, particularly his interpretation and application of the Parable of the Penny. He evidenced great loyalty to our dear Brother Russell, which pleased me much, but there was a statement of just what was one of my earlier suspicions regarding his mental condition. You are of course conversant with the fact of his several claims which it is not necessary for me to further detail, but my purpose is to write and say that instead of his presence being a comfort to the brethren it proved rather the reverse. Had he been allowed to continue his tour further the result must have been serious trouble in many of the Churches. I can assure you that if it were proposed for his return to Great Britain most of the classes would request that he be not received. If Brother Johnson feels he has a work to do in this country it is certainly not that of the Lord's work unless he has altered his many strange interpretations and personal applications. He told us in Manchester here that it was his sure belief that Brother Russell had been exalted to the Lord's right hand and that the left had been reserved for another."

"You must understand the spirit in which I am writing you this note and trust it may be helpful for you at this time."

"Your brother by His grace."

"J. N. COCHRAN."

A letter from Brother Hemery, dated London, June 29, 1917, says:

"Brother Johnson came to us as if charged with a special mission to comfort the British brethren. It was quite apparent that he had a considerable idea of his privilege, and also of his ability to do this work. It was strange to me that his public ministry was to be used in this capacity, and that from almost every point of view. He neither comforted the public, nor, except in the earliest part of his ministry, the brethren amongst whom he ministered. He was quite persistent in the idea of being a help to the brethren, for they want to be faithful to the channel which the Lord has given, and they could not understand anyone attempting to set themselves up as the Lord's channel, and yet in opposition to the main spokesman for that channel. Brother Johnson might think that I am speaking my own feelings when I say thus, but I am putting these out of account, and looking at the matter from the point of view of the Lord's work as I see it. I am very sure that if I were to ask the representative brethren of the country, they would, with a unanimous voice say, 'Do not on any account send us to Brother Johnson.' His talents were esteemed; he himself was also esteemed until he put forward his strange claims, and showed so clearly that he had a desire for power. A visit now, even if he were quite right in his attitude, would be too near his former mistakes in point of time, and such a ministry would inevitably be received with suspicion, and would fail of its desired effect."

OTHERS DISCOVERED IN CONSPIRACY

Early in the Spring of 1917 Brother Ritchie made a pilgrimage trip to the Northern States and portions of Canada. Reports began to come in that he was stating to some of the friends that a division was taking place at the Bethel Home, and that he had been elected as an officer of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society he would have considered himself a member of the Great Company Class. These reports came from numerous sources and were calculated to disturb. I had a personal talk with Brother Ritchie about the matter, in the presence of Brothers Van Amburgh and Pierson. He acknowledged that he had made such statements, but promised to do so no more. But within a week he had that promise in the presence of the Lord. I was not fully satisfied with his presentations, particularly his interpretation and application of the Parable of the Penny. He evidenced great loyalty to our dear Brother Russell, which pleased me much, but there was a statement of just what was one of my earlier suspicions regarding his mental condition. claim damages; and out of two of these cases $4,000 in actual cash was saved. Out of another matter which required quick action was saved and it was necessary for me to stop and consult the Board of Directors; it would probably have been too late to have saved any of it. In addition to the above we obtained a favorable decision in the Supreme Court with reference to taxes, which will probably save the Society more than $20,000 additional. Within the time mentioned I also was permitted to recover, in a contested case, more than $3,000 for the Society. It was also my privilege to have a lawsuit in Los Angeles in behalf of some of the brethren that has resulted in a great witness to the Truth. In addition to this I had been giving attention to the arrangement of the foreign work, and was enabled to make better progress there to taxes, which will probably save the managers in these countries, having visited each European branch more than once. It would have taken me much longer to acquaint others with the facts than to attend to the business myself.

Shortly prior to Brother Russell's death he removed Brother Ritchie from the management of the office and placed him at some work at the Bethel Home, and placed Brother Martin as office manager.

The following extract from the minutes of November 7, 1916, will be of interest:

"The following resolution was presented to the Board by Brother Isaac Hodgins, to wit:

"WHEREAS, Pastor C. T. Russell, the President of this Corporation, on the 15th day of October, 1916, reorganized the working force of the office at 17 Hicks St., and also Bethel Home on Columbia Heights, and designated certain persons to be in charge of the respective departments of the work, to wit:

"Brother A. J. Ritchie to have the oversight of the Library Office; the Parlor, and all visitors on important business at the Bethel Home, etc.; to handle such mail as may be addressed to Brother Russell; and to report to him the receipt of telegrams;

"Brother R. J. Martin to have supervision over the office force and the work at the Tabernacle at 17 Hicks St.;

"Brother J. L. Cooke as Superintendent of the Angelophone Company and the work in connection therewith;

"Brother Emerson to have charge of the seating of the Bethel Family at the tables, and the care of the baking for the Family, under the supervision of Brother Macmillan;

"Brother Baker, under the supervision of Brother Macmillan, to have the care of all the food supplies for the Bethel Home, etc.; also the laundry, kitchen, cellar, and such other work as may be directed by Brother Macmillan;

"Miss Roberts to have supervision of the Bethel affairs as Matron, and to take supervision of the sisters and the work in the dining room and the house work in general, except the parlor; under the supervision of Brother Macmillan;

"And Whereas, It is the sense of this Board to continue said departments in the same manner as was left by Brother Russell;

THEREFORE, AS IT RESOLVED, That the persons above named be, and they are hereby requested to continue to hold their respective positions and perform the duties required thereunto, and to make report to the Executive Committee, through its representative, under further order of the Board of Directors.

"Brother Hopkins moved the adoption of the resolution, which being seconded by Brother Pierson, was unanimously adopted by the Board.

"Motion was made by Brother Van Amburgh, and seconded by Brother Wright, that Brother A. H. Macmillan be appointed as the representative of the Executive Committees, to perform such duties as said Executive Committee shall direct, and to report said committee from time to time upon request. Unanimously carried."

Among other changes, Brother Russell took Brother Hopkins out of the Colporteur Department, and assigned him to other work. He brought Brother Macmillan in on a special journey and asked him to take charge of the office work as General Supervisor and as the President's representative in all things about the work of the Society at headquarters. We here produce his letter to Brother Macmillan, with a fac-simile of his autograph letter to the Tabernacle and Bethel force, also a letter of instruction to Brother Martin, who succeeded Brother Ritchie as Office Manager.

"Ms. A. H. Macmillan, Brandonville, N. J.
"DEAR BROTHER MACMILLAN:

"Yours of the 1st inst. is at hand. Having mentioned the matter to you, I asked the Lord to direct you as respects either accepting or declining the suggestion. I accordingly accept your reply as being an indication of the Lord's will in the matter, and bid you a hearty welcome.

"When may we expect you?

"With much Christian love to yourself and family and all the friends in the Truth in those parts, as ever,

"Your brother and servant in the Lord,

"C. T. RUSSELL."

"October 29, 1916.

"Dear Brother Martin:

"While as you know Brother Macmillan in filling the office of Assistant to the President has a general supervision of all of the work, yet in Brother Ritchie's absence there ought to be some person there at the Tabernacle who would have a special supervision of the affairs (co-operating with Brother Macmillan). It is myself or a Brother that you accept this position, which I am sure, in connection with a certain portion of the mail, will keep you very busy.

"With Christian love,

"Your brother and servant in the Lord.

"C. T. RUSSELL."

"October 15, 1916.

THE LORD'S BLESSING HAS FOLLOWED

Brother Macmillan accepted this position as Assistant to the President and has performed his duties well, and through the efficiency of himself and Brother Martin in carrying out instructions which Brother Russell gave a short time before his departure, the office is in a strict efficiency basis and is managed better than has ever heretofore been to my knowledge. The whole office is happy and harmonious and doing splendid work. After my election as President I deemed it the Lord's will that I should keep everyone in the position where Brother Russell had placed him, if possible. Hence Brother Macmillan was appointed to the same position he held with Brother Russell, and he has proven faithful and efficient. Brother Ritchie brought me complaints against Brother Macmillan. When I went into the office as President I made the rule to receive no accusations against a brother or sister unless the one accused was present to defend himself. He announced this rule to Brother Hirsch, and said to him, "If you desire to bring any accusations against Brother Macmillan let us three go now and talk the matter over." He declared the meeting adjourned.

On three different occasions he attempted to talk to me against Brother Macmillan and I declined to listen unless Brother Macmillan be present, as that seemed to me the Lord's appointed way. The brother became quite incensed against Brother Macmillan.

For more than three months after my election everyone with the Board of Directors was running smoothly. We have met more frequently than the Board ever met in Brother Russell's day, as is indicated from the following few extracts from the Minutes:

At a meeting of the Board of Directors held November 7, 1916, Brothers A. I. Ritchie, A. P. Piersen, W. D. Wright, W. E. Van Amburgh, H. C. Rockwell, I. F. Hoskins and J. F. Rutherford were present.

Again, November 17, 1916, there was a Board meeting to pass the minutes of the meeting held on December 13, 1916— all the members being present. Minutes show that Brother Hoskins made the following motion and seconded by Brother Wright, which was agreed to unanimously, that they report to the Board of Directors at any meeting of the Board upon any matter which the Board might request the Committee to report.

January 4, 1917, meeting of the Board of Directors. All the members present, except Brother Hoskins, who was sick. At that time the matter of disposing of the Drama to Brother John G. Kuehn was discussed and a motion to sell the Drama was unanimously carried.

The contract for the sale of the Drama was signed by Brother Ritchie, as Vice President, and Brother Van Amburgh, as Secretary and Treasurer.

1917, there was a joint meeting of the Board of Directors of both the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society and the Sons of Pulpit Association, at which meeting the resolutions and by-laws were adopted and spread upon the record by the Board of Directors, and was unanimously carried.

January 31, 1917, a meeting of the Board of Directors was held, at which meeting the business was disposed of in the following order: the resignation of Brother Rockwell was accepted and the matter of the Drama to the Mena Film Co., to be taken up at a later date.

The Board met— all present—at which time the resignation of Brother Rockwell was accepted and the question of the Drama to the Mena Film Co., was left for consideration at a later date.

March 28, 1917, there was another meeting of the Board of Directors. The record shows that at this meeting Brother Rutherford reported the condition of the work in England and the situation in reference to Brother Johnson and what he had done. April 18, 1917, was the next meeting.

SEEDS BEGIN TO BRING FORTH

Some time about the latter part of April Brother Hirah began to show a desire to exercise authority upon the Board and to transact the duties of the Executive Officer. I gently called his attention to the fact that the matter mentioned was no matter for the Board to attend to. This displeased him. Later he brought to me a letter he had written to a brother, in which he stated in substance that the Board of Directors were the managers and the President was subject to their control. I kindly remarked to Brother Hirah that it was hardly in harmony with the facts and that I did not see the necessity of sending out such a letter. That displeased him.

Similar objections were made by Brother Hoskins and on several occasions he stated that "We, the Board, are the managers and we will give the orders.

Notwithstanding the shareholders at Pittsburgh passed a by-law declaring that the President shall always be the Executive Officer and General Manager, which by-law was later passed by the Board of Directors, these brethren disregarded the same and insisted that the Board should manage the Society's affairs. I tried to reason with them, but was met with the statement that the Board was called for the purpose of hearing the report of the Committee on Brother Johnson's visit to England. After this business was disposed of satisfactorily to all persons, Brother Hirah drew from his pocket a resolution which he had prepared in advance and offered the same, which resolution provided that the management of the corporation should be taken out of the hands of the President, and that the Board should take the same matter in hand and that it should be done. Brother Hoskins said, "We have been consulting lawyers and we know what we can do." I tried to point out to them that such a resolution would be overriding the winding up of the house and that the Board should adjourn for one month, at which time the question would be taken up and settled, Brother Piersen announcing that it would be inconvenient for him to attend the meeting. When in conversation with Brother Johnson he stated to me that he could take a Pilgrim trip. I asked the office to make out a route for him, which was done, and the friends notified along the way. On the same day a trip was made out for Brother Rockwell for going on a doing practically nothing, and the opportunities for service being good, we thought it well that he go out on a trip. I was taking a trip for the same two weeks. The next day I received a note from Brother Hoskins, declining to make this Pilgrim trip. The same morning I met Brother Johnson in the dining room, and I approached me, saying, "I do not feel able to go on this trip now." I was not able to attend the meeting as it was a day, and that he go as far as Columbus, his home, as he had not seen his wife since last November. Then he said, "No, I decline to go." I said, "Brother Johnson, some of the brethren believe that you are a recruiter and that you are engineering a conspiracy to try to break up the work here as you did in Great Britain. Now I ask you, in the interest of peace and harmony, that you give the office the real reason why you do not feel able to attend the meeting; that the Board is displeased with you; you are a usurper; I will not go." Then I said, "Brother Johnson, I demand that you leave the Bethel Home." He retorted, "I appeal to the Board of Directors." The next day I went to Brother Johnson came to me and said, "Why can't we talk this matter over?" I said, "Very good, but I have not time now." He began to say a few words about my being a usurper and the Board being displeased, and Brother Johnson went on, "The Lord is my judge and you not." Then in a heated manner he said, shaking his finger at me, "We are consulting lawyers and to not know what we can do with you." Brother Martin and Brother Eahleman were near by and I called them to witness what he said, but he left in anger and refused to repeat it.

WOULD FORCE HIS RETURN TO GREAT BRITAIN

The very same day, to wit, June 21, 1917, I received the following letter:

"Bethel, June 21, 1917.

"DEAR BROTHER RUTHERFORD:"

"In view of matters which require early attention, we, the undersigned, request that you call a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society to convene not later than Wednesday, June 27th. This will allow ample time to notify all the members of the Board."

"A. I. RITCHIE,
"J. D. WRIGHT,
"R. H. HIRAH,
"I. F. HOSKINS."

In reply to this letter I spoke to the brethren personally, saying it would not be convenient to have a meeting because Brother Pierson could not come. They came next day and insisted that I should call the meeting anyway. I told them I would write Brother Pierson and see if he could come. He said that he had made arrangements with his son to remain at his place of business until the middle of July. Later, I received from said brethren the following letter:

"DEAR BROTHER RUTHERFORD:"

"Whereas the former petition did not meet with the favor of the First Presidency, the undersigned, members of the Board of Directors of THE WATCH TOWER BIBLE AND TRACT SOCIETY, hereby repeat our request for a meeting of the Board, on the following grounds: That we, members of the Board of Directors, desire information regarding the "Temple," also in respect to the financial condition of the Society, and other matters of importance; Conventions, etc.; and for the transaction of such other business of the Society as might properly come before the Board.

"It is not, however, our thought at this meeting to attempt to pass on the unfinished business of the previous meeting of the Board."

"While Brother Ritchie was in favor of leaving the unfinished business of the last meeting, until a later meeting of the Board, in July, still he insisted that according to our request, you should be respectful of our petition and call a meeting of the Board of Directors to-day."

"A. I. RITCHIE,
J. D. WRIGHT,
ISAAC F. HOSKINS,
R. H. HIRSH."

To this I replied as follows:

"MESSRS. A. I. RITCHIE, R. H. HIRSH, I. F. HOSKINS AND J. D. WRIGHT, Bethel.
Dear Brethren:"

"Your note of this date, handed to me after the noon meal by Brother Hirsh, is before me, in which you request a meeting of the Board to-day on the ground asked therein."

"As to the financial condition of the Society, no one could give that information in detail except Brother Van Amburgh, and he is out of the city. I have no information of any consequence that I could give you."

"As to the Conventions, etc., all the information that I have furnished to the Editorial Committee, and it is now in print, except the programs, which the Program Department, with Brother Macmillan, is now making up. I will request them to submit to you a copy of the Program, or anything in connection with the Conventions.

"I believe this covers everything that you have asked, and I have answered as fully as I can."

"Your brother and servant by His Grace,
J. F. RUTHERFORD."

Brother Van Amburgh, the Secretary, was then away and it was impossible to give them the information desired. I went away for two weeks. During the major portion of the time of my absence Brother Van Amburgh, the Secretary and Treasurer was at home. Brother Macmillan who is Vice President of the People's Pulpit Association, which owns all the property in New York and controls the office and home, and who is also the Representative of the President, was in charge.

From time to time some of the four brethren above mentioned intimated to various members of the office force that they would soon be in charge, and that the work would be conducted in a different manner. This created a disturbance in the office, because the office force were not willing to work under the direction of the brethren above mentioned, because they seriously doubted their ability to manage the work, as well as their authority to do so.

OPENLY DEFIED RULES ALL HAD SOLEMNLY AGREED TO

The office has a set of rules which are printed, and each one of the force and all in the Bethel Home have copies. These rules were read both at the Bethel Home and Tabernacle, after being approved by the Board of Directors, and everyone, with uplifted hand, agreed to abide by them, including Brothers Hirsh, Hoskins, Wright and Ritchie. One of the rules of the office is as follows:

"It is understood that no member of the Board of Directors has any authority to give orders or directions about the work individually; that the Board acts in an official capacity when in session as a board, and while any member of the Board is engaged in office work he will be subject to these rules the same as though he were not a member of the Board."

The office is private during office hours, and only those who are employed in the office shall be admitted there during such hours, except officers of the Society or their secretary or representative, or members of an official committee may be admitted at any time.

The four brethren above named were neither officers nor representatives of officers nor members of any official committee.

These four brethren, covering a period of three or four weeks, held conferences several times during the day at the Bethel Home, in various rooms, disregarding and neglecting the work of the Society. On the 5th day of July, while having one of these conferences, one of the members was overheard to say: "Let us go to the office right now and demand this and so." The brethren understood them to mean that they should command control. Communicating this fact to the office, within a few minutes thereafter the four arrived in a body and approaching the manager of the office, Brother Macmillan, demanded that they should have the orders about admittance to the office. He produced the rules and showed it to them. While this conversation was in progress Brother Macmillan, the Vice President and General Manager, in the absence of the President, approached the brethren and said, "Brethren you are disturbing the office force, contrary to the rules." To this Brother Ritchie replied, "You go and sit down; that is none of your business." Brother Hirsh, waiving his hat at Brother Macmillan, said, "You are a big bluffer; you can't bluff us." Brother Hoskins said, "We, the Board of Directors, put you where you are and we will give you orders." This unusual language and conduct in the office disturbed the office force. Brother Macmillan then invited them to come to the office to talk the matter over, and three times they declined.

REMEMBERS SEIZURE OF LONDON OFFICE

Brother Macmillan having a few minutes before received a telephone message from the Bethel from the one who had overheard a conversation by the four brethren that they were going to the office to take charge, and edge of what Brother Johnson had done in England in forcibly taking charge of the office, the safe, and the mail, and tying up the money in a box by litigation; and having been instructed by myself to guard the Treasurer's office and the safe, and to see that no one took forcible charge, and, fearing these brethren went there under Brother John son's direction to forcibly take charge, he called a policeman, to put these brethren out. In the meantime they approached the office of the Secretary, Brother Van Amburgh, and demanded that he join them in a meeting of the Board. The Secretary refused, saying that the President was absent and he declined to have anything to do with any of their meetings.

This information being communicated to me by wire to Duluth, Minnesota, where I then was, and being also informed that they were consulting a lawyer whom I knew, I wired him, "Please let the matter stand until I return." On the 10th and 11th of July I was in Chicago, engaged in the Dail of a lawsuit for one of the friends. On the night of the 10th of July, Brother Wisdom wired me from the hotel where I stopped and informed me that he had made an extra long journey in order to see me on a matter of great importance. He then told me that while at Bethel a few days before he had had a talk with some of the brethren and found them in very bad spirits. Among other things he said, "Evil speaking is being freely indulged in by these poor deluded brethren. I pity them from the bottom of my heart." He then informed me that he had traveled on train on Saturday night for more than five hours with Brother Hirsh, and that they had discussed the matter of the Society's affairs. I quote Brother Wisdom's language: "They nothing will change their purpose, save the death of one of their members of the Board—the officers are not considered as members—THEY are THE Board of Directors.

“For some reason the Lord seems to have purposed that I should have become possessed of these facts, for I really tried to evade what came to me. (The manner I have already explained it.) I tried to reason with this poor Brother but reason seems to have gone from him altogether.” Further Brother Wisdom said to me: “I learned from them that they are determined to oust Brother Mac and permit you to continue as President without power and that they are to run things, you to give your approval, your consent is not to be asked for.” Brother Wisdom further said that Brother Hirsh stated to him that if the course set forth by peaceful methods were not to suit them they would manifest, besides I well knew that in effect he is a disgrace to the Board and apparently they would forsake would mean the loss of his crown, the Prize. Therefore to my warning this man immune, if I then pleaded with him to let Brother Love continue, to control. He professed deep Love for you, but protested that he must be faithful to his stewardship or lose the Crown promised to the faithful stewards. He just had to do what he did not like to do, etc. So all my efforts were in vain. I made no impression whatever, though we continued this talk from a little after eight o'clock till a quarter of one A. M.

“The gist of their purpose being to oust Brother Mac and permit you to continue as President without power—what they call The Board, the 'Big Four,' are to run things, you to give your approval, your consent is not to be asked for. If they cannot set control by peaceful methods then their purpose is to invoke the law of man, tie up the money of the Society in the Bank so no one could draw it except them—or Ruin Spirit Quoting the words of our victorious Director. They are set thereupon to run things, you to give your approval, your consent is not to be asked for. If they cannot set control by peaceful methods then their purpose is to invoke the law of man, tie up the money of the Society in the Bank so no one could draw it except them—so no one but these of their designation can draw. The 'sore spot' seems to be that you have not 'con- cessed' what some one has dubbed the 'Big Four' in every little detail pertaining to the management of affairs—Brother's and plainer minds that they would and should be the Real directors of things.

"It is openly charged—and this was repeatedly stated to me, that you are set upon ruining the Society if you cannot run things your own way. In other words, you are actuated altogether by a 'Rule or Ruin Spirit.' Quoting the words of our victorious Pastor. They seem to be guilty of the very things they charge against you. (This from a letter written just a week time before the death, a copy of which is in my possession.) They say they are regarded as but 'Dummies,' and apparently they would make of you a 'Figurehead.' This seems to be their real purpose to take all power out of your hands, save what they are 'spilling' that you should exercise. "It is freely charged that you have set aside Brother Russell's arrangements in the conduct of affairs at headquarters, this the continuous sale of the Drama, the 'throwing out,' as they expressed it, of the Anglophone, and changing the methods of conducting the Pastoral Work. Then you have set Brother Macmillan over everybody, in everything, one whom they brand as a Caesar and scoundrel. They seem to think no more of 'evil speaking' than of the anticipated pleasure of sitting down and talking about it. I could not repeat the awful things they said to me about dear brother Mac—not merely the case of a wrong head but wrong heart, that in effect he is a disgrace to the Lord's work and that I without remorse I made public, for I wanted to see how far they would go and how much of the Spirit of the Adversary they would manifest. Besides, I was well-nigh that reproofs would be worse than useless, a waste of energy that put the work of the Devil. From certain other information that came to me, I believe I would be warranted in surmising that this 'evil speaking' is being freely indulged in by these men of the Board whom I would have from the bottom of my heart, for I love them all.

"So this is the kind of a man you have chosen for your Lieutenant and they are resolved that this man shall not rule over them. They are set thereupon to break you, and say emphatically that Learning that it was the determination of these brothers to take charge of the Society and run it or wreck it (which in my opinion would be the sure result if they did take charge) and knowing that they had no legal rights to do so, I considered seriously what my steps should be. I consulted some prominent and wise brethren as to my course. I asked, "Shall I resign as President and let these opposing ones take charge?" Each one of the brethren told me that the Lord put you where you are, and to resign or quit would be disloyal to the Lord.

SOCIETY'S ONLY POSSIBLE COURSE

I left Chicago on the night of the 14th and went to Pittsburgh, and there took legal steps that put the work of the Devil. From certain other information that came to me, I believe I would be warranted in surmising that this 'evil speaking' is being freely indulged in by these men of the Board whom I would have from the bottom of my heart, for I love them all.

"So this is the kind of a man you have chosen for your Lieutenant and they are resolved that this man shall not rule over them. day the four brothers addressed a letter to Brother Pierson saying that the meeting would not be held on the 17th. Receiving this information Brother Pierson telegraphed me to know why. I wired him that I had no notice that the meeting could not be held; that the four brethren were at the Bethel Home and the meeting would be held, and for him to come to the afternoon of Monday, July 16th, the following letter was handed to me by Brother Hirsh:

"J. F. RUTHERFORD,
Brother.

DEAR BROTHER:—

"Your note is received advising us that a meeting of the Board of the WATCH TOWER BIBLE AND TRACT SOCIETY is called for Tuesday morning, July 17th. Thanks.

"In the first place we would say that your course has been such in respect to the matter in question as to complicate it to such an extent that we will not now be ready to have a meeting of the Board before the 20th.

"We have recently handed you three or four requests for a meeting, at which we hoped that our affairs might have been settled amicably and in short order; but we were refused. Additionally, untrue and false talk has been spread abroad about us, and threats of violence have been issued by your special representatives. Violence being committed, and that against four of the legally constituted managers and officers of our Society. We have only to repeat what we said above: there will be no Board meeting before the 20th, if then.

"We will advise you when we shall be in a position for a Board meeting.

Very truly,

"R. H. HIRSH,
J. D. WRIGHT,
A. I. RITCHIE,
J. F. HOSKINS,"

WHO CONSTITUTE THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS?

Having in mind the experiences of the meeting of the Board held on the 20th day of June, and seeing that these brethren were showing a bad spirit, I saw it was necessary for me to disclose what I had known since January, 1909, but which no one else except Brother Russell knew, so far as my knowledge goes or had occasion to find out. In order that you may understand why I have brought this matter mentioned, I briefly describe the legal status of the WATCH TOWER BIBLE AND TRACT SOCIETY and the Peoples Pulpit Association.

The WATCH TOWER BIBLE AND TRACT SOCIETY is a Pennsylvania corporation, its articles of incorporation, and its organization is controlled by the State of Pennsylvania, and no other. The provision of the Charter is that where vacancies occur in the Board of Directors those vacancies shall be filled by the remaining members thereof within twenty days after the vacancy occurs, and failing to fill such vacancy or vacancies within thirty days the President is then authorized to fill such vacancy or vacancies, and the person so selected by such authority shall hold office as Director until the next annual election to be held by the shareholders.

The Charter also provides that the Board of Directors shall hold office for life, but this part of the Charter is contrary to the statute of Pennsylvania which provides that he shall hold office for one year. The facts show that Brother J. D. Wright was elected in 1904 by the Board of Directors, and his term of office therefore expired in January, 1905. J. F. Hoskins was elected by the Board in 1908 and not re-elected since. A. I. Ritchie was elected in 1911 and afterwards elected to office as Vice President, his term expiring January 6th, 1917, when Breeder A. J. Pierson was elected as his successor. Brother R. H. Hirsh was elected by action of the Board, so-called, at Brooklyn in March, 1917. Neither of these brethren have resided in the State of Pennsylvania for more than five years, not one of these brethren was a legal member of the Board of Directors, as would appear from the legal opinion by Mr. H. M. McCaughey, a well known corporation lawyer of Philadelphia. We quote from his written opinion as follows:

LEGAL OPINION

"With respect to the first question: Is there a legal Board of Directors? If so, who are members of the Board? Section 17 of the statute expressly provides that the Board shall be elected annually by the shareholders or members. This provision of the Act is mandatory, because it is well settled by judicial authority that the charter of the corporation cannot grant powers or privileges contrary to or inconsistent with the statute; in which case all acts done in violation of such legal power embraced in articles of incorporation would be invalid. (10 Cyc. Law & Procedure 222-223, Albritton v. Lafayette Assn. 132 Pa. St. 411.)

"Where the statute authorizes the election of the Board of Directors, any scheme or organization which dispenses with the statute may be regarded as a fraud upon the corporation." (10 Cyc L. & P. 318.)

"Further, any provision of the charter which is contrary to the statute will be disregarded and that part of the charter which is in harmony with the statute will be upheld. Hence, that part of the charter providing that the Board shall hold office for life, is obviously of no legal effect, because expressly repugnant to the Act of Assembly which states that the directors shall hold office for one year.

"Paragraph 8th of the charter will be construed to mean what it says; namely, that where a vacancy occurs in the Board of Directors, then the remaining members of the Board may within twenty days meet and fill such vacancy, and if the vacancy be not filled within thirty days, then the President may appoint some one to fill the vacancy, but the person so selected by either method would hold office only until the next annual election held by the members or shareholders. This is the only construction in harmony with the statute. In fact, it is a rule of law that where the subject matter contains no ambiguity and is free from difficulty, it will be construed so as to mean exactly what the words imply. Therefore, the conclusion is irresistible that Mssrs. Wright, Hirsh, Hoskins, and Ritchie are in no sense of the word legally members of the Board of Directors and any acts performed by them in that capacity would be void and of no legal effect and therefore, be answerable individually to any persons dealing with them.

"With respect to Mr. Hirsh, the facts show that he was elected to the Board of directors after H. Rockwell, whom he succeeded, had resigned. Rockwell himself under the facts, was never legally a member of the Board.

"But grant, however, that a legal vacancy did exist, for arguendo sake, the charters expressly provided that if the Board neglects to fill the vacancy within thirty days, thereupon and in that event, the President has exclusive authority to supply the vacancy. Rockwell's resignation was accepted February 8th, 1917, and Hirsh was elected by the Board of Directors, March 29th, 1917, more than thirty days after Rockwell's resignation. The right to fill the vacancy at that time rested with the President and the act of the Board, so called, was a usurpation of the authority of the President, and direct conflict with the charter of the corporation, provision of no avail. An additional reason why the election of Hirsh was wholly illegal, is that the meeting was held in the State of New York, while the charter provides that the meetings shall be held in the City of Allegheny, Pennsylvania. His election to the Board was wholly extra-territorial and for that additional reason, absolutely and indisputably illegal and void. Under no circumstances can it be held that a person is a legal member of the Board and any acts done or performed by him in that capacity would be void and of no legal effect.

OFFICERS ARE ALWAYS MEMBERS OF BOARD

"As to who are the legal representatives of the Society, it is apparent that Mssrs. Rutherford, Pierson, and Van Amberg are the only persons who are qualified to act as such. They were elected to office at the annual meeting of the Society's members or shareholders on the 6th day of January 1917, in pursuance to a vote of the shareholders legally present and represented in Allegheny, Pa. The shareholders, exclusively possessing the elective franchise and they alone can exercise constituent powers, and they alone have the right to elect officers. This meeting was held in strict compliance with the provisions of the charter, and the following is a report of the charges of the meeting itself. It follows that these men alone, possess the authority to act for and in behalf of the corporation. The fact that the full Board of Directors was not elected is wholly immaterial. The shareholders, in virtue of the charter, are charged with the responsibility of the administration of the affairs of the Society and cannot be held responsible to any one but the Society. They can be held responsible and are responsible to the shareholders who elected them at the regular annual meeting. There being a vacancy in the Board of Directors and the shareholders neglecting to supply that vacancy, and no Board of Directors having supplied it within thirty days, the President could appoint members to make up the full Board, provided that the minimum number of directors required are residents of Pennsylvania when so appointed.

THE PEOPLES PULPIT ASSOCIATION

In 1909 Brother Russell desired to move the work of the Society to Brooklyn. I was at Pittsburgh at the time, at his request, looking into some legal matters for the Society. Brother Holley, in his will, asked me to see if the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society could be registered as a corporation in the State of New York. After a thorough examination of the matter I told him it could not be done, because it is a non-stock corporation, and there is no provision in the law of the State of New York for registering such a foreign corporation. Asked, then, what could be done, I told Brother Russell that a new corporation could be organized in the State of New York to do the Society's work there; and he requested me to prepare a charter and organize such a corporation, which I did.

In the Spring of 1909 the Peoples Pulpit Association was organized under the membership corporation law of New York State. Just about that time, as many will remember, a conspiracy arose against Brother Russell, in which the conspirators were attempting to oust him as Pastor of the congregation at Pittsburgh, and to wreck the Society. Brother Russell was then asked if some provision could be made as a protection against such rebellions, in the organization of the new corporation. I remember replying to Brother Russell to the effect that I would draw such a charter as would make it impossible for any of the rebels to get him out during his lifetime. I wrote the Charter of the Peoples Pulpit Association, which charter gives the President thereof the absolute power and control of everything in the State of New York, pertaining to the Society's affairs. A Provision of that Charter reads:

"The said corporation shall have as officers the following: A President, who shall be elected by the Board of Directors at the first meeting thereof, and shall hold his office for life, and whose duty shall be to preside at the meetings of the corporation or of the Board of Directors and have the general supervision and control and management of the business of the said corporation.

The work thereafter was moved to the State of New York and all the property purchased in the name of the New York corporation, and all the legal affairs of the Society were done in its name.

THE LEGAL STATUS

The question then arose between Brother Russell and myself as to what would be the privileges of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society from a legal standpoint in the State of New York. I advised him that it is impossible to obtain the carrying out their charter in New York. Then he replied, "I would like to preserve the name and have the correspondence done in its name as long as the friends are better acquainted with The Watch Tower Society and that this could not raise any legal question, and the Society would be maintained with all of its original powers provided the annual elections are held in Pittsburgh.

The statute of Pennsylvania under which the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society is organized expressly provides that at least three members of the Board shall be residents of the State of Pennsylvania. The members of the Board of Directors shall be elected by a meeting held in the State of Pennsylvania by the shareholders, and vacancies filled by the Board or the President, acting in the State of Pennsylvania.

After the outbreak by Messrs. Hirsh, Hoskins and others at the Bethel Home, I saw some action would be necessary. I tried to tell them something about the legal status of the two Societies, but did not succeed. I saw it would be necessary to submit some legal proof. Brother Ritchie remarked that, "If you can show me by the law that the President is entitled to be the manager, then I will submit. I want to do the right thing." As I considered the matter I procured a legal opinion from some lawyer who had no interest in the matter, and consequently I called upon a well known corporation lawyer in Philadelphia, who is thoroughly familiar with the laws of that state, and he prepared a written opinion, and he held, as seen by the opinion foregoing, that neither Wright, Ritchie, Hirsh nor Hoskins were legal members of the Board of Directors and that the President had the right to appoint four members. The directors of the corporation should have been elected at Pittsburgh at the annual election in January.

But generally, you will not, why, then, did you not give such an advice at this election? My reply is that I had known this condition since 1909; but had I so stated at Pittsburgh in January, I would have laid myself open to the criticism that I was going back on my word. After the outbreak by Brother Russell, and subsequent criticism by certain brethren proves my conclusion in that respect was right. I reasoned that we would let it stand as long as everything went harmoniously, as Brother Russell and myself had once agreed; then there would be no occasion to disturb that course.

MOVING CAUSE FOR APPOINTING FOUR MEMBERS OF THE BOARD

When I went to Pittsburgh to appoint four members of the Board, the following facts were in my mind:

The four brothers mentioned had expressed their determination to take the management of the affairs of the Society out of my hands where it was legally placed, both by the shareholders and the Board of Directors, and put it in their own hands.

The Bethel Family was in a high nervous state because of the course of conduct of the four had been pursuing for some weeks.

The office force was disturbed, and threatened to leave the moment these four took charge.

Several of the pilgrims had expressed their determination to quit the work if these four took charge.

Some of the four had stated that they were consulting lawyers to see what they could do with me.

One of their number had made a covert threat to me in the presence of others that the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society could take away the funds, so that the Peoples Pulpit Association could not operate in New York.

The statement made to Brother Wisdom by Brother Hirsh, one of the four, to the effect that they were set upon "breaking me" and nothing could change their purpose save the death of one of the brethren, and if they could not get possession by peaceful methods they would invoke the law, and tie up the money in the bank so no one could draw it but them; and that if I would not bow before them it would be necessary that I was rebellious and if the ruling of the Society should follow I would be to blame and responsible altogether.

This threat, coupled with the action that Brother Johnson had taken in England in actually going into the courts and taking the money of the Society, and taking it out of the safe and forcibly taking possession of the office, and knowing that he was advising these four brethren and directing their course led me to believe that they fully intended to attempt to legalize their course, and to embark in this wrongful act being perpetrated upon you and all the shareholders throughout the world.

I meditated and prayed over the matter very much, besides consulting other brethren as above indicated. I came to the conclusion that it was my duty to use the power which I had put into my hands to support the interests of the shareholders and all others interested in the Truth throughout the world who are looking to me to perform my duties in a faithful manner; and to be faithful to them would be no breach of the Lord's bond given to me.

Knowing that the law required three members of the Board to be residents of the State of Pennsylvania, and that the appointment should be made in Pennsylvania, I went to Pittsburgh on the 12th day of July, there to meet with Dr. W. E. Spill and Brother J. A. Bohnet, of Allegheny County, Pennsylvania, and Brother George H. Fisher, of Scranton, Pennsylvania; and Brother A. H. Macmillan, of New York. Members of the Board of Directors.

Each of the above named brethren signed a written acceptance of such appointment. We then had a full and complete Board of seven members, to-wit: Brothers Van Amburg, Pierson, Spill, Bohnet, Macmillan, Fisher, and Ruthergford. All of these brethren signed a statement consenting to a meeting of the Board of Directors, agreeing that meeting of the Board of Directors should be held July 17, 1917. I had given notice of this meeting to the above aforesaid brethren, Wright, Ritchie, Hirsh and Hoskins, as will be seen by the correspondence hereinafter set out, and had their acknowledgment of receipt of such notice and a declaration to attend the meeting that time because there were not two members of the full and complete Board of Directors present at the Bethel table the meeting of the Board of Directors, and one of the above four approached me and in a very insolent manner said, "There will be no meeting of the Board of Directors to-day, you understand that," I merely replied, "Very well, brother."

At the hour designated, the duly and legally constituted Board of Directors of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society was present and in writing and acting business in proper form. At that meeting I made a written report of the activities and work of the Society since the death of Brother Russell, and after hearing the report, they prepared and signed a resolution, an exact copy of which appears on front page. The actions of at least two of the four brethren above named taken subsequently to their threats shows their intentions of carrying into effect their threat. Their purpose is to get up excitement amongst the friends on the score that I was undermining the will and ignoring the Board of Directors in the management of the Society, and after creating considerable sentiment against me, then to pass a resolution taking out the hands of the board in the management of the Society and placing the Society into their hands. They expected a meeting of the Board of Directors to be held on the 20th of July. On Sunday night, the 15th of July, and before they had any intimation that I had taken action to call a meeting of the Board of Directors to hold at Bridgeport, N. Y., and meet Brother Hirsh at Philadelphia, neither of them having an appointment there, but they both appeared, and at a meeting of the Ecclesia made accusations against Brother Van Amburg and myself and had the friends very much stirred up. The day before, I had called a meeting of the Brooklyn congregation for another purpose to be held on Wednesday night, July 18th. Their purpose was to prevent a meeting of the Board until after the Brooklyn congregation had met, at which time they expected to start another row and then on the 20th meet as the Board of Directors to tie my hands and, if I protested, they would tie up the funds of the bank. To be discredited before two congregations would have appeared as some justification to deprive me of the management of the Society. All of this they were doing, because they had not been honored as much as they thought they were entitled to.

The Philadelphia Class invited me to come there on the night of the 20th and make a statement of the facts. In the afternoon before I started to Philadelphia Brother Hirsh came to me and said, "Brother Ruthergford, can't we fix this thing up?" I replied: "I am always willing to fix up anything if it can be done right." He said: "Can't you put us back as we were before?" I said: "No, Brother Hirsh, I cannot and there is no use to discuss this point." He said: "If you will put me back on the Board, I will go out to Philadelphia to-night and make it more than right with them and satisfy everybody." This 1-promptly declined, saying: "No, Brother Hirsh, I shall not offer to do the thing, but I shall make no agreement with you to induce you to do it."

NO REAL FAULT FOUND

At no time have the above named four brethren or any other person shown or made any charge that the President in any manner of procedure abused or mismanaged the corporation. They seem to have suddenly taken on an unfortunate desire to receive honor as members of the Board of Directors and to insist on exercising authority in giving orders to the President. I shall do my best to express myself as it is expressed in a letter written me by one of the pilgrim brothers, which I hereto attach:

"Waynesboro, Va., July 9, 1917.

"Dear Brother Ruthergford:

"My heart rejoices, after my stay at Bethel, to note the loyalty, moderation, and wisdom from above displayed by the brethren, especially on the part of those left in charge to represent the Society's Management. With both sorrow and chagrin I observed the fallacious reasoning of some who think it a great disadvantage to the work which the friends are sowing disloyalty to the Truth. Instead of procedure meeting with sympathy it is revealing how great an advantage to the work it would be were such granted greater power. It is also observable that the friends are growing up in misapplications of Scripture and the very Scriptures which read rightly would reveal the wrongness of their course, misread, prove to them that they are right. How sad to see dear brethren approaching the pure minds of the friends, are sowing darkness."

"I would not be your fault, dear Brother Ruthergford, if a brother's over appreciation of his selfish interests, and his over appreciation of the interests of the Lord's people, limited his usefulness and consequently his promotion in the service. How evident it is that loving service toward the brethren is given second place or completely lost sight of when such seek to stir up human sympathy on their side. What can this be but the arm of flesh? The grievance is not that the Lord's people are not served, nor that the service is hindered, but the entire grievance is: they are not honored. These seem willing that the cause shall suffer in order that their precious end may be attained.

"What power is there in Christ except that given by the Head? The Church is not the Head of the people, limited his usefulness."

"Be assured that if some make evident to you that loving service toward the brethren is given second place or completely lost sight of when such seek to stir up human sympathy on their side. What can this be but the arm of flesh? The grievance is not that the Lord's people are not served, nor that the service is hindered, but the entire grievance is: they are not honored. These seem willing that the cause shall suffer in order that their precious end may be attained.

"We can well tremble to think of the possible consequence of rebellion against our covenant of obedience to the will of the Lord. If we are not careful, we may be led to think that the Lord's will is not our will, but His will is to be done."

"Be assured that if some make evident that they no longer hold 'the Head' in proper esteem, others of us are drawn yet nearer to our Head, nearer to each other, and closer to God's service."

"Praying that every test may find us loyal to His will and our covenant of sacrifice, I remain what you are, your's in the love and service of Christ, "M. L. Harr".

THEIR GRIEVANCES AND INTENTIONS

The four brethren who have taken a position in opposition to the affairs of the Society and refusing to attend the meeting of the Board of Directors and the Bethel family being so disturbed about the conditions prevailing, it became necessary for me to make a statement publicly in the Dining Room, which was done Tuesday, the 17th of July, at the conclusion of which the attorney for Messrs. Hirsh, Hoskins and others made a lengthy statement, followed by impassioned speeches on the part of Brothers Hirsh and Hoskins. In the course of his remarks, Brother Hirsh stated that the intention of the four was to put Brother MacMillan out of the position where Brother Russell had placed him; that they thought he should be punished. Finding nothing serious that he could charge me with, Brother Hirsh there, for the first time, charged that I had gotten my articles in The Watch Tower without the request of Brother Hirsh—articles written by Brother Russell, to show that his statement was unfair. I asked him publicly who was in possession of the manuscript that Brother Russell left, and he answered that he was, which was true. It was in possession of myself and Brother Russell after he became a member of the Editorial Committee, and I have never at any time interfered with the publication of any of it. On the contrary, I prepared three articles on faith, hope and love, and it was at the urgent request of Brother Hirsh that two of these have been published and that the other may be published. I have not asked that these be published. In fact, there has never been a disagreement between the Editorial Committee as to what shall go in, and no one member has attempted to dictate, but the committee has left it largely to Brother Hirsh to select the copy and submit it to the others for approval. He made a similar charge with reference to The Bible Students' Monthly—"Why Do the Nations War?" I desire here to state that I am quite sure no request was made of Brother Hirsh by Brother Russell, or that he prepared wholly without my knowledge or request.

ABOUT 1917 VOLUNTEER MATTER

In support of this, I append hereto a statement, prepared and signed by them without my knowledge, and, of course, without my request:

"I, William F. Hudgings, hereby certify under oath to the following facts known to me personally to be correct and true:

(1) That all matter appearing in the current volunteer issue of The Bible Students’ Monthly, Volume 9, No. 5, was prepared and arranged for publication by Brother Robert H. Hirsh; that he very earnestly urged the publication of two of Brother J. F. Rutherford’s sermons therein, entitled ‘Why Do the Nations War?’ and ‘What Is the Clergy Attack For Russell?’; that Brother Rutherford took little or no personal interest in the issuance of this volunteer number, that no instructions, written or oral, were given by him to the Society’s Publishing Department relating thereto, and that he was away on a lecture trip at the time the matter was set up and arranged into pages; that Brother R. H. Hirsh attended to such arrangement of pages, captions, halftones, etc., on his own initiative, and that Brother Rutherford did not see proofs of the final composition until after the plates had been made and put on press; and a quantity had been printed.

(2) That Brother R. H. Hirsh suggested and composed the article, and caption thereof, appearing on pages 39-40 of the Second Edition of The Watch Tower Memorial Number of The Watch Tower, entitled ‘Pastor Russell’s Successor,’ Judge Joseph F. Rutherford; that he insisted upon the publication thereof under the direct protest of both Brothers Rutherford and Van Amburgh; that the printing of this Second Edition of said Memorial Number was delayed for more than two weeks at Brother R. H. Hirsh’s request, he explaining to the undersigned that he desired time to communicate again with Brother Rutherford (who was then out of the city) to see if he could not ultimately persuade him to consent to the insertion of this said article which Brother Hirsh had written in his own hand; that the portraits and subtitles thereto, in the aforementioned article, were suggested and arranged by R. H. Hirsh.

(3) That the following facts were freely discussed by Brothers Russell and Van Amburgh in full and confidence prior to the time the former’s attitude towards Brother Rutherford underwent a change; that any assertions or insinuations contrary to this deposition are opposed to the facts as I personally know them to exist.

(4) That this affidavit is made wholly of my own will and volition, without even a suggestion or the knowledge of anybody else, and entirely from a personal desire for truth and justice concerning matters which have been improperly construed.

WILLIAM F. HUDGINGS.

BETHEL FAMILY LOYAL

To show that the office force and members of the family are in accord with me, I append hereto a statement, prepared and signed by them without my knowledge, and, of course, without my request:

"July 18, 1917.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

"We the workers of the Tabernacle wish to express our appreciation of our President as the Manager of the work as directed in the office of which we are servants, to the effect that not once was an unkind word uttered to any of us during our hours, or at any other time. We have observed improvements and efficiency in the Office which has been gratifying. Never has the President (Brother Rutherford) ever showed any desire to dominate the work. Very few times has he visited the Tabernacle, or in any way put himself forward. We wish to openly state that it is our desire to faithfully serve the Lord and His people under the direction of the present management, as we believe the Lord is blessing this arrangement. We have no one fault to find, but can truthfully say that it is a pleasure to work in the Office as it has been directed since the Election of Brother Rutherford.

The brethren living at the New York Temple sent the following:

Additional to the foregoing, several individual comforting assurances have been handed me by various members of the Bethel Family, of which the following are samples:

"July 18, 1917.

"Dear Brother Rutherford:

"We cannot tell you how sorry we are that this present cloud is resting upon the home. We have prayed earnestly for every one of the dear brethren involved in this difficulty, hoping that matters could be adjusted, and that brotherly love might continue.

"This evening, we are praying that the Lord's overruling providence will enable all to see eye to eye, not only for their own sakes, but for the good of the Church at large.

"If all is anything that we could do to assist, we would be most happy to be used of the Lord in any way, not feeling that we have special ability, but knowing that the Lord can make use of weak and imperfect instruments—the praise belonging to Him.

"We want to assure you, dear brother, of our love, sympathy and prayers in this severe trial.

"Dear Brother Rutherford:

"Even our Master, who was perfect, craved the human sympathy of His friends. We know of no way to tell you of our love for you, dear Brother, except in words. We believe by far the majority of the dear Bethel family feel toward you as these words express. Our association yesterday in making the Memorial Tower with your biography brought to our hearts tender feelings toward you. It is our earnest desire that this expression of our love may be a measure of strength and comfort to you in the peculiar trial of the hour. You are always a strength and comfort to the loyal faithful brethren, who discern in you the spirit of our dear Lord and Head. He has who placed you to represent Himself as the head of the family of God at Bethel will surely give you His wisdom, His courage. His unfauling power. We have time this morning for the signatures only of the little group mentioned, but we represent the sentiments, dear Brother, of every loyal heart in Bethel and of every faithful member of Christ on earth, united to Him in the spirit of our begetting as New Creatures.

ALL CHARGES WHOLLY WITHOUT WARRANT

The four brethren accuse me of disregarding Brother Russell's will. Such a statement is wholly without foundation. Brother Russell's will was written in 1907. In 1908 Judge Carpenter, who was leading counsel for Brother Russell in some litigation in Pittsburgh, called the attention of the Brethren to the fact that the signatures only of the little group mentioned were against the Truth they might vote their shares to the disadvantage of the Society; and with the knowledge and consent of the Board we procured the opinion of a firm of lawyers in writing which was read to the five sisters by Brother Van Amburg, and they fully agreed that it was not wise to vote those shares. They would have voted for me, and it surely cannot be said that I disregarded the will for any ulterior motive.

Brother Russell did not by his will appoint the Board of Directors. The laws of Penna. and the Charter alone can provide for such a step. There is not a single instance where it can be pointed out that I have disregarded Brother Russell's will, except when I voted for Brother Sturgeon for the Editorial Committee. It was Brothers Ritchie and Van Amburg who signed the contract to sell the Photo-Drama, and the contract was supported by the other four brethren. It was Brother Ritchie who first proposed before the Board that the Angelophone be sold to him and that the Society turn over to him the $18,000.00 that was in the bank to the credit of the Angelophone Company and which belonged to the Society, and that he would assume the contracts outstanding. I prevented this from being done.

In harmony with the laws of New York and to protect the Photo-Drama Association, and in harmony with Brother Russell's will, as previously expressed to Brother Cooke, the manufacturing part of the Angelophone Company was sold to Brother Cooke and the Society reserved the right to make and furnish the records which it still has.

The Second Edition of the Memorial issue of the Warren Towers, which contained a brief biography of myself, was sent out over my repeated protest. Brother Hirah insisted that it should be done in the interest of the work. The other members of the Committee eventually supported him and finally I said: "Brethren, you may do as you please, but you must take the responsibility."

Thus it will be seen that the opposition arising has not been caused by any alleged mismanagement or misconduct of affairs. The whole trouble has arisen because of the desire of the brethren named to put Brother MacMillan out of the position in which he was placed by Brother Russell and put themselves in control and said the subscription money would be given to the Church in the hour of its direst need, to encourage and comfort them, and the Scriptures point out that there would be murmurers, complainers, etc. The Seventh Volume, as a Ninth Volume and all preceding, the first copies were in the Bethel Dining Room at the noon hour.

SEVENTH VOLUME BORN IN TRAVAIL

We are reminded of a coincidence that we here mention. This has indeed been a great trial upon the family and upon others of the dear friends throughout the country who have helped. Brother Russell once said that the seventh volume would be given to the Church in the hour of its direst need, to encourage and comfort them, and the Scriptures point out that there would be murmurers, complainers, etc. The Seventh Volume, as a Ninth Volume and all preceding, the first copies were in the Bethel Dining Room at the noon hour.
SUMMARY BY BROTHER HEMERY, LONDON BRANCH MANAGER REVIEWING THE BRITISH SITUATION

The following summary of the situation in England was given by Brother Hemery, the Manager of the Society's London office, before the London congregation on Sunday, April 1, 1917:

"Last Sunday Brother Thackway said something should be stated by me relative to Brother Johnson and his position. I am glad in one way to have the privilege of speaking about this matter to relieve some anxiety that you must have, but at the same time I am sorry that it is necessary to have to say it. You gathered from what Brother Thackway said a fortnight ago that the situation then was a serious one. It is serious, and it is a very sad one. To my understanding it is one of the saddest things that will have to be chronicled in all the matters relating to the Harvest Work; I cannot help but feel that it is tragedy, for we have been running pretty close to the most serious of all matters that we have to do with, in Brother Johnson. Brother Thackway's statement to you a fortnight ago was, it may be said, complete in itself, but there have been some developments since, and it may probably be considered necessary to say something more to you. There is a right that you have in this matter being so intimately associated with the W. T. B. & T. Soc whom Brother Johnson represented. Brother Thackway spoke of rebellion, a strong word, but a true word, for Brother Johnson was not merely disloyal to his superiors in the work, but in active opposition in the face of direct instruction. He took another course and denied all authority that should be given under those circumstances. I will very briefly recapitulate the circumstances as they are going into details however, for a good many of these are familiar to your mind.

"You know that soon after Brother Johnson came he believed, opposition to his course, and that which he considered to be against the best interest of the work, in my two colleagues, Brothers Shearn and Crawford, and you know how he dismissed them from the office. They accepted their dismissal; then, since our Church election was due, he took opposition to their names being put forward for election because of the matter that they, and some other elders were involved in. That matter you partly decided, but so far as Brothers Shearn and Crawford are concerned, their dismissal still stands good before you, and we are waiting for a report from Brother Rutherford of his decision after he has read all the facts of the case from the Commission which he himself appointed.

"Brother Johnson in his claim asserted that he had the full right to control the office, and full right to control the British work. I wondered at it at the time, but he assured us that he had discussed his credentials with the Executive Committee in Brooklyn, and we had no other way of acting than by viewing him as a good brother, as we considered him at this time, and I think that there was some doubt or limitation in our mind. However, he acted thus, and we agreed, but when Brother Rutherford knew of what Brother Johnson was doing, he repudiated his statement and he wired him to London that he was not authorized to pay the Treasurer to pay for the same, and used it with the full knowledge, consent and direction of the brother who furnished it.

"It is true that the brotherhood throughout the land should have this book as quickly as possible, because of being the last heritage of our beloved Pastor to the dear Israel of God, we arranged to send it forth by mail so that each one would receive it practically at the same time; and the money from the above mentioned dear brother paid the postage likewise.

on Tuesday, June 17th, and at the conclusion of my statement to the family of what led up to the conditions, I stated that the Seventh Volume was there to be distributed to all who desired it; and immediately the attacks began upon me by Brothers Hirsh and Hoskins.

We believe that a careful and prayerful reading of the Seventh Volume, which is now in your hands, will enable all the dear friends to be comforted and helped, and to determine what your course should be in the present crisis. The compilation of the Seventh Volume had been in progress since shortly after the death of Brother Russell. The matter was all ready for publication about the time the opposition above mentioned began. I was asked to have the printer's proofs to these and other brethren at the time this trouble arose, but seeing their violent opposition I knew that they would be long delayed if they insisted on reading the manuscript and giving the objections that were consulted. Brothers Van Amburgh, Macmillan, Martin and Hodgins, and it was concluded that in view of the fact that this opportunity to publish it was now, because of the rush that comes to the printers in a short time, that the publication should proceed. It was remarked that probably these brethren would raise the question that we had misappropriated funds for the publication of this volume. The Lord seemed to provide at once to meet any such objection. The next mail brought the assurance that the Seventh Volume would be published, and, having in mind his previous kind offer, I merely reminded him of it. The next mail brought me a draft in a sufficient amount for its publication, and I used this money for the payment of the printer's bills and the Treasurer to pay for the same, and used it with the full knowledge, consent and direction of the brother who furnished it. August 3, 1917

20:8), and had left the Tabernacle clothed as Mordecai was clothed when he left the presence of the King (see Esther 8:13). He was a man of iron hands—hand of iron to me—that and that he could not keep his hands off the work here. Brother Rutherford wired back that his work in London, that is his representative work, had finished, and that he must turn to America immediately. He wired to us in the office that Brother Johnson's work here was finished, and that he had no further authority to represent the Society in any way, and that we should ship him back to America immediately. Meantime, Brother Bushman wired that Brother Johnson's position was this, that a man who would send such a cablegram as he sent was not in a fit condition of mind to represent the Society, so he asked him to return, and bid us cancel any work and return him.

"Brother Johnson came back from Liverpool, and was quiet, accepting the right. He called it a setback, but believed it could not last very long, for Brother Rutherford could see his, Brother Johnson's, position. He came back to London the weekend the Commission sat. That weekend he was comparatively quiet, but he came to the conclusion on the Saturday night that he would not attend the Commission because he said it had no authority, and he being the "Steward," was superior to it, and he repudiated it, and said its authority he said he would require the same kind of cancellation of his papers—that is, sealed papers such as had been given him when he received his commission as the Society's accredited representative.

"A little later he denied that Brother Rutherford had any right that his election to office was illegal. He was continually going step by step denying every cablegram, and every authority. In the home he reasserted his claim, and it fell to me, as representing the President, to tell him that while he stayed in the house awaiting his return to America, he could stay as an honored guest for his work's sake, but that he must keep his hands off the management. He had said he would not, and furthermore declared in that week, the Wednesday after, that Johnson had gone right, that his plan was to come back in this Church the following Sunday, and to use his own words, hang those elders which he had slain some weeks before, to take out of office again the brethren whom you had elected to office, whose names had been on the letter which brought so much trouble to the Church. Now I told him I should resist him in this, and I told him too that he would find no favor with you in what he did, but he said the type clearly showed that it had to be done, but that he would keep his hands off the management. He said he should not do it, he went back to look at the type and said it showed something different, and he would be content for the time being. However, the following weekend he received a letter from Brother Rutherford, declaring there was no President of the Watch Tower Society, that his election was illegal, and that he intended to take full control of the British work. This was nothing, as I told you, and to this day I was delivered of another telegram, signed not only by Brother Rutherford, but by the Watch Tower Society saying that all Brother Johnson's activities of every kind in this country were cancelled. There could be no further authority. Brother Johnson sending cablegrams and getting no reply whatever, whereas our cablegrams were being answered regularly and quickly. That put division in our house, for we went to extremes. He did not like my opposition. I had told him, as he told me, that we will not let him take control. For the reason for thinking that the Watch Tower Society, is the official journal of the Society, was in league with some conspiracy in America, or that there was something wrong with the Society, that we should believe that the Watch Tower told lies, or that the authorities had been careless in their work when they elected Brother Rutherford President. He disobeyed all instructions. Then he took his letter, and said he would take it in his way, and I had to tell you that Brother Johnson, Monday he dismissed me from the office. He dismissed me quite a dozen times, and when he found I would not go, he suspended me. It did not make much difference personally, only the uniform a part of the matter was that there were some in the house and office who were seeing things from Brother Johnson's point of view, and Brother Housden and three other brethren in the office were cooperating with him. They said they believed Brother Johnson was right; another brother took no sides whatever he said, but he certainly sympathized with Brother Johnson.

Do you know that the whole of the week before last they kept from me every letter that came in, with the exception of those few which happened to come in personally. Brother Johnson, when tried, of course, they handled business they did not know about. They kept me from the telephone, and when I wanted to talk to them, they would neither let me, nor my secretary use it, and also would not allow messages to come through to me. Brother Johnson wired back. He was determined in his own mind he said, and certainly he seemed to have persuaded those with him, that it was in the very best interests of the British work that he should control the money, and of vital interest to the world that would be gotten out of the way. How he found that out I don't know; I expect it was by some type he saw. He persuaded the brethren with him that this was the right thing, and they acted on it. A sorry thing indeed. Well, I am very glad to tell you that three of the brethren who acted with him, one after another came to see their mistake, and they came very humbly expressing their sorrow to the brethren. Brother Rutherford informed me out to me, and for their attitude towards the work.

"We are beginning to get the work into shape again, but there has been a real set back to it which has caused some fluttering about the country wondering what is happening. Meantime, Brother Rutherford wired in the High Court to restrain me and those associated with me, from handling the Watch Tower money. Why he wanted this for himself he best knows, I don't, but it was hard to get at the money, but that there was a matter of about $150. Owing to the formalities of the law there are already costs amounting to about $150. That was to get me out of the work particularly, and to get himself installed in care of the British branch in face of any evidence against him.

"Now Brother Johnson's action is repudiated by Brother Rutherford for two reasons. First, that he was never charged with such work as he took upon himself. Brother Rutherford tells me in a letter I received a day or two ago, that it was well understood when they wrote out those credentials, with the gold seal on them, that it was in order for him to get a better passport into this country, and Brother Johnson fully understood this, and—not at all to interfere with the British work. Brother Rutherford said that Brother Johnson knew this, and I would rather believe Brother Rutherford than Brother Johnson. Besides, Brother Rutherford's repudiation of Brother Johnson is since he sent the foolish telegram, and because it showed that he was not in a fit mental condition to represent the Society, or indeed, anybody else.

"Well now, brethren, this is why Brother Johnson has not appeared before you. He will not appear here, or anywhere as representing the Society. It cannot be under such conditions. It is one of the most awful things we have had in the whole of the Harvest work, and I see no other explanation of it than this. Brother Rutherford suggested that Brother Johnson has lost his balance of mind, and coupled with this an inordinate value of himself in the British work. He has had thoughts of his mind for a long time before he came to Britain which enabled these things to act quickly upon him, but in any case, he has gotten to a weak state of mind because of a strain he had. That is why we are sorry is a poor thing. The chief trouble is, so far as we are concerned, that there has been work done in the hearts and minds of the brethren which is bound to hurt them for some time to come.

"Brother Rutherford, in his letter to me, sends a message to the congregation. He says how sorry he is that he has not appeared before you. He will not appear here, or anywhere as representing the Society.
received numerous letters from the congregation at London, I have not time now to answer them all. I therefore ask you in my behalf, to please state to the London Congregation that as President of the Society I heartily disapprove of Brother Johnson's action either in making charges against the brethren or dismissing them, and that I attribute his action not to a wrongful condition of heart, but to a disturbed mental condition; that you will please ask the congregations there to suspend judgment, and have all persons said him calmly and seriously await the direction of the Lord, knowing that in due time He will cause even this great trial to work out for good to all who have had the experience and who love to be called according to His purpose.

"Of course we have done that: we have left the election of the two brethren in abeyance. The office matter does not specially concern us as a Church, except as we said some while ago, that he might prejudice his and their minds in dealing with the election. However, we have left that, and we do leave it until we hear from the brethren on the other side. It is a very loving letter that Brother Rutherford sends, and I don't know what more to say. It is another instance of what our dear Pastor so often reminded us of, that when approaching the time of the Memorial there are hard times for the Church. It seems that the Lord allowed Satan to come near to the Church and the Lord's people at this time. But, as we have so often said, nothing can harm us while we continue to wait upon Him. Let us do that, brethren, so that when we come back this next week on Thursday evening, we may come with clean hands and pure hearts, and if there has been anything of bitterness, malice, or evil surmisings, that we may take this to the Lord and cleanse ourselves. For my own mind I feel sure that the Lord is preparing us that the work may go on in the country more sweetly, if that it may gather in the last grains of wheat. Let nothing disturb you, brethren. Whatever strange reports Lord and the Board are referred to, that we will not let things in all this matter, take it to the Lord. Don't talk about it; let's not disturb everybody we meet if they have heard the latest news. Take it to the Lord, and if there are matters relative to the office to bring before you, we will bring them before you in due time. Since the office is wedded to the Church, the relationship has to be taken into account. Keep your souls in patience, and remember that the Lord is our strength."}

Our Summary of the Foregoing Evidence

The course pursued in Great Britain, which almost disrupted the work there, has likewise been followed here. Brother Johnson, the ablest brother in all the land, has been cast in this sad affair.

Brother Johnson set about in Great Britain to take complete charge of all the work there, announcing himself as the Steward with all the powers possessed by Brother Russell, and declared his intention of establishing a new Watch Tower in that country.

To accomplish this purpose he made charges against a number of the brethren, that they were disloyal to Brother Russell and the Society, and that they were disregarding his expressed wishes. Without right or authority, he discharged two of the managers of the London office, who are members of the council of the International Bible Students Association, drove them from the London Bethel, and attempted to drive out the third and only remaining one of the Managers. He went about the country telling all the class of the terrible condition of affairs that he had found and poisoning their minds against these brethren.

When his European tour was cancelled and he was recalled to America and a commission of five brethren appointed to ascertain the facts and report, he repudiated the election of the Society's President and appealed to the Board through Brother Ritchie; ignored the commission, and refused to appear before it.

In his winning manner, and by the wrongful application of much of the Old Testament, he induced some of the members of the London Bethel to support him. He did not wait for instructions from America, but with an accomplice he obtained possession of the office and everything in it, and took a large amount of money out of the safe and carried it away.

Failing to influence the commissioners before they met, and seeing that his designs were failing, he took all the money he could lay his hands on, some of it belonging to the Society and some a special fund that had been raised to help the poor brethren in their defense against the Military Act. Then he employed a lawyer, filed $200 of the Society's money, and instituted a lawsuit in the name of the Society and himself as Special Representative, against the London managers and against the bank, and tied up the Society's funds while he was working the work there until the suit could be finally determined.

Seeing the Court had decided this cause adversely to him, and that his last desperate attempt had failed, he left London and Bethel by letting himself down from the roof and concealing himself about London until he sailed for America.

Second Part

At Brooklyn, Brother Johnson had two hearings before the Board and other brethren, occupying four hours, at the conclusion of which all present agreed that Brother John was laboring under such a mental delusion that we refrained from telling even the Bethel family about these things, desiring to protect him. He remained quiet in the Bethel for about two months. Then he came to me and said he was ready to return to Great Britain. We told him that he could not return, that there was nothing there for him to do, and that the British brethren did not want him, he became excited and declared he would appeal to the Board of Directors. He demanded that I call a meeting of the Board, which I declined to do. Why did he want a meeting of the Board? We answered—he hoped that the Board would overrule the President and send Brother Johnson back to Great Britain. Notwithstanding the fact that Brothers Hirsh, Hoskins, Wright and Ritchie had knowledge of his exploits in Great Britain, they listened to him and at his request signed a demand upon me to call a meeting of the Board of Directors to hear him. Why should they listen to his appeal in this behalf?

Suggested Reasons

Brother Russell had appointed Brother Macmillan to the position of Representative of and Assistant to the President, with full powers as overseer of the entire work and had removed Brother Ritchie as Manager of the office and Brother Hoskins from the Colporteur department. The Executive Committee appointed Brother Macmillan to the same place. When I became President I continued Brother Macmillan in that position. Brother Hoskins, Hirsh and Ritchie were displeased with Brother Macmillan's appointment by Brother Russell, and with what he had done and said to them. They wanted to deprive him of his position and his power. Each one of them had spoken to me against Brother Macmillan and I had declined in his absence to heed their speech. Brother Ritchie had not felt kindly about the management of the Society since he failed of election at Pittsburgh.

Brother Johnson, in his persuasive manner, induced these brethren to believe that I as President was usurping power and that Brother Macmillan was a favorite charge of Brother Johnson's against his brethren. See his letters herewith before set out (page 4). If he could induce the Board to take charge of the management, the hope was that he could generate in his course in Great Britain and sent back to the country.

It was easy to see that if these four brethren could take charge of the management, they could urge Brother Macmillan and have the honor of running the Society. A conspiracy is an agreement to accomplish a wrongful purpose. We shall have to look in between these brethren to see their object. The circumstances show there was. Circumstantial evidence is often stronger than direct. It was to the advantag of all these brethren, as they reasoned, to deprive me of the management, as the Board was a body of elected forces. Brother Johnson's superior ability dictated the course.

Why should Brother Wright join with them? Poor Brother Wright, the others induced him to believe that he was being selected as a member of the Board and that it was his duty to stand by them to maintain the dignity of the Board. Brother Wright has said several times since the trial began, that he had been dragged into this affair and induced to believe that if he did not stand by these brethren, three he would be unsatisfactory; that he wished he was out of it. I feel deep compassion for the dear brother.

Notwithstanding these four brethren were in the dining room three times each day, and saw me and had never requested a meeting of the Board, and I had never declined to call one, and they had no reason to believe that I would decline to meet them. A copy of a letter which I had written to Brother Johnson, and upon his advice, they signed a paper which he had written, asking that a meeting of the Board be called for Brother Johnson's benefit, and Brother Johnson, four hours afterward, did this although they knew that he had had two hearings and knew they had told Brother Johnson he could not go back to England. I was surprised at this action. I at once suspected that a conspiracy was developing to disrupt the work here and to get Brother Johnson back to England for another trial, and to me. I immediately called Brothers Wright, Ritchie, Hirsh and Brothers Van-Amburgh to a conference in the drawing room. This was not a meeting of the Board. I asked these brethren, why they had sent me this paper through Brother Johnson. I told them why I would not call a meeting of the Board at his instance; that he was trying to force my hand and force himself back into Great Britain. To show that he had been consulting these brethren with reference to depriving me of the management, Brothers Hirsh and Hoskins came to this conference, thinking, doubtless, it was a meeting of the Board, armed with a power they had received in an attempt to show that it was the wish of Brother Russell that the Board should manage the affairs of the Society, and not the President. I was astonished at their attitude. Brother Hirsh then drew from his pocket a copy of a letter I had written to Brother Johnson in England, before the election, in which he attempted to show that I had agreed that the Board was in control. He could not have obtained this letter except from Brother Johnson. Brother Hirsh then tried to force a motion for a hearing of Brother Johnson, but was told that the Board was not in session. I then said: Brethren, this English affair is strictly a matter for our English friends: Excluding, if I have handled any objection from anyone up to this hour, but I do not care to keep any facts from you. I thereupon submitted to these four brethren the commissioner's report and my findings upon that report, and asked them to examine it and confer with Brother Johnson and report to a meeting of the Board which I would call a week later.

At this meeting, and after these brethren had conferred with Brother Johnson for a week, they appeared with a report which exonerated Brother Johnson, which I had done in England, and recommended that the Society pay $500 to Brother Johnson's solicitor, notwithstanding the judgment of the High Court had postponed the solicitor to pay the money as a penalty for wrongfully prosecuting me without authority and after having notice from the President of the Society that such suit was improper. Brother Hirsh introduced a resolution to carry this into effect, and moved in its adoption, and I ruled it out of order and prevented the Society from being deprived of $500.

As further evidence that there was a conspiracy between the parties, Brother Hirsh took from his pocket a report which had been prepared, and offered it as a resolution attempted to repeal the by-law passed by the shareholders and by the Board of Directors, and to take the management of the Society out of the President's hands and give it to the hands of three-fourths. What followed I have heretofore stated.

Again Brother Johnson and his allies were frustrated in their move. Following the same tactics which he had adopted in Great Britain, Brother Johnson and these other brethren set about to stir up the minds of the friends against the management here. Both Brothers Johnson and Hoskins had telegraphed to take a Pilgrim trip, even for a short period. Their time was being consumed in consultation between themselves and with lawyers, and doing absolutely nothing in the harvest work, although living at the expense of the friends. Not without difficulty then got about and visited the friends and poured into their ears accusations against the management of the Society, exactly as Brother Johnson had done to Great Britain.

In his example, Brother Hoskins cancelled his meeting for Sunday evening, July 15th, and by previous arrangement met Brother Hirsh at Philadelphia. Both of these brethren had been held in high esteem by the Philadelphia society. This meeting was to place this class behind them. At that Sunday night meeting they belched forth their accusations against Brother Van Amburgh and myself and others. For the safety of the interests of the friends, I am compelled to refrain from publishing some of the things that they stated at that time. These brethren, together with some others, at a meeting of the Brooklyn congregation held while I was at Chicago, attempted to get a motion before the congregation to oust me from the Chairmanship of the congregation. In this they failed. When I returned I called a meeting of the congregation for Wednesday night, July 18th. These brethren and their allies were there, were addressed and fought intending to accomplish their purpose. Their leader failed them and became fane-hearted, they did not attempt to carry out their desire. The result was, the Lord's blessing was upon the meeting, and it was turned into a Love Feast and these opposers went away disappointed.

Their purpose was to discredit me before as many friends as possible, and then pass a resolution depriving me of the management of the Society. I had consulted with the Rev. Brother Russell, who was our consulting lawyer. Brother Johnson had said, "We are consulting lawyers and we know what we can do with you." Again they were thwarted in their purposes. Following the same course pursued in the past, they attempted to disgratify himself with the Bethel family here. He had not seen his wife since November last, and although he knew she was not well and the Society had offered him transportation to Columbia, he had not found both ability and time to go about the country to stir up strife. He had been living at Bethel for several weeks, in open defiance of my order to go away. Seeing now that their well laid plans were failing, Brother Johnson came to me in a different guise.

About the 20th of July he came to me in the capacity of a mediator or peace-maker, expressing a desire to establish peace and let him put up against me at all. He said, "Now, brother, this matter should be adjusted, because if it goes before the Church you will be discredited. This never seemed to have occurred to him when he was taking me out of the charge of the Church, both in a public and private way, and when Brothers Hirsh and Hoskins were doing likewise. He suddenly became very solicitous for my welfare. I replied, "Brother Johnson, I am not here to do your duty, regardless of who is for or against me. I am seeking only to protect the interests of the Society and to please the Lord. You, Brother Johnson, have been the cause of this trouble here. You desired to go back to England and because I declined to send you, this trouble was begun. He admitted that the trouble was the result of my refusal to give him another hearing before the Board with a view to sending him back to England.

And now, dear brethren, I submit that it can hardly be said that I have acted from any selfish or ulterior motive. I was advised by one of the best corporation lawyers in Philadelphia that these four men were not legal members of the Board, and that I had the legal authority to appoint a new board. I appointed this Board not for a selfish purpose, but to protect the interests of the Society.

The Board is now composed of Brothers (Doctor) Spill; J. A. Bohnet, George H. Fisher, A. H. Macmillan, A. N. Pierson, W. E. Van Amburgh and myself, all of whom Brother Russell fully trusted, and in whom he had the fullest confidence. The friends throughout the country have confidence in these brethren, that they will safeguard the interests of the Society. This Board has agreed to meet once each month for the purpose of looking after the interests of the Society. The Friends' Harvest Association is the legal corporation in New York, with full power of management, and I have asked that Board to create an Executive Committee to act together with me.
Brother Ritchie offered to withdraw his wrongful statements made at Philadelphia if he and the others were placed back on the Board. Why should these brethren insist now on being on the Board, which would result in immediate disruption of the work at Bethel and the Tabernacle, because the majority of the workers would decline to work under their management? Will the interests of the Society be safer in their hands, than in the honor and preference? When I declined Brother Ritchie's proposition to place himself and his colleagues on the Board, upon the condition that he go to Philadelphia and "make it more than right," he at once took the opposite course; went to Philadelphia and made his statement before the congregation even worse than he had made it at first, and when I told that congregation of his offer to go and make it right with them upon the condition that he and the others be put on the Board, he did not deny it. Were these five brethren then seeking the welfare of the Society and its work, or did they have some other motive?

The opposers have never pointed out a single instance wherein I have mismanaged the affairs of the Society. Two have not suggested a single improvement in the management. Their policy clearly is a desire for honor and "rule or ruin."

As conclusive proof that these conspirators, following the example set by Brother Johnson in England, intended to carry out the threat made by one of them to Brother Wisdom, namely, to resort to the civil courts if their attempt to get control of the Society and to tie up the money of the Society were thwarted, so that the work would be hindered, we append the following notice served upon Brothers Van Amburgh, Pierson and myself:

Sir:—
PLEAS TAKE NOTICE, That the undersigned, being a majority of the Board of Directors of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society, hereby call a special meeting of the Board of Directors of the said Society, to be held at the St. George Hotel, Brooklyn, New York City, on Saturday, July 28, 1917, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of said day, for the purpose of transacting the following business:

1. To take such action as may be necessary to prevent, prohibit and restrain the persons now styling themselves a Board of Directors of the Society from undertaking to interfere in or control the management of its affairs as Directors.

ENDORSEMENT

We, the undersigned, having carefully read the foregoing and having compared the letters with the originals, and being personally acquainted with the facts, desire to express our approval and endorsement of the actions of Brother Rutherford in his official capacity as President of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society as herein stated.

We believe that the evidence herein produced has been arranged by the Lord for the purpose of acquiring His dear ones with the subtle manner by which the Adversary has endeavored to overthrow the work which was to dearly love and which is causing the rapid overthrow of his empire. Surely he has great wrath, for he sees his time is short. The Lord is for us, who can be against us?

Brother Ritchie said "Had I been elected to any office at Pittsburgh I would have considered myself a member of the Board, but I am not a member of the management of the Society in his hands, is he seeking to get into the Great Company class?"

This whole affair has been a sad one. It has been a great trial to the Bethel family, and has greatly interrupted the work here. We have wondered why the Lord permitted it to come. He knows. This is the time of trial. In this connection we strongly recommend a re-reading of the article, "The House of Bethel, published by Brother Russell just before his death. His expressions there seem to be prophetic, and are now having fulfillment. Beloved in the Lord, let us keep our hearts, watching diligently and seeing that no root of bitterness springs up against any one. Let us keep ourselves in the love of God, and while the fire burns fierce, know that His everlasting arms are beneath us and He will sustain us and He will bring through this fiery trial everyone who is properly exercised thereby, purified and made more fit for the Master's use.

My heart bleeds for these brethren. I would that I might help them. But they are not in the hands of the Lord, and I pray He may deal mercifully with them and that they may be fully recovered if that be His holy will.

And now, dear brethren, I have placed before you the facts. I am conscious of the fact that I have said things which others may disagree with me. I am reminded that it is only five months until my term of office expires. I pledge you, by the grace of God, that I will strive to hold the affairs of the Society together and see that no ambitious person wrecks it within that five months. At that time I feel sure that the Lord will direct His dear people what course to take. I have no ambition except to please the Lord. I have had the blessing of a little part in placing before the Church Brother Russell's last work, the Seventh Volume of Studies in the Scriptures. I have tried to be faithful. The Lord is my judge. Earthly reputation counts nothing and this life is not dear unto me. This has been a season of extremely hard trial, but I count it a privilege to work with my Master in doing what I believe to be the right thing.

Let us judge mercifully, seeing that no bitterness is in our hearts. Let us be of sober mind and watch unto prayer. The end is at hand. Above all things, let us set our love which is the bond of completeness.

Praying the Lord's blessings upon every one of you, and asking your prayers in my behalf, that I may be given wisdom and grace from on High, I desire to perform the duties that He has placed in my hands, in a faithful manner, until finished, and with much love, I beg to remain.

Your brother and servant by His grace.

A Message to the Watchers,
Being a refutation of “Harvest Siftings”

OUR PASTOR

“Your brethren that hated you, that cast you out for My name’s sake, said, ‘Let the Lord be glorified’; but He shall appear to your joy and they shall be ashamed.”
Our Present Counselor

We are living in a time when, if it were possible, "the very elect" would be deceived, but God's Word, our safe guide, assures us that this cannot be done, even though the Adversary should use some of his ablest instruments for that purpose. Jesus' safety was found in what was written, and that constitutes our security also. We are not ignorant of the devices of our Adversary.

In New Testament days he used letters and words and spirits purporting to come from the right source and through the Lord's channel in order to deceive the early Christians, but this was unavailing. He even caused some of his ablest ministers to write letters that were so nearly like the writings found in the Holy Scriptures that some could not tell them apart, and consequently accepted them as inspired writings. This gave rise to the Apocryphal books, which may be found in the Catholic Bibles between the Old and New Testaments.

This should cause the Lord's people to be especially on guard at this time, when we are so near the end of the way, entering into Gethsemane, previous to the binding of Satan.

One of these pseudo-writings may be found in a document recently published and mailed to the friends all over the world, entitled "Harvest Siftings," which is an imitation and counterfeit of our dear Brother Russell's Harvest Siftings, but a careful examination of the two writings bearing the same title will reveal the fact that they are entirely different. Brother Russell's Siftings was a real thing; the latter is a deception. Brother Russell's production was for the purpose of giving a plain, simple, straightforward, loving, Christian-like explanation of certain false charges which had been made by certain ones who had conspired against him. This latter document is altogether different. It is written for the purpose of condemning Brother Russell's fellow-servants, and is the work of a Prosecuting Attorney. In the one instance the Adversary attempted to disrupt the work of the Society by a conspiracy of brethren who were sifted out; in this instance he has proven a little more successful through the processes of usurpation, casting out faithful brethren, and then saying, "The Lord be glorified."

This pseudo-"Siftings" is nothing but a legal document to prove what a wonderful President the Society has—a supposedly real hero who has saved the Society from being wrecked, whereas in reality it is a covered effort to overcome Brother Russell, as represented in his fellow-servants, to the extent of splitting the Church, and the usage of the Lord's money contributed by His consecrated people. Brother Rutherford is using the Lord's money in this way. He is using the Lord's people, and he is using consecrated time and talents in the same direction.

If you will carefully scrutinize his so-called "Siftings," you will readily observe that it has every earmark of the Lawyer, the Counselor, the Prosecuting Attorney. It is a lawyer's business to accept his client's case for money considerations, and to do everything in his power to prove his case. Lawyers argue on only one side of a case, and that is always their side—the selfish one. It is not a matter of strict justice (as it ought to be), but a matter of winning the case by arguments. To accomplish this purpose, such arguments only will be used that tend to establish their point. All other points will be suppressed, ignored, and omitted, and, at the same time, they will do everything they can to overcome the arguments on the other side, no matter how true they may be. Besides this, statements of witnesses are oftentimes colored to suit their case, and misrepresentations are frequently indulged in. In these, and in other ways, they either win the case, or come so near to it that their client seems satisfied, unless an appeal case can be worked up. You will find all these things used in this so-called "Siftings" to prove a point and to show what a wonderful champion the Society (Rutherford-Van Amburgh) has found in Our President.

He has set himself up as the Counselor of the Church, and this is the kind of counsel he is giving them. It might be well to notice in this connection that this word Counselor is one of the titles of the Lord Jesus, and is one of the principal works of the Advocate, and was never previously recognized as an office in the Church.

We are confident that the friends do not wish the money they have contributed for the spread of the Truth to be used to propagate falsehoods and to push the Primacy so as to split the Church. Neither do they wish the name, memory, contributions, sacrifices and prestige of our dear Brother Russell to be used in this manner. Therefore, we are inviting your careful and prayerful consideration of the facts stated in the writings herewith sent forth to the Lord's people in His name, which, we believe, will be one of the means the Lord will use at this time to shield and protect His people—His sheep—from those that would otherwise devour and destroy.

LITTLE did we think when we looked upon the dead body of our great leader, Pastor Russell, less than nine months ago, that in so short a time it would become our painful duty to sound an alarm to the Lord's people everywhere, in the statement we are now about to make. Little did we then think that those who would undertake to manage the affairs of the Society after Brother Russell's death would attempt to pervert and change the time-honored customs and usages left us by our dear Pastor, or that there would be introduced such flagrant and sweeping departures from the form of government as outlined in Brother Russell's Will and in the Charter of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society, written by his own hand.

For months past we have been hoping to avert the present issue, and now it is necessary that we relate to you the history of the unhappy circumstances which have led up to the present trouble. Even now, we would hesitate to speak of these things were it not for the fact that certain brethren, whose names we must herein mention, have sent out broad-cast lengthy statements which have distorted the facts and which are calculated to mislead the Lord's people with regard to the true situation at headquarters. Accordingly, we have received hundreds of letters requesting a true and complete explanation of the affairs and happenings here. Failure to correct the misleading statements and tell you the truth would surely mean a culpable neglect on our part to fulfil our solemn duty and sacred duty to protect and safeguard the interests of the Lord's flock.

The Watch Tower readers have received a paper styled "Harvest Siftings." It bears the signature of the President of our Society, J. F. Rutherford. Several facts are apparent at once to the minds of all who have read this paper carefully, namely:

(1) That the author has attempted to assassinate the good reputation of some of his brethren, Directors of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society, who for many years under Brother Russell occupied positions of trust in the work of the Society.

(2) That the Author of "Harvest Siftings," while knowing that St. Paul enjoins, "speak evil of no man," has seemingly lifted all restraint from his tongue and pen and throughout his paper has carried on a campaign of slander and evil speaking.

(3) That while on page one of his "Siftings," Brother Rutherford declares that God is his Judge, he seems unwilling that God shall judge his brethren, but proceeds himself to be their judge and to unmercifully condemn them.

(4) That while on the first page of "Siftings," our brother says he has no unkind feelings toward anyone, he proceeds to express, time after time, unkind sentiments toward these brethren.

(5) While in the concluding paragraphs of his paper, he exerts that no bitterness be allowed to come in, he has repeatedly said many things therein to arouse bitter thoughts in the minds of the Lord's people.

(6) That throughout his statement our brother has attempted to link with Brother Johnson's affairs in England the proceedings of the majority members of the Board of Directors, and that without there being any relationship whatsoever and in face of repeated protests on our part.

(7) That on the first page of "Harvest Siftings," top of second column, the author exerts "that you do not form any distinct opinion until you have read all this statement"; the inference being that you should immediately form a distinct opinion after reading his statement.

We have too much confidence in you, dear brethren, to think that after following the leading of the Lord under Brother Russell, many of you for years past, you could at this late hour be so misled as not to be able to discern between this and the spirit of the wise man of old: "He that answereth a matter before he heareth it, it is folly and shame unto him."—Proverbs 18:13. See Vol. VI, pages 293, 294.

We would not publish this article merely in defense of our name. We have nothing that is not fully devoted to the Lord and the Truth; we suffer because of our faithful effort to serve these and you, and realizing this, we are not distressed. "We know whom we have believed and are persuaded that He is able to keep that which we have committed unto Him against that day."

THE PURPOSE OF THIS PUBLICATION

The purpose of this explanation is not to retaliate, either, for, by the Lord's Grace, we trust to follow the example of Jesus, "who when He was reviled, reviled not again." Therefore, we will leave out personalities and bitter words in the presentation.

We believe that it will not be speaking evil to come before some of the official acts of the President of the Society, for every voting shareholder has a right to information of this character. Our only purpose, dear brethren, is to set matters before you in such a manner that you may see the facts and principles involved and be prepared to recognize the Lord's leading and guidance through this fiery trial, to the intent that you may endure the same, without any real injury.

Hereewith we set forth the salient points that you may be assisted in following the events up to the present sad crisis:

(1) That during the lifetime of Brother Russell, he exercised complete control and management of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society, and all of its affairs, for the reason that he created the Society with his own money and intellect under the special guidance of the Lord's spirit, which he possessed in large measure.

(2) That as he looked forward to his death, it was not his thought that he would have a successor in this special office, but rather that the Board of seven Directors should "come to the front" and be his successor, and exercise complete management of the Society and its affairs.

(3) That the Charter of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society, written by Brother Russell, stated in plain terms the form of government by which the Society was to be governed. True, it was declared, was intended to apply especially after his death.

(4) That at his death, Brother Russell left a will (see "Watch Tower," December 1, 1916), in which he explains why he had control of the Society during his lifetime and the manner in which he desired the affairs to be continued after his death.

(5) That Brother Russell had not been dead more than a few days when his Will was declared to be illegal and, therefore, not binding, and that its provisions need not be observed by those who took charge, thus beginning the real murmuring against Brother Russell's arrangements, which has continued ever since.

(6) That Brother Rutherford, being well assured in advance that he would be elected President of the Society, drew up some by-laws before his election, which were taken to the shareholders' meeting at Pittsburgh, January 6, and placed in the hands of a committee of three brethren, with the instruction that they suggest before the shareholders’ meeting that these by-laws be adopted by the Society for the government of its affairs.

(7) That these by-laws, prepared by Brother Rutherford, expressly stated that the President should be the executive and manager of the Society and that he should have full charge of all its affairs, both in foreign lands and in America.

(8) That the passage of these by-laws, under Brother Rutherford’s instructions, by the shareholders, was contrary to the Charter of the Society, and, hence, not binding, since the Charter provides that “the Directors shall have full power to make by-laws.” (See charter, Sec. VII, elsewhere in this pamphlet.)

(9) That Brother Rutherford, knowing that these by-laws, recommended by the shareholders, were not legal, on returning from the election called a meeting of the Board of Directors, at which there were present Brothers Rutherford, Van Amburgh, Pierson, Ritchie and Wright. Brother Hoskins, being ill, was absent, and Brother Rockwell had just removed from Bethel. At this meeting of the Board, these by-laws, placing the control in the hands of Brother Rutherford, were adopted thus making them legal.

(10) That the Brethren present at this Board meeting who took part in the adoption of these by-laws, not being able to forecast the future, and not surmising that our brother would misuse the power, thought best at that time to take this action.

(11) That not many weeks had passed before there were misgivings in the minds of several of the Directors as to the wisdom of the action taken, and though they expressed no immediate protest, they recognized that they had placed altogether too much confidence in Brother Rutherford in giving him such sweeping control, for they saw that he was interpreting the by-laws to mean that he alone was the controller of the Society to the exclusion of the Directors.

(12) That one of the seriously objectionable results of this power in the hands of the President was that he appointed a special representative, Brother A. H. Macmillan, who for two months previous to this time, since Brother Russell’s death, had shown himself unfit to represent the Society and its affairs in such an important position, and that to this special representative was delegated autocratic powers by the President, so that in the absence of the President, the word of his special representative was declared to be final on all matters, much to the sorrow and discomfort of many of the force.

(13) That instead of properly representing the Society and assisting the President in preserving inviolate its charter and Brother Russell’s will, Brother Macmillan did the very reverse. He apparently viewed Brother Russell’s Will as a mere trifle, not worthy of consideration, and time after time as he visited various parts of the country, he held up the Board of Directors to contempt and ridicule.

(14) That instead of the President exercising restraint over his special representative, he apparently sanctioned his unseemly conduct, as indicated in his statement in “Harvest Siftings,” page 11, where he says Brother Macmillan “has proven faithful and loyal.”

(15) That after three months or so had passed, it became clear to the majority of the Directors that they had seriously blundered in placing the complete control in the hands of one man, contrary to the charter (article VI of which reads: “The corporation shall be managed by a Board of Directors, consisting of seven members”), and that under this one-man rule the Directors were not allowed to direct, and could get little or no information regarding the affairs of the Society, for which the laws of the land held them responsible.

(16) That Brother Van Amburgh is the only Director who has fully supported the President in his methods and policies; whereas prior to Brother Russell’s death, Brother Van Amburgh frequently opposed Brother Russell in the business that he brought before the Board for consideration, thus taking hours of Brother Russell’s valuable time; and that since Brother Russell’s death, Brother Van Amburgh has given his undivided support to Brother Rutherford, and is permitted to exercise more authority than ever before; and has repeatedly refused members of the Board the privilege of getting information from the Society’s records.

(17) That prior to the time of Brother Johnson’s return from England, in the early part of April, things had been running smoothly and to the satisfaction of the Board of Directors, and that Brother Johnson’s return had nothing whatever to do with the real issues.

(18) That when Brother Johnson returned to America he appealed to the Board of Directors for a hearing of the difficulties. He said that he was authorized to bring these matters to the Board of Directors, of which he was not a member, neither of which was an official Board meeting, and in neither of these was Brother Johnson given more than slight opportunity to state his case.

(19) That when Brother Johnson requested time and again that the President call a meeting of the Board to give him a fair opportunity to state his case, the President became angared and told Brother Johnson and the Board it was none of their business, that the management was all in his hands, and that he had closed up the matter of Brother Johnson’s affair and would not open it again.

(20) That when the members of the Board saw this attitude on the part of the President, which was but another example of the same autocratic power, they, being his personal creditors, times exercised since his election, they concluded it wise to take counsel together and earnestly prayed over the matter, the result of which was that at the next Board meeting, one of our number offered a resolution to amend the by-laws which the Board had unwisely adopted early in the year.

(21) That the purpose of the Directors in wishing to amend the by-laws was not that the four members of the Board might take over the control of the Society, but that the Board might be restored to its proper position, according to Brother Russell’s Will and charter.

(22) That when this resolution was offered to rescind the objectionable by-laws, the President was greatly angered and offered such strenuous opposition that the Board yielded to his suggestion to hold the matter over for about a month.

(23) That meantime the President took a trip West and completed the scheme by which he has attempted to declare illegal and put off the Board four of its properly constituted members, three of whom for many years past were recognized by Brother Russell as legally chosen Directors.

(24) That the President’s declaration that these members of the Board have had no legal standing as Directors for years past, would mean, if true, that Brother Russell has been transacting “illegal business” through an “illegal Board” for many years.

(25) Be it known, therefore, that Brother Rutherford in his “Siftings” has belauded the real issues by claiming that the Directors have espoused the cause of Brother Johnson and want to send him back to England, when we had no desire or intention of doing anything of the kind; and be it further known that Brother Johnson is in no sense the cause of our differences here at headquarters.

(26) Be it known further that we had no thought whatsoever of interrupting the affairs of the Society by tying up its funds, as Brother Rutherford charges us, but merely to make them subject to the Board’s direction; and that no thought could be farther from our mind than that of wrecking the cause of the Lord’s work. Instead, we have been for many years engaged with all our heart and strength in supporting the Lord’s work and in extending the influence of our Society and the Truth, which we all love so much. Our aim from first to last in this respect has been to fulfill the duties of our office, to which three of us were appointed under Brother Russell, and to faithfully fulfill the trust reposed in us; and to stop, if possible, a gross and wholesale departure from Brother Russell’s Will, his Charter, and the policies outlined by him to be followed after his death, to all of which the Directors solemnly bound themselves.

We do not cease to rejoice in the Lord and to give thanks for all the fresh evidences of our acceptance with Him which we have enjoyed during our recent trials. Our privileges are, it is true, somewhat curtailed; but be assured that we stand always ready to serve any of you.
WITH ALL of the mighty power of the Society at his back—the consecrated financial power and the moral power—the President of our Society has done his best to crush to the earth four brethren whose loyalty to the Lord, the Truth and the brethren no one ever before questioned. All of them have been in the service of the Truth for many years, and none of them was the finger of scorn ever before pointed. They worked faithfully with their beloved Pastor until his death, and took up their duties with the new President with renewed determination to support him as loyally as they had supported Brother Russell. They continued to do until they saw that the Charter, Will, and all would be so completely submerged in THE TOWER December 1, 1916. We do well to read Brother Russell's life time. And now, dear brethren, we wish to remain faithful to Brother Russell's memory, his methods and his plans for the future, and wise steward, he first had an understanding with the Board of Directors, reference to which is made in his will, as follows:

"In view of the fact that in donating the journal 'Zion's Watch Tower,' the 'Old Theology Quarterly,' the 'Millennia1 Dawn Scripture Studies,' Books and various other booklets, hymn-books, etc., to the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society, I did so with the explicit understanding that I should have full control of all the interests of these publications during my life, and that after my decease they should be conducted according to my wishes. 1 now herewith set forth the said wishes—my will respecting the same."

The first part of this agreement was carried out during Brother Russell's life time. And now, dear brethren, we come to the second part of it, as expressed in his Will, published in THE TOWER December 1, 1916. We do well to read it frequently to keep its various provisions fresh in mind. Another section reads:

"My object in these requirements is to safeguard the committee and the journal from any spirit of ambition or pride or headship, and that the Truth may be recognized and appreciated for its own sake, and that the Editor may more particularly be recognized as the Head of the Church and the Fountain of Truth."

In these two quotations from the Will, it is evident that Brother Russell expected no successor in his peculiar office as "that wise and faithful servant" (Matthew 24:45-47). And as he wished to safeguard THE WATCH TOWER so that there should be no opportunity for ambition, pride or headship, so it is equally true that Brother Russell never intended that anyone should succeed him in the full control of the Society's interests throughout the wide world, and doubtless for the same reason that he wished to keep down headship. This thought is evidenced in many ways, and by his printed statement to this effect:

"In the event of my death, the Board of Directors will come forward!"

Also a quotation from the Charter, Section VI:

"The Corporation is to be managed by a Board of Directors consisting of seven members."

This will be seen that after Brother Russell's death the Board of Directors became his successors in the control of the Society's affairs, as the Editorial Committee of five became his successors as Editors of THE WATCH TOWER.

ADVERSARY BUSY RAISING DUST CLOUDS

Some of the dear friends seem unable to grasp these truths. On the other hand some appear to grasp them as readily as they did "The Divine Plan." We wonder if the Adversary has been busy raising dust-clouds to obscure these important truths, and to cover them up with false accusations of ambition against the majority members of the Board of Directors. Time after time in Brother Rutherford's "Sittings" we have not been accused of seeking honor, position, etc., but it should be evident to all that only Brother Rutherford's surmises are offered in support of these charges. Thus our earnest endeavors to do our duty and to stand in defense of our Society, and for the protection of its sacred interests, have been so misrepresented as to appear to be evil. Verily again our Adversary is busy by placing "darkness for light and light for darkness."—Isaiah 5:20.

We humbly believe, dear brothers and sisters in the Lord, that not one of us has any ambition, save to be faithful to the trust reposed in us by the Lord and by our beloved Pastor. We recall in this connection the words of our Lord and of the Apostle Paul, as follows:

"It is required in stewards that a man be found faithful; every man according to his several ability."—I Cor. 4:2; Matthew 25:23.

We freely confess that none of us has any great ability; but it is our desire to use to His praise whatever little we have; and as stewards of the Society, we have sought only to be faithful.

BROTHER RUTHERFORD'S METHODS VS. BROTHER RUSSELL'S METHODS

The trouble really had its beginning before the election in Pittsburgh last January. Realizing that he would be elected President of the Society, and knowing that the Charter places the control of the Society's interests in the hands of the Board of Directors, Brother Rutherford, before he started for the election at Pittsburgh, prepared some by-laws to be placed before the shareholders' meeting. In this connection it would be well to quote a part of the Charter of the Society respecting the only body authorized to make by-laws. Section VII reads:

"The Corporation, by its Board of Directors (not the voting shareholders), a majority of whom shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, shall have full power and authority to make and enact by-laws, rules and ordinances, which shall be deemed and taken to be the law of said corporation, and do any and everything useful for the good government and support of the affairs of said corporation."

Notwithstanding this provision in the Charter that the Board of Directors shall make the by-laws, at Brother Rutherford's instance a committee on by-laws was appointed at the Convention in Pittsburgh. To this Committee Brother Rutherford's by-laws were presented, and after deliberating upon them most of the afternoon, the Committee proceeded toward the platform to read them to the Convention, and given the hour set to reconvene the assemblage; but, thinking that the Committee had probably made changes during their long deliberations (against his plan to gain the control), Brother Rutherford held them up for an hour behind the platform while he endeavored to force them to change the by-laws back exactly as he had prepared them, threatening a fight before the Convention if this were not done. Little did the Convention know of what was going on behind the curtain, and little did they realize why the Convention was delayed so long. There were several eye-witnesses of this controversy, besides the Committee, which was composed of Brother Margeson, of Boston; Brother Bricker, of Pittsburgh, and Brother Ostrander, of Cleveland.

BROTHER RUTHERFORD'S BY-LAWS PASSED

The Committee held out courageously against Brother Rutherford, but fearing the threatened light and constant disturbance in the Convention if Brother Rutherford did not have his own way, they finally reported the by-laws as originally prepared by him. We do not believe these facts to show how the Brother managed to take the power from the Board of Directors, and to have it in his own hand. One of the by-laws, which was suggested at the shareholders' meeting, reads:

"The President of the Society shall always be the Executive Officer..."
T WAS NOT long till the Directors recognized that a serious mistake had been made in adopting by-laws that placed the entire management in the President's hands, contrary to the Charter. Although they endeavored to cooperate with him in the direction of the affairs of the Society, they now became objects of persecution and intimidation, chiefly by the President's Representative, who had previously declared some of them that “if they did not get out they would be kicked out.”

We realize, dear brethren, that many of these things will appear strange to you. It seems almost impossible that such a situation could exist among those of like profession, especially in the Behel and the Tabernacle. But such is the fact, and we must all meet the condition sooner or later and deal with it as we believe the Lord would have us do.

POLICEMAN CALLED TO EJECT DIRECTORS

No course has appeared too drastic for the President and his Representative in order to secure and maintain autocratic control of the Society. During Brother Rutherford's absence in July, a rumor reached us that we would not be permitted to enter the Tabernacle office. Astonished, and doubtful that such treatment would be accorded a majority of the Trustees of the Society whose duties would naturally call them to the Tabernacle, we desired information as to whether such an order had been issued and by whom. While seeking this information in the office, we were ordered outside by Brother Macmillan. Believing we had a perfect right in the office, we remained five minutes, when we retired to the Chapel upstairs, where there was no one but ourselves. Presently there approached us Brother Macmillan with a policeman.

"Officer, put these men out!" said the President's Representative.

"Move on, Gentlemen!" said the policeman to the Directors.

"You have no right to put us out, Officer," replied one of the Directors; "we are employed by this Society, and we are not disturbing anybody or anything."

"I have no right to put you out!" responded the policeman. "It is I who should go out instead; and away he went.

The President himself has since this episode expressed his approval and endorsement of this act of violence on the part of Brother Macmillan.

RESOLUTION PRODUCES CRISIS

In view of all that had transpired in the months past, the Directors decided that some action should be taken to undo the mistake in placing such power in the hands of Brother Rutherford's stewards at the beginning of the year. The first step toward rectifying the matter was to repeal the by-laws, thus restoring to the Board its authority as provided in the Charter.

It was at this same time that Brother Johnson's affair came up for consideration. When he returned from England he was given two hearings, in neither of which did he have a fair chance to present his case, and later, learning that there were complications that had not been brought out and adjusted, the Directors gave assurance to Brother Johnson that they were in favor of his having a full and fair hearing. It was at this time, when the Board insisted upon giving the Brother a further opportunity to explain his matters, that Brother Rutherford censured the Directors, telling them that the management was in his hands and that it was none of their business, that he, himself, had settled Brother Johnson's affair. Thus the real issue, the management of the Society, came to the front and led to the resolution to repeal the by-laws.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors in June, before the policeman incident, a resolution was presented to rescind the by-laws. This was the last meeting ever held by the Directors over which Brother Rutherford presided. When the resolution came up the President raised such a storm of opposition that the brethren yielded to his appeal to hold the resolution over until the next meeting, which was announced for July 20th. Although two or three requests were subsequently made for a meeting prior thereto, these were refused by the President until July 17.

BROTHER RUSSELL'S DIRECTORS PUT OUT—BROTHER RUTHERFORD'S PUT IN

The next few weeks were eventful. The President now realized the Directors were fully awake to their responsibilities. He was determined, however, that they should not acquire and use the power delegated to them in the Charter.

The President took a trip to Philadelphia to consult a

LIGHT AFTER DARKNESS

AN APPEAL TO THE VOTING SHAREHOLDERS

BELIEVE that Brother Rutherford has made a very grave mistake in adopting such high-handed methods and we appeal to the consecrated judgment and good sense of the voting shareholders of the Society and to all "Watch Tower" readers everywhere!

We appeal not for any special and personal consideration for ourselves. We are in this controversy merely seeking to act as your representatives. We appeal to you in the interests of our Beloved Society and for your own responsibility as shareholders to protect its welfare and to carry out the wishes and plans of the founder, our dear Pastor, and to arouse you to the fact that violence has been done to these.

This last step of Brother Rutherford was as contrary to Brother Russell's judgment as expressed in the Charter of the Society as the former's endeavor to secure entire control of the Society's affairs. According to the Charter, which we print elsewhere in this pamphlet, no member of the Board of Directors can be removed from office except "by a two-thirds vote of the shareholders" at the annual election held in Pittsburgh the first Saturday in January. And yet the President has gone so far in the direction of grasping further power and control as to forcibly remove four of its members from office and expel them from Bethel!

The question which we have been considering and which each of you must consider is: Is it safe to leave the management of the Society's affairs in the hands of one who shows such disrespect and seeming contempt for Brother Russell's wishes and the safeguards which he endeavored to throw around the management of the work after his death? Is it safe to have the control of the Society so placed that any and all of the workers who come into conflict with the high-handed and autocratic ideas of the President shall be summarily dismissed from Bethel and not permitted, no matter how efficient and desirous of serving, to continue in the work at headquarters? Such is the present condition and it has resulted directly and indirectly in the removal of more than 25 brothers and sisters from the Bethel and Tabernacle within a few weeks.

In this connection it is not remarkable that Brother Rutherford should appoint as new Directors three brethren who live so far from Brooklyn—two at Pittsburgh and one at Scranton. It is worthy of note that Brother Pierson also is not a resident of Brooklyn; in fact lives several hours' journey away. Thus a majority of the new Board is not in close touch with the work, nor able to intelligently supervise the Executive's actions and conduct of the work, unless he sees fit to submit much more comprehensive statements of his activities and the finances of the Society than he has in the past.

BROTHER RUTHERFORD'S LEGAL CLAIMS NOT SUSTAINED

To justify his course in dismissing the four Directors, Brother Rutherford brought forward a Pennsylvania statute which requires that at least three Directors of a Corporation of that State must be residents of the Commonwealth. Upon this he also based his action in appointing the three brethren living in Pennsylvania.

However, a clause in the law reads that this statute is not to apply to Corporations already in existence. The Watch Tower Corporation was chartered several years prior thereto, hence the statute respecting the three Directors from Pennsylvania has no application to the Directors of our Society.

Whether Brother Rutherford overlooked this clause we are not in a position to know. Although he listened to Brother McGee discuss this and other points for an hour before the Philadelphia Church, where both sides of the case were presented, Brother Rutherford, although he followed in rebuttal, never once referred to this fact, nor to any other legal point raised by Brother McGee, who is Assistant to the Attorney General of the State of New Jersey.

In this connection we might add that several lawyers have volunteered opinions upon the merits of this case. Some live in Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey, and without a single exception all have agreed that, even aside from the moral wrong, Brother Rutherford's course is wholly unlawful.

DECLARIES CHARTER MOST REMARKABLE DOCUMENT

Few of the friends of the Truth have not read in the Memorial Number of "The Watch Tower" the oration delivered on the occasion of our Pastor's funeral in the Temple in New York. The oration was delivered by Brother Rutherford, and in order to show his estimate then of the Charter of the Society, we quote from it on page 374, first column, second paragraph, as follows:

"The work [that is the work of the Harvest] grew to great proportions; and, desiring that it might be conducted in a systematic manner and perpetuated after his death, he organized the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society—a corporation, the charter of which was written by his own hand, and is admitted, by men who know, to be a most remarkable document. Through this channel he has promulgated the message of Messiah's Kingdom to all the nations of the earth."

Comment on this seems unnecessary. It speaks for itself. We leave it to sink into the hearts and minds of the Lord's people everywhere and to make its own appropriate impression. Suffice it to say, however, that it must be apparent to all that there has developed a great change in Brother Rutherford's mind between the time of his election and the time he wrote "Siftings"—a period of only seven months.

Showing further the sweeping change in his mind since last December, we quote the following from "The Watch Tower" of December 15th, 1916, page 390, written by Brother Rutherford himself, shortly after Brother Russell's death, which gives an accurate and comprehensive account of the organization and the purpose of the Society:

ORGANIZATION OF THE WORK

"It is recognized that everything must be done decently and in order; that there must be a regular organization to carry on any work.
How, then, may the Harvest work be thus conducted since Brother Johnson is no longer in our midst? Many of the friends throughout the country are asking this and other questions, and we take pleasure in answering:

The Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society was organized in the year 1884 as a means of putting forth the Message of the Kingdom in an orderly and systematic manner. The Corporation is controlled and managed by its Board of Directors and Officers. The Board of Directors is composed of seven members. The Charter of the Corporation provides that the Board of Directors shall be self-perpetuating; that is to say, when a vacancy occurs by death or resignation the surviving members are empowered to fill such vacancy. Brother Russell was a member of the Board of Directors. Two days after his death the Board elected Brother A. N. Pierson as a member of the Board to fill the vacancy caused by Brother Russell’s change. The seven members of the Board as now constituted are A. I. Ritchie, W. E. Van Amburgh, H. C. Rockwell, J. D. Wright, I. F. Hoskins, A. N. Pierson, and J. F. Rutherford.

BROTHER JOHNSON'S CASE NOT THE ISSUE

Doubtless some of our readers will ask: “Did not you four brethren form a league with Brother Johnson and want to send him back to England?” No, dear brethren, we had no such thought. It is in connection with this very point that the highest tide of error and misrepresentation is reached in “Harvest Sittings.”

Throughout the paper the Directors are charged with having come under Brother Johnson’s influence, so that they have espoused his cause and made him their leader and that they were intending to send him back to England, etc.

VIOLENCE IN THE BETHEL

T the close of a conference near noon, Friday, July 27, Brother Rutherford tried to draw the delicate issue into agreement and partially succumbed. Then in a voice of wrath he demanded that if we had any ultimatum to deliver we should deliver it then. When told that we had none, he replied: “Then I have one to deliver to you,” and standing up, he delivered his decree: “My authority in this house has got to be obeyed and you will all get out of this house by Monday noon. Brother Johnson will get out today.” A few moments later there occurred in the Bethel Dining Room a scene which we are loath to report; but we believe you should know the lengths to which these matters have gone in order that you may see the kind of fruitage that now appears.

At the noonday meal, Brother Rutherford reported to the Bethel Family that we would be compelled to leave the Bethel Home by Monday noon. The brethren then considered it their duty to make some statement to the Family. Brother Rutherford wished the Family to hear only his statement; but we persisted, and one of our number said that he wished to read a letter from Brother Pierson stating that he would stand by the old Board. Brother Rutherford refused to let the letter be read, and shouted that Brother Johnson had been directed to see Brother Pierson and to misrepresent the matter to him. Upon Brother Johnson’s firm denial of this, Brother Rutherford hurried to him and using physical force, which nearly pulled Brother Johnson off his feet, said in a fit of passion: “You will leave this house before night; if you do not go out, you will be put out.” Before night this threat was carried into effect. Brother Johnson’s personal effects were literally set outside the Bethel Home and brethren, as watchmen, were placed at various doors to prevent him from entering the house again.

Following is a copy of a letter from Brother Pierson:

BROTHER PIERSON TAKES STAND WITH OLD BOARD

Mr. A. I. Ritchie,

My Dear Brother Ritchie:

I thank you for your favor of the 21st, received last Monday.

Meanwhile I have been waiting on the Lord to know what to say in reply. After reading the letter, the words of the Psalmist came to my mind, reasoning many times since: “The meek will He guide in judgment; and the meek will He teach His way.” Consequently I have taken time to make this reply:

On entering the meeting room at the Bethel a week ago last Tuesday morning I was very much surprised to hear that Brother Rutherford had appointed a new Board, and so expressed myself to those present. Presently, we heard the reading of a letter from a Philadelphia law firm, in which were set forth the facts mentioned in the resolution read before the Bethel Family, viz., that the Board of Directors, as constituted, was not a legal one, therefore its members were not legally directors. Thereupon I expressed the thought that if these brethren were not legally members of the Board of Directors—which position had been held for many years in the eyes of the friends in general—then the fact remains that the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society has never had a legal Board. To this Brother Rutherford assented. I further stated that if it was true, no business had been carried on for so many years that in a manner not entirely in harmony with the requirements of law, it surely could be continued in the same way for a few more months, until another annual meeting. This was not a motion, but merely a criticism or suggestion, upon which no action was taken.

When the Committee which had drawn up the resolution presented it to me, I told them frankly that, while I had nothing whatever against the brethren chosen, I did object to the appointment of a new Board. After bearing the discussion by the different brethren, including Brother McGee’s summing up of the details of the charter, I came to the conclusion that the statements concerning the legal standing of the members of the Board did not place the situation in its true light; for if four of the seven members of the Board were not legally Directors, then the other three, who had been elected by the Board of Directors and who, under the charter, were to have the same standing as far as membership in the Board of Directors is concerned, while the charter, as published in the little blue-covered booklet we received, makes no provision for the selection of the members of the Board of Directors and specifies that “the members of the Board of Directors shall hold their respective offices for life, unless removed by a two-thirds vote of the shareholders.”

I ask why I signed a resolution that was so detrimental to yourself and the other brethren. I felt that there was a measure of wrong on both sides. Some of you brethren had made statements at Philadelphia and other places which called for an explanation, and an explanation was asked by some of your brethren, who asked for such an explanation. This resolution was drawn up by a Committee, whose original intention was to have it published, to which I objected. While I admire Brother Rutherford’s ability and his wisdom in settling many difficult questions from what we have said foregoing in these pages, we believe that all can see that the coupling of Brother Johnson’s affairs with the Board of Directors is an attempt to obfuscate the real issue and the real trouble, which existed before the return of Brother Johnson to America. Since self-exaltation began before there was any trouble about the English case, and since objections to the President’s course were made from January to March, it is manifest that Brother Johnson had nothing to do with our affair. It is absolutely untrue that Brother Johnson became in any sense a leader of the Directors. It is equally untrue that the brethren ever thought of returning him to the English Branch, even though two Committees appointed by the President, one in England and one in America, reported favorably on much of his work.

At no time did the four plan or contemplate deposing Brother Rutherford and making Brother Johnson President, as Brother Rutherford well knew. He and those with him also well know that we did not plot against him to oust him and seize control, to exalt ourselves and humiliate him. Since we frequently assured him, we cannot understand how he could believe and publish the contrary. All we wished to do was to co-operate with him for the good of the work; and we were well pleased that he act as President and presiding officer. But we were not prepared to quietly allow him to set aside our Pastor’s Will and Charter and “lord it over God’s heritage” without a protest. That protest is the cause of all the trouble, even as St. Paul preaching the Truth at Ephesus was mobbed, and then charged with being a disturber of the peace. for the Society, and while I fully believe that it is the Lord's will for our President to act, I cannot approve of some things he did in connection with this matter.

One of my principal weaknesses, as far as I know myself, is that it is very hard for me to say "No," especially to brethren I love so much as I do all the members of the Board, including the brethren newly appointed; in fact, all who are truly the Lord's. When signing the resolution, I had strong hopes that reconciliation might be made between the two parties who differed, and that neither publication of the resolution nor any other explanation from either side might be necessary. Before I signed, however, a number of statements to which I objected were struck out. After being thus modified, it was further agreed that copies of this resolution should be sent not only to Classes and brethren that had heard of the trouble and requested an explanation. I held out for some hours against a thing I did not believe in, but since the brethren had changed it, eliminating some objectionable paragraphs, and agreeing to send it only to inquiring friends, I finally signed, as a compromise.

When our Secretary showed me a copy of the resolution which had been sent to the Class, I could not help but think that it had been sent far and wide to all Classes; and I felt that I had not taken the proper course in signing even after it had been amended. Now that I have reason to believe a general circulation of this resolution has been made, I want to assure you that had I foreseen this I should never have signed the paper. I feel that this has done you four brethren a decided injury, because, in my opinion, none of you has any desire to do any harm to the Society or bring about a division, but that you simply differ with Brother Russell about the control of the Society; that it is your desire to stand by the charter and the principles of Brother Russell, which recognize the Board of Directors as having the control; that I have concluded to take a firmer stand for what I believe is the right, viz., that the appointment of the new members to take the place of the four who were not legally members according to the decision of the Philadelphia law firm was not the proper course, and will therefore stand by the old Board.

A copy of this letter goes to Brother Rutherford. With much Christian love, as ever,

Your brother in Christ,

A. N. PIERSO,
Vice President.

P. S.—You have my permission to make such use of this letter as you may deem wise.

A few days later, after repeated threats by the President to forcibly accomplish their ejection from the Home, the four Directors, though they considered the Bethel their home and as having the same right there as Brother Rutherford and others, decided to submit to the injustice of Brother Rutherford and others, decided to submit to the injustice of Brother Rutherford's orders, and have since gone forth from the Home. It was as a result of Brother Pierson's negotiation and intercession that Brother Rutherford, after threatening to force out those who did not have with him the same allowance as the expenses of the brethren leaving the Home. The sum was $300.00; but in no sense did it represent an adjustment of matters, but merely as making some provision for brethren who after long years of service, now without means, were about to be forced out into the world to start life anew.

To justify this drastic and violent action toward his brethren in thrusting them from the Home that had sheltered them during the long years that they labored harmoniously with Brother Russell, Brother Rutherford and his associates say that it was done because we were disturbing the Bethel Family and the work, and, therefore, done for the good of the Cause. We derive comfort, from Isaiah's prophecy, quoted in the Photo Drama: "Your brethren that hated you, that cast you out for my name's sake, said, Let the Lord be glorified, but He shall appear to your joy, and they shall be ashamed."

At no time has any of us said or done anything against the Bethel Family, or any of the Classes to stir up trouble.

On Wednesday morning, Aug. 22, a copy of the following letter was received by Bros. Hoskins, Hirsh and Ritchie:

"Dear Brother:

"In view of the fact that you no longer have Sunday appointments, we are the directors, in the Peoples Pulpit Ass.; and further, in view of the fact that your clerical cards were secured from the various railroads under the name of the Peoples Pulpit Association, we ask that you return these cards to us in order that we might be protected from what the roads might consider as an injustice toward them. With Christian love,

"Yours in the service of the Redeemer.

"PEOPLES PULPIT ASS.""

From this it is seen that they take away our opportunities of service, and then require us to turn over railroad permits, which do not belong to them. If the managers of the Peoples Pulpit Association are doing their duty they have nothing to fear from the Railroads, nor from us.

DIVISION AT BETHEL

It is proper in this connection to refer also to the support which Brother Rutherford claims from the Bethel Family. The facts are that the President's special representative and others, with the President's official sanction, has for months been secretly carrying on a campaign amongst the Bethel Family and the traveling Pilgrim brethren, spreading false reports regarding the Board members, and prejudicing the minds of the Family against them. Some of the Pilgrim brethren, as they passed through Brooklyn, stopping for a day or two, had these evil things whispered in their ears, and then were sent forth to give them to the Classes. After this campaign had been carried on amongst the Family for some time they began to circulate petitions among the workers to support the President and his management, and to condemn the Directors, the understanding being that all who refused to sign would be dismissed from the service, with the result that many signed these petitions, some because they had been prejudiced, and others because of fearing they would be thrust out of Bethel. Hence the partial list of names of the Bethel Family which appeared in "Siftings." Some who refused to sign these petitions were discharged and some others who signed the petitions have since been dismissed because they disapproved of "Siftings," with its false charges.

THE PRESIDENT'S SPECIAL REPRESENTATIVE

The author of "Harvest Siftings" has something to say about Brother MacMillan's appointment by Brother Russell last August as assistant to the President. Several letters are quoted in support of the fact, and on page 22, bottom of the second column, Brother Rutherford states that "Brothers Hoskins, Hirsh, and Ritchie were displeased with Brother MacMillan's appointment by Brother Russell" and that they had been working against him from the first.

We believe it is enough to say that there has never been the slightest doubt in our minds that Brother MacMillan received such an appointment by Brother Russell last August, nor have we disputed the fact at any time, nor was there the slightest objection in our minds to this appointment by Brother Russell. To the contrary, it is a fact well known to Brother MacMillan that all three of the above-named brethren heartily co-operated with him at the time of his appointment by Brother Russell and for months afterwards. We would say, however, that it is one thing for Brother MacMillan to be Manager under Brother Russell and quite another matter for him to be Manager under Brother Rutherford.

As an example of the turn of mind on the part of Brother MacMillan, the brother approached Brother Hoskins at the time of Brother Russell's funeral in Pittsburg, November 6, and only a few feet removed from the dead body of our Pastor, Brother MacMillan said:

"Brother Hoskins, I have something to say to you that I know will hurt you very much, and I haven't any idea that you have strength of character sufficient to follow my advice; but I am going to tell you, anyway. I think every one of you Directors except Brothers Rutherford and Van Amburgh ought to resign and give a clean slate to men who know something to be put in your places. There is not one of you fit to manage anything, and you ought to resign; and if you don't resign you will, every one of you, get kicked out."

Brother MacMillan has since rendered efficient service to Brother Rutherford in fulfilling his own prophecy—"kicking out" the four members of the Board. And those were the thoughts that were being entertained by him as we stood beside the bier of our great leader, while others bowed their heads in sorrow, considering it a time for deep searching of the heart and drawing near to God.

Preferring not to go into personalities or the details of the conduct of Brother MacMillan we believe that it will be sufficient to say that soon after Brother Russell's death, under loose rein, Brother MacMillan demonstrated his utter unfitness for the position originally assigned him by Brother Russell. In the course of a few months it became evident to the Directors that it was their duty to make some changes with regard to Brother MacMillan's position, even as Brother Russell had often made changes in the position of the brethren when he discovered that they did not properly fit in places he had given them.

That there was any malice or prejudice or jealousy in any of our hearts with regard to him or that any of us were seeking his place we most positively deny. It was purely in the interests of the work and because there were so many complaints regarding Brother MacMillan that the change was desired.

HIGH-HANDEDNESS GOING FROM BAD TO WORSE

Strange indeed that when the mind becomes once bent in a wrong direction, it colors everything to its own liking and can find excuses to justify almost anything; and so the motto of such is “the end justifies the means.”

We come now to some proceedings on the part of Brother Rutherford, assisted by Brothers MacMillan and Van Amburgh—proceedings of which we could not believe these brethren capable, for we could scarcely think them so blind to the principles of justice and righteousness did we not ourselves witness what occurred.

In the late part of July Brother Rutherford announced a meeting of the members of the Peoples Pulpit Association to be held July 31, which he declared was for the purpose of expelling from membership on the Board of Directors and from membership in the Association Brothers Hirsh and Hoskins. The hour arrived and the meeting was called to order with fourteen members present out of a total of some forty members. The charges were read against the two brethren to the effect that they had withdrawn their moral support and were in opposition to the work of the Association. To support these charges several trumped-up accusations were read which the two accused brethren easily and clearly refuted. They denied that they had withdrawn their moral support or that they were working in opposition to the Peoples Pulpit Association, and showed to the contrary that their whole purpose was to sustain and uphold the work in both the Peoples Pulpit Association and the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society, as Brother Russell intended it to be carried on. At the conclusion of the hearing and the answering of the charges the result was that the accusers found that of the members present there was not a sufficient number who would believe their false charges and accusations so as to favor the expulsion.

Then what did they do? With cruel audacity that seems little short of Satanic, and of which we could scarcely believe an ordinary person capable of, these three accused, by Brother Rutherford, gathered together a lot of proxies of various of the Pilgrims, members of the Peoples Pulpit Association, that had been sent in the first of the year for the purpose of voting for officers of the Association at that time. The following is a sample of the proxies:

"Proxy.................................................1917."

"To.......................... a member of the Peoples Pulpit Association;

"You are hereby authorized to act as my proxy and cast my vote at the annual meeting of the Peoples Pulpit Association to be held at the office of the Corporation, at 124 Columbia Heights, Brooklyn, N. Y., on the 10th day of January, 1917."

(Signed)"

These proxies, which were intended only for the election of the officers in January, were from brethren who were absent and heard nothing of the charges brought against Brothers Hoskins and Hirsh on July 31. These proxies were taken and used for the purpose of voting these two brethren out of office, and thus accomplished their expulsion from the Directors of the Association, when if the vote had been taken merely of those present who heard the charges and who only were capable of judging, the charges and the attempt at expulsion would have fallen to the ground. And though seven of those present earnestly protested against such highhanded methods, no heed was given to their protests.

We are advised by good authority that such acts and conduct are subject to criminal indictment and that if carried to the courts would meet with swift and severe punishment.

Amongst the proxies held by Brother MacMillan of the brethren absent at the meeting, was that of Brother Paul E. Thomson, formerly of the Bethel Home, later of Detroit, Mich. Brother MacMillan, evidently feeling some apprehension regarding this illegal use of the proxies, wrote to Brother Thomson to secure his endorsement of his act. Brother Thomson wrote a reply which we append: Further comment on this is unnecessary:

"Dear Brother MacMillan,

"Failure of the controversy Harfust Siftings you sent me to arrive has delayed my reply to your letter asking my approval of your action in using my proxy for the removing of Brothers Hirsh and Hoskins from the Board of Directors of the Peoples Pulpit Association. I have just finished the reading of a borrowed copy of the Siftings." "Without evidence additional to that contained in 'Harvest Siftings' I would not have cast my vote against the Brothers mentioned. My one reading leaves no definite charges against them, but merely surmisings. If surmisings were to hang people you and Brother Rutherford would have been strung up long ago by my side.

"As I recall it, my proxy was given for the yearly election of officers and not for the making of any changes in the Board. In that case you were wrong in using it as you did and the Brothers should have a fair vote on the matter. For that reason I am sending your letter and a carbon of mine to them for their information.

"Please do not understand that I have lost confidence in the judgment of yourself or Brother Rutherford. I merely never had absolute confidence in the judgment of anyone. We are all finding it easier to be wrong than to be right. Some are wrong this time and it is two out of four in whom I have had about equal confidence in the past. I trust that you are all trying to be right and I hope that some day we will be.

"I suppose no further use will be made of my proxy. It is not my wish that there be any further voting done with it.

"Be assured of continued love for you, Brother Mac, and that you have a daily interest in my petition.

"Your brother by His grace, Paul E. Thomson."

"Detroit, Mich."

The Brooklyn "Eagle" recently published a statement describing the disturbed condition of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society and the Bethel Home, and Brother MacMillan in his letter to Brother Thomson charges that the "opposition" (referring to the Board of Directors) had given the information to the "Eagle." We would say that none of the members of the Board had anything to do with getting the statement in the "Eagle," nor do any of these brethren have any knowledge whatsoever of how the information reached the "Eagle," except it might have been through the calling in of the policeman at the Tabernacle by Brother MacMillan himself.

NO LAW SUIT

We are charged in "Harvest Siftings" with great wrong because we consulted an attorney with regard to some legal matters; but it was not until the President himself had repeatedly told us that certain portions of the Charter were illegal that we considered it our duty to consult an attorney, who is a brother, well established in the Truth. And his advice, which proved to be sound, revealed to us that Brother Rutherford's legal opinion was very unsound. Then the President made a trip to Philadelphia to consult a lawyer there with the purpose of securing a legal opinion which would justify his declaring the Board illegal. Was it wrong for us to get legal advice when we saw one after another of the wise safeguards devised by our Pastor being swept away? It was not our desire to go into court proceedings. But though we have discharged our obligation thus far in making known these conditions to the Board of Directors, having witnessed events leading up to the present situation at headquarters. Briefly, the situation is that all who do not approve the President's course and conduct are one by one being required to leave the work here. This has already affected four of us, together with our families as respects residence at Bethel, and three of us with respect to the work as well, and while Brother Hirsh, by the President's order, may no longer live at Bethel, as a member of the Editorial Committee he continues to work at his desk.

RE PEOPLES PULPIT ASSOCIATION

EALIZING the weakness of his position and his inability to legally maintain full control of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society, because the Charter states that the corporation shall be managed by the Board of Directors, Brother Rutherford finally comes forward in "Harvest Siftings" with a new argument, which it would seem is but another effort to conceal the real issue.

On page 16 he brings forward the Peoples Pulpit Association, saying that as President of that Association he has full control of all the affairs of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society in the State of New York, with the result that he would nullify and make void the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society and establish as the dominant factor in the work the Peoples Pulpit Association. As a matter of fact the very reverse is the case—that the Society is the controlling Corporation. We can do no better than quote Brother Russell's explanation in "The Watch Tower" of December 1, 1915, page 359, years after the Peoples Pulpit charter was copied from the charter of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society—with the exception of a few words. The explanation mentioned is as follows:

"The whole management is by the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society and the auxiliary organizations merely help in carrying on its work. We sometimes use one name and sometimes another, just as anyone would have the right to use any name appropriate to his work. It is equally appropriate to say that we are the International Bible Students Association. We are Bible students, and are helping Bible students in all parts of the world by the printed page, by financial assistance and in other ways. It is also appropriate to use the name Peoples Pulpit Association in connection with persons who are engaged in preaching and are acting under guidance of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society.

THE WILL DISCREDITED AND DECLARED ILLEGAL

EVELY had Brother Russell's body grown cold in death until his Will was declared to be not in "legal form," and therefore not binding, or obligatory. We understand that when he wrote it in 1907, he well knew this; and it is our thought that he designedly left it so to reveal whether those who would follow him in authority would have sufficient respect for him and his expressed wishes, to faithfully follow them, even if the civil law did not compel them to do so. The events of the last eight months have evidenced the great wisdom he showed.

Paragraphs 15 and 16 are a very important part of the will; and reveal in part how our Pastor arranged that his wishes in regard to the management of the Society after his decease would be safeguarded, by arranging that his voting shares be used by five sisters to endeavor to elect only such men as President, Vice-President and Secretary-Treasurer as they had good reason to think would closely follow the letter and spirit of the Charter and the Will. Such an arrangement would surely commend itself to every right intimated person. You will be surprised to learn that our President almost at once took exception to this arrangement, and hinted that the whole Will and arrangement was "illegal." He procured a long legal opinion from a local firm of attorneys, which was used to prevent the sisters from voting the shares at the election at Pittsburgh on January 6. It was claimed that these shares were donated to the Society in connection with persons who are engaged in preaching and are acting under guidance of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society.
previously, on certain terms (which they were disregarding) was overlooked, and these Sisters have been the trustees of these voting shares ten years prior to his death, and his death, therefore, would not make void their right to vote those shares. Thus was another safeguard made by "that wise and faithful servant" against the possible seizing of the Society's income and trust funds by ambitious men destroyed. We can see no harm that could come to anyone by allowing the shares to be voted according to the Will; and we see much danger from their cancellation. When any arrangement of the Pastor's does not suit the new President, he usually finds a way to declare it "illegal"; but if it will be to his advantage, he uses it and refers to him "that wise and faithful servant."

If the sisters' committee, authorized by the Will, has no legal existence, is it not true that the Editorial Committee, which has no other authority for its existence, is equally illegal?

THE PRESIDENT'S MANAGEMENT

The President has expressed overconfidence in stating that nothing has been found wrong with his conduct of the affairs of the Society. Unfortunately, several important matters seem to have been poorly handled during his administration; namely, the Photo Drama, the sale of which was announced by the President at the Pittsburgh Convention as evidently the Lord's Will, but which was afterward forced back upon the Society.

It is well known that the Angelophone has until recently been poorly handled, and has caused the writing of hundreds of letters of complaint by the friends. This could have been avoided very largely by keeping on with Brother Russell's plan respecting this enterprise, his instructions being to have new records made at once in case his voice was not satisfactory.

Many efforts were made to have the President follow these instructions, but he could not be persuaded until a settlement came from the business as it went to Brother Ritchie. His reply was: "I love to have it in the hands of distant news-ends, and close it."

This biography of Brother Rutherford first appeared in some of the newspapers of the country the day after his election, although these conditions were known to him, under oath, to testify that Brother Hirsh "composed the article" on the last two pages of the Memorial Number of "The Watch Tower"—a biography of Brother Rutherford—only the Brother himself is competent to say. At any rate, he went a long distance out of his way to show to the President that he is with him heart and soul. If Brother Hirsh were the author of the biography he would not be ashamed of it. There would have been no wrong committed in his composing it. In fact, it would have been much more appropriate for him to compose it than for some other person—for instance the President.

We had thought we would never mention this matter to anyone; but since the dear brother swears that Brother Hirsh "composed the article," and Brother Rutherford for some reason has seen fit to publish the sworn statement in his "Siftings," we can see no good reason why our lips should be longer sealed.

This biography of Brother Rutherford first appeared in some of the newspapers of the country the day after his election. In order to have it in the hands of distant newspapers for publication the day following Brother Rutherford's election, it was necessary that it be prepared a week or more in advance. This was done at Brother Hirsh's suggestion, but it was not composed by Brother Hirsh, who saw it for the first time when Brother Rutherford himself handed it to him.

With the exception of some necessary reductions in size the article is practically word for word as it was originally.

Brother Wisdom, too, has gone far out of his way to please the President. His letter published in "Siftings" seems characteristic. We well remember last summer at Niagara Falls convention, when the thermometer was a hundred or more in the Convention Hall, and everybody was ready to melt, this same brother, for an hour or more, greatly to the distress of his hearers and the chairman, rosted the late Brother Abbott—and this was long after some matter had been published in his paper and adjustment had been made. It is said that Brother Wisdom while traveling at the Society's expense, kept up this form of persecution for some time.

We were not surprised to learn that this same brother has turned both his tongue and his pen against us. Our conversation with him was so satisfactory to himself that the time as to cause him to say three times, "I cannot say that you are wrong." Instead of Brother Hirsh seeking the conversation on the train, the brother himself said, "When you get located in your sleeper ahead, come back to me." It is observed in this Brother's letter that he was talking not only with his brother but with other brethren at Brooklyn and has things so jumbled as to make it practically impossible to treat his letter seriously. He has added rumor to rumor. There is a proverb to the effect that a lie will travel around the world while truth is getting her boots on. And how true this is of Brother Rutherford's "Siftings"! He has sent it to all parts of the earth.

SLIPS OF BROTHER RUTHERFORD'S PEN

On page 12, of "Harvest Siftings," of second column, Brother Hoskins is quoted as saying "We, the Board, are the managers and we will give the orders." Brother Hoskins made no such statement, nor was there even the suggestion in his mind of expressing any such spirit. When Brother Rutherford stated before the Board members that the entire management was in his hands and that it was none of the Board's business, Brother Hoskins merely noted it. Article VI of the charter, "The Corporation is to be managed by a Board of Directors consisting of seven members."

Again, on the same page, Brother Rutherford quotes Brother Hoskins as saying, "We have been consulting lawyers and we know what we can do." Again the quotation is misleading. Instead of the above, Brother Hoskins in the presence of the Board members quietly said, "Since you told us last week at the meeting that the shareholders made the by-laws at Pittsburgh which gave you your power, we thought you might be mistaken, and in the meantime I have consulted an attorney who has informed me that you were in error on the point in question."

Again on page 12, "Siftings" charges us with saying, "The Board of Directors are not answerable to the shareholders." No such statement was made by any of us. What we did say was, that since the charter of the Society gives the power to the Directors to make by-laws, therefore those by-laws which originated with Brother Rutherford, were not legal and binding merely because they were at his suggestion formally passed by the shareholders.

Again, on page 17, first column, one of the members of the Board of Directors is quoted as saying: "There will be no meeting of the Board of Directors today; you understand that." Against all truth is lacking instead of the above, the following is the truth: The brother referred to approached Brother Rutherford and asked him about a matter and Brother Rutherford replied: "That matter will be settled at the Board meeting this morning." And to this the brother quietly answered, "I believe, Brother Rutherford, there will be no meeting of the Board this morning."

Another slip of our brother's pen is found on page 17, bottom of first column of "Harvest Siftings." It is claimed that Brother Hirsh said to Brother Rutherford: "If you will put me back on the Board, I will go to Philadelphia tonight and make it more than right with them and satisfy everybody." Yet Brother Hirsh denies this absolutely, as also did not the slightest thought of offering Brother Rutherford a bribe for anything. Besides, he denies Brother Rutherford's legal right or power to put him off the Board. So, of course, he did not ask to be put back.

Still another is found on page 23, first column, first paragraph, from Brother Wright where "Harvest Siftings" says that he "has said several times since the trouble began that he had been dragged into this affair and induced to believe that if he did not stand by the other three he would be unfaithful; that he wished he was out of it." Brother Wright has three times in the presence of his accusers denied making any such statement or anything to that effect. Yet Wright has let slip into anything, for he has from the first been heart and soul with the other members in defense of the principles of our Society.

On page 17, first column, and page 23, second column, of his "Siftings," Brother Rutherford states that one of the brethren cancelled his appointment at Bridgeton, N. J., in order to meet one of the other brethren in Philadelphia. One of these brethren did have an appointment at Bridgeton on Sunday morning, which he failed to fulfill on account of missing train connections, but he had no appointment whatever Sunday evening; when in passing through Philadelphia he met some friends who insisted that he remain there for the evening service.

SOME OF PRESIDENT'S FAVORITE NAMES

Since our dear Brother Sturgeon's name was unnecessarily and improperly brought into this matter by means of this so-called "Harvest Siftings," we believe that the friends everywhere, who have a special love for him on account of his faithful devotion to our dear Pastor during the time of his greatest sufferings and need, will be pleased to know that our dear brother is endeavoring, by the Lord's grace, to be just as faithful to Brother Russell now that he has gone, as he was previous to his departure. He believes that this present controversy is one that primarily concerns the Board of Directors and the President of the Society, and is willing therefore, for the Lord to make His decision known in His own way and time, until which time he is quietly waiting on the Lord, "doing with his might what his hands find to do," since he has been carefully kept off of all Boards and Committees since Brother Russell's death, saving that of the Executive Committee. We are putting this in because we believe the friends will appreciate our so doing, since we are all concerned to know the Truth, and nothing but the Truth.

It will now scarcely surprise our readers to learn that even Brother Sturgeon has come under the wrath of our President, having been called such names as Judas and traitor.

IN RE THE PARABLE OF THE "PENNY"

The author of "Harvest Siftings," together with some of his sympathizers, are now freely applying the Parable of the Penny to the present circumstances and saying that the "Penny" is the Seventh Volume and that the "murmurers" are those "Trustees" whom Brother Rutherford has expelled from Bethel. But let us see how this application fits. In the first place none of the Directors who are falsely accused of being the "murmurers" knew anything about the issuing of the seventh volume in advance of the time it was given out.

Further, the matter of the seventh volume was entirely outside of the issues under discussion on that occasion. None of the brethren accused of being "murmurers" said anything about the seventh volume until after any feeling against the volume. And be it known further that none of the brethren so charged did any murmuring whatsoever upon that occasion. None of their statements were complaints or in defense of themselves, but simply protests in the name of the Lord against the false charges and high-handedness of the President's methods, against his gross violation of the Charter of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society and Brother Russell's Will. It was the solemn duty of these Trustees to make this protest on that occasion. We repeat: Not once did we refer, either in thought or word, to the Volume.

If this be indeed "murmuring" then it is proper to say that our dear Pastor during his entire life time was a "murmurer," for he never ceased to protest against the false doctrines and practices of Christendom and all forms of unrighteousness. And so were the Reformers of old "murmurers" because they lifted up their voices in protest against the sin of violence of Christendom. And in the same sense our Lord was the greatest of all "murmurers," for he also ceased not to protest against the hypocrisy and deception of the Scribes and Pharisees.

Consequently, the brethren who are accused of "murmuring" on the afternoon of July 17th are happy to be classed along with Brother Russell, with the Reformers, and with our Lord Jesus, none of whom were really "murmurers," but were led of the Spirit of God to make bold protest against the sin and evil of their time.
OUR PASTOR'S DYING MESSAGE

“Setting the House in Order”

E HAVE followed Brother Rutherford's advice in "Harvest Settings," and have read with profit the article of our Pastor published in the November 1, 1916, Watch Tower, entitled "The Hour of Temptation." In fact, so impressed have we been by it, and so convinced that it has a special application at this time, that we have copied a portion of it, adding the word Society after the word Classes where the latter appears:

"The selection of improper leaders is evidently a sin, and quite a reflection against the Classes who have the improper leaders. How could such get into positions to represent the Lord's people, except by the latter's votes? When will the Lord's people learn that ability to talk in public is only one of the qualifications of an Elder? Time and again we have noted how the Lord's Cause has been hindered, and spiritualism amongst the brethren has been stifled, by attempts to imitate the nominal church in putting forward persons glib of tongue, lacking in spirituality.

"In such a case, is it not pride on the part of the Class (Society)—a desire to make a fair show in the flesh before the world? If not, why do they elect such persons? If they have made a mistake, why do they not at once rectify it in a quiet and positive manner? When Elders seek to bring the Class (Society) under their power and control and succeed, does it not show that the Class (Society) lacks the very quality that the Lord tells us He desires to see—courage, overcoming? And does the Class (Society) not injure such a would-be ruler, as well as itself, by permitting him to succeed in his unscriptural methods?

"Deceiving and Being Deceived"

"We have already alluded to the ambitious and selfish spirit in the world leading on to anarchy; and we have just pointed out how the same selfish, ambitious spirit is leading on to anarchy in the Church. We foresee a Time of Trouble for the world upon this score, and a Time of Trouble also for the Church. The world cannot purge itself of this class; for the leaders and the led have the worldly spirit, which is sure to wax worse and worse. But not so in the Church of Christ. Ours is the spirit of the Master, the spirit of loyalty to Truth, the spirit of the Golden Rule, the spirit of brotherly love, the spirit of liberty and helpfulness, the spirit of fidelity to what we believe to be the Truth. It is inexcusable for the Church, possessed of this spirit, to continue under the domination of ambitious men (andsometimes ambitious women). If they have not been conducting their Class (Society) affairs along proper lines, should they not begin at once? We believe that this is the time in which to set the House of the Lord in order.

"But some one will say, 'We would have a great disturbance if we attempted to do anything contrary to the wishes of those who have fastened themselves upon us as our leaders and rulers. To make a move at all, would endanger a division of the Class (Society), and how could we think of anything which would result in that catastrophe?'

"But, we inquire, which would be the better, to have a smaller Class (Society) operating along the lines which the Lord has indicated, or a larger Class (Society) upholding principles contrary to the Lord's provision, injuring themselves, hindering their influence, and encouraging as a leader one who is either a 'wolf' or else a 'sheep' which has been mistakenly misled into the wolf spirit? We encourage all the dear brethren who are in such trouble to be very heroic; to see that they do nothing from strife or vain-glory, but everything in the spirit of meekness and love, that they may get back again to the liberty wherewith Christ made free, and be not again entangled in any human bondage."

"WHO SHALL BE ABLE TO STAND"

"Re dear Brethren and Sisters in Christ, we seem to be at the parting of the ways—the strait and narrow way, and the way of the unfaithful. "Who shall be able to stand?"

"Shall you? Shall I?"

We trust we may have learned the principles of truth and righteousness so well that we can stand for these, even if we cannot stand so well for the actions of our supposedly best earthly friends. Would we rather stand by the Lord, the truth, and those brethren who stand for principle, than to go with the majority, for the majority's sake? If so, it is well.

Our difficulties have brought us many letters. Some write us deploring the unpleasant situation; others grasp the situation accurately and are awaiting our further statement. Many have assured us they are praying for us and for all concerned. Would that we might be able to do something that would right things, and restore peace to all. We trust, moreover, that our present effort may help some of the Lord's dear people.

Dear brethren, let us look this present trouble straight in the face and take it to the Lord in prayer, determined that we will not allow our hearts to be embittered against anyone.

Let us also be careful how we receive the so-called Seventh Volume. It may be the true Seventh Volume as Brother Russell intended it, or it may not be.

One thing we feel certain of, namely, there are some fanciful interpretations in that volume, and some things that we do not hesitate to say are errors in doctrine—teaching—if we get the writer's thought—that the minds of God's little ones, who are faithful, should become "the open battleground for evil spirits." "He that is begotten of God keepeth himself and that wicked one toucheth him not."

Let us watch, then, and keep ourselves "in the love of God." Let us keep ourselves from all evil. Let us hold that fast which we have, that no man take our crown. Let us hold fast to our privilege of prayer, and of service in any and every way that falls to our lot. Meanwhile, let us not think it strange when fiery trials come upon us as though some really strange thing had happened unto us. Let us not become discouraged, and begin to draw back, allowing bitter feelings to come in and make us feel hard toward anyone. Let us "Watch and pray."

"God be with you till we meet at Jesus' feet."

"Praying always, with all prayer and supplication in the spirit, and watching thereunto with all perseverance, and supplication for all saints."
AN OPEN LETTER TO THE SHAREHOLDERS OF THE SOCIETY

Freehold, N. J.,
August 15th, 1917.

MESSRS. PIERSON, RITCHIE, WRIGHT, Hoskins and Hirs, Box 179, Brooklyn, N. Y.

DEAR BRETHREN:

You have invited me to write a statement of my connection in advising you as brethren and as Directors of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society. I understand that you sought my assistance as a brother in the Truth who has some knowledge of the law, because I am a member of the legal profession. I have not, however, been your lawyer, as you have paid counsel, a very reputable firm of high class lawyers, to whom I introduced you.

I symbolized my consecration by water immersion at the Memorial season (March), 1905, in the presence of the Philadelphia Church, having become thoroughly interested and having accepted the Truth in 1903, this season being the first opportunity I had the knowledge to undergo baptism by the use of water. I have never missed the season of fellowship with the brethren at the Annual Memorial since that time. I made the Vow my own in (I think) 1908. I was recommended by the Trenton Ecclesia for the Auxiliary...
Pilgrim work, and did some slight work in this way. I was for years the senior Elder of the Trenton Ecclesia. I was a witness, who testified at the trial, for Brother Russell in his action against the Brooklyn Eagle, at the written request of Brother Rutherford.

Since moving to Freehold I have the privilege of testifying in Court here before our fellow citizens concerning the doctrines which we believe, to our consequent disadvantage in the town. Since living here in Freehold, I did the legal work for the company which was incorporated to take care of the Gazette which Brother Woodworth invented. Brother Rutherford, withBrothers Pierson, Ritchie and Woodworth, spent the day here in Freehold in that matter. I have answered the V. D. M. Questions and was notified in writing by the Society that I had passed the required 85 per cent. in the writing by the Society that I had passed the required 85 per cent.

Brother Rutherford says he knew and to whom he telegraphed from Michigan. If I had known that it provided that the by-laws should be made by the Society, then I might recite many more in order that the friends would understand that the lawyer whom Brother Rutherford says he knew and to whom he telegraphed from Duluth, Minnt., is a brother in the Truth.

Brother Rutherford states on page one of his "Harvest Sittings" that you consulted a lawyer who is "not too friendly toward the Truth." This statement is untrue and I wrote him that his statements concerning me in his pamphlet are false, and that he is experienced enough to know that that is not the proper way to reply to proper criticisms of his legal attainments. I am delivering discourse here regularly on Sundays to the consecrated able to attend and to others. I mention these matters (and might recite many more) in order that the friends will understand that the lawyer whom Brother Rutherford says he knew and to whom he telegraphed from Duluth, Minnt., is a brother in the Truth.

I wrote no such statement to Brother Hoskins on July 4th, nor at any time, nor to anyone else, in the provision that the proclamation shall contain a statement of the objects of the work. I did happen to write to Brother Hoskins, replying to a letter from him dated the 30th of July, 1917, I wrote to Brother Hoskins, replying to a letter from him dated the 30th of July, 1917, I wrote as follows: "You submit to me several questions. I am unable to answer your question suggesting that the President of the Society with others may be engaged in endeavoring in the meantime (that is, while away from Brooklyn) to prevent the adoption of a charter by the Pennsylvania statute as it was worded when the Society was organized and as it is worded now. We found that it provided that the by-laws shall be made by the shareholders unless the charter provided some other body or some other method. I told him then or later that in New York or New Jersey the statute provided that if the power to make by-laws was delegated to the directors that nevertheless that power still remained in the shareholders, but that the Pennsylvania statute did not reserve that right to the shareholders. I told him that the Directors, who by the Charter of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society were given the power to make by-laws and ordinances, had the power if they thought those suggested by the shareholders at Pittsburgh last January were harmful to the best interests of the work; that they could alter them by passing new by-laws and new ordinances, as they saw proper. I also called his attention to the fact that the Act permitted the shareholders to alter the law and that if the shareholders desired that the by-laws be altered they should alter them. I told him that the shareholders at the time of the trial, while examining the law and decisions, that if he desired a thorough-going opinion he would better employ counsel to look into the matter thoroughly. I told him that the advice I had given him had been given within my knowing which way he personally viewed the matter or what he wished to accomplish or prevent. He answered, "No, Brother McGe, I have not told you.”

I learned then or at our next interview that the majority of the Board of Directors, who body I will hereafter refer to as "the Directors," did not approve of the way in which the Society's affairs under the present management, were being conducted, and that was due to some extent to the authority being exercised by Brother MacMillan. I personally expressed my own thought that my idea of Brother MacMillan was that he did not seem to possess sufficient mental balance and sound intellectual equipoise—in other words, wisdom—to fit him for such a difficult and responsible position. Brother Hoskins then went back to look into the matter.

Exactly at this point in the proceedings I asked myself as to what would be the proper course for me to pursue if further called upon in the matter. I decided that if any brother called upon me to know the legal right of a matter for his own personal guidance that it would be perfectly proper for me to furnish such information and legal assistance that I could give. The first member of the Board of Directors to call to see me about the affairs of the Society was Brother Ritchie. He said that he was interested in the Angelophone, and that Brother Russell had thought it proper to refer the matter to me. I said that I would take the matter up with Brother Russell and that we should hold thought it proper to refer the matter to me. He brought a written statement with him showing how the matter stood legally, but I gave him such assistance for his personal guidance as I could, and he went away. I doubt if he received much help from me and that is all I know about that statement. I marveled at Brother Ritchie's self-control and successful effort not to talk about any personal or party interest. I read it he made mention of no names in stating who opposed the continuance of the Angelophone. He did say that he was afraid that ultimately trouble would break out, because of the way affairs were being conducted at Brooklyn.

Some weeks later Brother Hoskins called to see me. He stated that he would like to know if the Directors of the Society have power to pass by-laws repealing or altering by-laws passed by the shareholders, if found advisable in the opinion of members of the Board, for the best interests of the Society. I replied, "Let us examine the statute of Pennsylvania on the subject of corporations and see what that statute provides." We examined the statute and found that it provided that the by-laws should be made by the shareholders unless the charter provided some other body or some other method. I told him then or later that in New York or New Jersey the statute provided that if the power to make by-laws was delegated to the directors that nevertheless that power still remained in the shareholders, but that the Pennsylvania statute did not reserve that right to the shareholders. I told him that the Directors, who by the Charter of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society were given the power to make by-laws and ordinances, had the power if they thought those suggested by the shareholders at Pittsburgh last January were harmful to the best interests of the work; that they could alter them by passing new by-laws and new ordinances, as they saw proper. Exactly at this point in the proceedings I asked myself as to what would be the proper course for me to pursue if further called upon in the matter. I decided that if any brother called upon me to know the legal right of a matter for his own personal guidance that it would be perfectly proper for me to furnish such information and legal assistance that I could give. He said that he was interested in the Angelophone, and that Brother Russell had thought it proper to refer the matter to me. I said that I would take the matter up with Brother Russell and that we should hold me to tell him if I could do so, even and especially if I did not know his own personal feelings and wishes in the matter. I also asked the Directors that as they were the lawful managing members of the Society—the managing partners or trustees, if you will, for the owners, the shareholders—that in helping the Board I would be assisting the duly constituted authority in the Society and that I could not properly do anything else without opposing those providentially provided to supervise affairs, including the acts of the Executive officers, who are by law the agents of the Directors.

I understand that at the Directors' meeting of June twentieth last it was intimated or suggested to Brother Rutherford that there should be some adequate by-laws passed by the Board for the conduct of the Society. (As far as I know or as far as "the Directors" knew, there were none except the very incomplete ones passed at Pittsburgh by the shareholders at Brother Rutherford's insistence, which were drawn by him before he was elected President and which were causing the trouble.)

Brother Rutherford put the Directors off at that time, and as he states in his "Harvest Sittings" (page 12, col. 2, par. 1) the meeting of the Board was adjourned until June 20. He then went away on a trip. Others also went away on trips.

Shortly afterwards I received a telephone message from Brother Hoskins saying that there had been some trouble at the Tabernacle and asking me to come over that evening. I did so, arriving at the Bethel about 9 P. M. I was thereupon shown to an apartment nearby, where I met the Directors, namely, Brothers Wright, Ritchie, Hirsh and Hoskins, composing the majority of the Board of Directors.

It developed that previously a set of rules had been promulgated by Brother Rutherford as President of the Peoples Pulpit Association, to which all the Bethel family had, in all innocence, agreed spontaneously, including the Directors, to the effect that all folks, except officers or committees, not employed at the Tabernacle should not be permitted there during working hours. On this particular day, during Brother Rutherford's absence, somehow the Directors were informed that talk was rife that none of them were to be allowed at the Tabernacle. These four brethren, Messrs. Ritchie, Wright, Hoskins and Hirsh, whose work had been so arranged as to require them all at Bethel and not at the Tabernacle, were amazed, as they had never thought, they say, that the rules were intended to be binding upon the Society's Trustees, who are legally officers of the Society, and especially two of them who were also Directors of the Peoples Pulpit Association. They thereupon concluded to call upon Brother Martin at the Tabernacle and inquire as to the full import of the edict which had gone forth. They had no other motive except to learn the situation.

When the four Directors (two also Directors in the Peoples Pulpit Ass'n) inquired of Brother Martin, Brother MacMillan came forward and ordered the four out of the place (including his fellow Directors in the Peoples Pulpit Ass'n). They declined to go. Brother Rutherford states in his "Harvest Sittings" that Brother Hirsh shook his fist at Brother MacMillan. Brother Hirsh denies this, saying he shook his finger at Brother MacMillan, in which denial the other Directors concur as to his."
was termed a bomb, which was to be exploded upon his return from the West—this in spite of his telegram that matters would be properly adjusted upon his return about the 18th.

The brethren asked what he could do, as they had heard he thought of working the affairs through some rival Society altogether. I told them that they were the duly recognized authority entitled to control affairs and I did not see how he could do anything very serious when they were acting lawfully. I could hardly believe that the friends would prefer to allow Brother Rutherford to act illegally and disregard the law, acting as if the opinion of a lawyer was the judgment of a Court, and would stand by and see him oust their rightful representatives from the protection and control of their affairs. I had already advised them that only the shareholders could amend the Charter of the Society.

After Brother Rutherford returned from the West I received, at Trenton on July 17, a telephone message during the forenoon from Brother Hoskins saying that the President, Brother Rutherford, had called a meeting of the Trustees in Brooklyn last (for the 8 A. M. that morning and had notified the Trustees of the Society—Pierson, Hirsch, Ritchie, Wright and Hoskins—that there would be a Directors' meeting of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society at 9 A. M. How Brother Rutherford could call Brothers Hirsch, Ritchie, Wright and Hoskins to a Directors' meeting in Brooklyn on July 17, when on July 12 at Pittsburgh he had secretly appointed Broth- ers Spill, Bohnet, Fisher and MacMillan as members of the Board in their places, I cannot understand. In other words, on July 17, in Brooklyn, he called brethren to a Directors' meeting whom he had previously displaced, when there were other brethren whom he claimed were members by his own appointment, as of July 12 at Pittsburgh.

He further called the meeting of the Board of Directors and also of the spurious board in Brooklyn, where he said it could not be held.

Brother Hoskins informed me over the telephone that Brother Rutherford had announced at the breakfast table at Bethel that he hoped all would be present at the noon meal, as he expected "a strenuous day." The Directors wished me to come over and be at the table. I complied with their request. Brother Rutherford said at the conclusion of the meal that he had some announcements to make. He would, he trusted, happily, thought he had made up his mind to get together with the Directors, and that all trouble was done away with. He had an opinion read from a Philadelphia lawyer, holding that the four brethren—Hirsch, Hoskins, Wright and Ritchie—were not on the Board of Directors. In fact, the gist of the matter was that the only legal Directors were the President, Vice-President and Treasurer, who had been elected as such at Allegheny. The New York lawyers of the Directors later advised them that according to the New York Court of Appeals such an election to office did not of itself constitute them members of the Board of Directors, and at any rate it followed as a matter of course that in January last (if Brother Rutherford and his Philadelphia lawyer are correct) Brother Rutherford was not a Director at the time he was elected President and he was not qualified, therefore, to hold the office of President, so his present title to the office would be invalid. On the other hand, if the Directors were rightfully so as "holdovers," then they are so still, and others cannot fill their places until the shareholders do so at the next meeting. Brother Rutherford announced that he had appointed these other brethren to the so-called vacant posts of Directorship. He also announced that the seventh volume was ready for distribution. He said further that it had not been intended to distribute it so soon, but know- ing of the trouble brewing they had hurried up the putting of it out.

In other words, he knew the trouble was to be precipitated of his own motion on that day. He invited all hands there to receive the seventh volume, knowing full well that at that time he intended to announce that he had taken the law into his own hands, an unlawful thing to do, and that he intended to get together with the rightful authorities from their lawful place. Of course, protests were made against this surprisingly wilful course. I advised the spurious members not to accept the places offered them, and Brother Pierson says he advised Brother Rutherford to go along with the proper Board of Directors which he had had lawfully recognized and met with.

Brother Rutherford instead labored with Brother Pierson, the latter says, for several hours and finally induced him unwillingly to sign resolutions to the effect that no other than Brother Rutherford in the church is so well qualified as he is to do this work; or could have received at the Lord's naming other evidences of His love and favor. Brother Pierson afterwards concluded he was in error in signing the resolutions and decided, in writing, to stand by the old Board.

The Pennsylvania Courts have held that the Directors shall elect (as the statute provides) Directors to fill vacancies until the next shareholders' election for Directors in the manner provided in the Charter, not by-laws, and have said that Directors may not declare other Directors' offices vacant and then fill the vacancies. If that be so, it is clear that the President of the Society may not do what the Directors may not do, if for no other reasons than that the judgment of a Court, and would stand by the very in- complete and meager by-laws drafted at Pittsburgh neces- sarily needed to be largely added to, not merely amended. The lawyers were not consulted for the purpose of going to law, but for the purpose of taking advice as to how to prop- erly regulate the affairs of the Society. I do not think the President acquires these seemingly unfortunate and distressing affairs to the Evil One and attempts to make parallel the actions of Brother Johnson in Europe with those of the Directors here. The parallel, if there is any, it seems to us, is more pointedly applicable in another way.

Brother Johnson in his illness, enlarging upon the false "sweeping authority," conferred upon him by Brother Rutherford to obtain his passport, became erroneously (we believe) convinced that he was the steward in the parable of the parable and whatever may be the steward of the parable and whatever may be the application of the parable to himself personally. He seemed to try to make the same application of it as does Brother Woodworth because he speaks of murmuring against the seventh volume as the penny of the parable, which Brother Woodworth says he, as the steward, has dispensed. Whoever may be the steward of the parable and whatever may be the penny, the volume claims itself to be the posthumous work of Brother Russell as his last bequest to the church and not the dispensation of our new President. The parallel, however, to us is that the one who is said to be the steward here, and who seems to acquire in that application, is doing the "casting out" of the brethren in this country and endeavoring to and succeeding in upsetting the duly constituted authority of the Society under the law and therefore the parallel attempted to be made in the "Siftings" pamphlet is not a parallel at all.

In conclusion, then, the friends will necessarily need to decide two important questions before taking up the other differences:

First, who is the rightful authority in the Society?

It is well to remember Brother Pierson's suggestion to Brother Rutherford in this connection, that if the title of the members of the Board is invalid, surely it has gone on this way so long that he could easily wait until the next shareholders' meeting to make the Board a legal one beyond all question. Brother Rutherford well knows that the Directors are the duly constituted authority in the Society, and that they have a right and duty to inform themselves by such inspection of its affairs as they see fit. If this were not so, he would not so hastily have tried to get rid of the Directors. So, then, we see that the Directors are the managers of the Society to supervise and generally direct its affairs and correct abuses in the interest of the shareholders.

The second question for the friends to decide is as to who is ambitious in a wrong sense.

Every one in the Society has ability enough to understand that one is not sufficiently ambitious who desires to do that which is pleasing to God and to serve the shareholders of the Society. To desire to do one's plain duty is hardly more commendable. On the other hand, to overthrow rightful authority over oneself, and to take the law into one's own hand, to thwart those having the rightful rule over one, is, I submit, a wrong and willful course and contrary to the Divine Word. It seems to me that the friends, even if they cannot understand legal difficulties, can understand and decide the matter along the lines of common honesty.

Brother Rutherford, because he is a lawyer, and as such was peculiarly useful to Brother Russell, and because he is a good speaker, became the most prominent candidate for the presidency. The friends did not believe they could have elected a new Board of Directors and could then have elected a President and Treasurer from the new Directors. Brother Rutherford knew, but did not tell them. He states in his "Harvest Siftings" that he did not inform the friends that Brother Rutherford was not, I think, elected especially because he was more meek and lowly than others. Moses was the meekest man in all the earth, and the Saviour: was meek and lowly, and yet neither of them were supine; both excelled in the matter of duty not to bestow it.

The members of the Board should attend at the appointed time for a meeting. A member alone, it is true, cannot pass a valid resolution, but he can require and gain the information that could be had were a quorum present; nor is a member excused because the President informs him that there will be no quorum. If the majority of the spurious Board now acting are at the headquarters. They should not vote without knowing what they are doing. They should regard it as a God-given responsibility.

Great responsibility, moral and legal, rests upon the Directors of the Society, who are by law and the Charter the rightful rule and divinely constituted its rightful managers for the shareholders.

It may be possible, perhaps, to elect a new Board of Directors next January at the regular meeting and adjourn for a long enough time to allow for proper consideration of the various candidates and elect or re-elect the proper ones. I hope so. The shareholders should send some one to the meeting to vote their proxies and not send them to headquarters. They should not vote without knowing what they are doing. They should regard it as a God-given responsibility.

The members of the Board should attend at the appointed time for a meeting. A member alone, it is true, cannot pass a valid resolution, but he can require and gain the information that could be had were a quorum present; nor is a member excused because the President informs him that there will be no quorum. If there is an executive committee the Directors are not excused from liability because they commit their duties to the executive committee.

We see, therefore, that the shareholders should exercise care and that the Directors should be well chosen, and that there should be time to make a proper selection of officers from the new Board of Directors, whoever they may be. Thanking you for your attention to this matter, I am

Your fellow-servant,
LIGHT AFTER DARKNESS

A WORD IN CONCLUSION

We trust that it is clearly seen by all that the protests which the Board of Directors have made are not those of self-defense, for as we have repeatedly said, we would gladly forego and sacrifice all our personal rights and suffer them to be taken from us; but there is far more than our own personal rights involved, for membership in the Board of Directors represents a stewardship of the friends of the Truth everywhere, who have placed their money, their property and their confidence in the Society. Therefore, for the Board of Directors to allow ambitious men to usurp the power and function of their offices, without protest, would mean to prove themselves unfaithful stewards—unfaithful to the trust reposed in them by the Lord's people.

When in a previous circular which many of you received we intimated that the matter might be allowed to go into litigation for settlement, we were leaning in the direction of advice received from some prominent brethren who had placed their money in the Society with the understanding that it would be used in harmony with the Charter of the Society and in harmony with the Will of Brother Russell, and these brethren are gathered Home to be forever with the Lord. St. Paul's admonition about going to law (1 Corinthians 6) did not apply in this case; that as the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society was a business corporation based upon the rules and laws of earthly courts it would be entirely proper to allow this matter to go into court for settlement, even as St. Paul appealed to Caesar in defense of his stewardship; and especially as Brother Rutherford had emphatically stated that he would not be moved from his present position, no matter how many resolutions of protest should come to him from Classes all over the country.

However, since many of the friends have now written us of their wishes in the matter, advising against court proceedings, we are taking it as the Lord's will that He does not at present, at least, wish it settled in that manner.

It is proper to note here that since "Harvest Sittings" has gone to all the friends and shareholders, the President and his associates have been making special efforts to line up the friends in all parts of the country, and some of the Classes, supposing that there was only one side to this case, have written in support of the President and his course. We believe that after reading these pages they will recognize that they have been premature in their action and will be led to a reconsideration of the matter.

With this statement of facts to the shareholders, we wish to state the entire matter and leave the shareholders to indicate whether or not they wish to support the present administration in its continual perversion of the traditions, usages and customs of our Society.

And now, dear brethren, what shall be done? You will individually, of course, do as you think best. We think it will be a great mistake to leave matters as they are. We advise, therefore, that all who have one or more shares in the Society write a personal request to the President—a short note, the shorter, the better—requesting the President to recede from his unlawful position, dismiss the unlawfully constituted Board members, take steps to correct his error in restoring the control of the Society to those who have freely used through the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society and to watch and to preserve in them by the Lord's people.

But if you believe your course of action to be right, you will undoubtedly be glad for the approval and support of the only earthly body to whom you are ultimately accountable; furthermore the Philadelphia Elders has confidence in your expressed desire to faithfully serve the Lord's cause and to this end we urge you to take action in the calling of the special meeting above mentioned.

In the Master's service,

PHILADELPHIA ECCLESIA.
THE CHARTER—THE FOUNDATION OF OUR SOCIETY

We take pleasure, as previously stated, in printing below the Charter of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society. Upon the basis of this document our Beloved Pastor conducted the Harvest Work for 34 years. More than 50,000 persons received Present Truth during this time and perhaps thousands of others were led from darkness into measurable light. Such blessings have never come to so many of God's saints in the same length of time as have come since the Society's charter was issued.

This Charter bears the endorsement, as required by the Laws of Pennsylvania, of an Associate Judge of the Pennsylvania Court of Common Pleas, certifying that it is "lawful," and that the incorporators were entitled to form a corporation for the purposes and upon the terms therein stated." The validity of this charter was again confirmed in 1896 by the Pennsylvania Court, when it approved the petition of Brother Russell, asking that the name of the society be changed from Zion's Watch Tower Tract Society to its present name.

Since Brother Russell's death, Brother Rutherford has for the first time declared that this form of government by Directors, who are to hold office for life, unless removed by two thirds vote of the shareholders, is illegal under the Laws of the State of Pennsylvania, and that Directors can lawfully hold office only for one year. He has also for the first time declared that the Laws of Pennsylvania at the same time declare that at least three of the Directors must be residents of that state.

We are advised by our counsel that the claims of Brother Rutherford in these respects are entirely without warrant; that we are lawfully Directors of the Society; that those whom Brother Rutherford has undertaken to appoint in our place have no title to office; and that if the claims of Brother Rutherford were sound in law, he himself could have no legal title to office either as a Director or as President.

The following is a copy of the Society's Charter:

STATEMENT BY BROTHER RUSSELL

as set forth in the booklet, "A Conspiracy Exposed and Harvest Sittings," April 22, 1894, in Respect to the Usefulness of the Board of Directors in the Event of His Death:

The Society was formed in 1881 at the time of the free distribution of 1,400,000 copies of the pamphlet, "From your Thinking Christians"—now out of print. It consisted of five of the Lord's children, and its affairs were entirely in my charge. Later, 1884, at the instance of the friends of the cause, who advised that matters be put upon a legal footing so that the work might not be interrupted in case of my sudden death, the Society applied for a Charter under the laws of the State of Pennsylvania, and received one dated December 13, 1884. . . . The object in taking out a Charter is succinctly stated in The Watch Tower for January, 1891, page 16, as follows:

"This is a business association merely. It was chartered as a Corporation by the State of Pennsylvania, and authorized to hold or dispose of property in its own name as though an individual. It has no creed or confession. . . . In fact, the only objects in having the Corporation are:"

"First, to provide a channel or fund through which those who wish can employ their money talent, whether small or great, for better advantage for the spread of the Truth than if each interested one acted and published independently of the others. Secondly, the Corporation was called for by reason of the uncertainty of the lives of those at present managing the fund. Some wrote that they were doing all that their present necessities permitted, but at their death desired to do more; and urged the necessity of a legal Corporation, as Brother and Sister Russell also might die, and they wanted their donations to go to the spread of the Truth."

Having up to December 1, 1893, thirty-seven hundred and five (6,383) voting shares, Sister Russell five (3,705) voting shares. Out of a total of sixty-three hundred and eighty-three (6,383) voting shares, Sister Russell and myself, of course, elect the officers, and thus control the Society; and this was fully understood by the Directors from the first. Their usefulness, it was understood, would come to the front in the event of our death."

NOTICE.

Since the President and his associates have control of the lists of names, shareholders and subscribers, we are able to send this statement to only a limited number of the friends. However, we will be pleased to send it to any addresses of Truth friends you wish to send us, so long as the Lord may provide the funds.

COPY OF OPEN LETTER TO BOSTON CONVENTIONERS

After Brother Rutherford's "Siftings" had been circulated at the Boston Convention, a number of friends who felt that a great injustice had been done the majority of the Board of Directors of the Society, earnestly urged the printing of a brief statement of the facts, voluntarily to pay the expense. Following is a copy of this statement:

BELOVED BRETHREN IN THE LORD:

Our hearts have been grieved that a paper, "Brother Rutherford's Harvest Siftings," should be circulated amongst you at this Convention in the name of our beloved Watch Tower Bible & Tract Society, which contains so much of misrepresentation and evil speaking.

We will not attempt to reply in kind. We will not discuss personalities; nor return evil for evil; railing for railing; slander for slander. We will follow the inspired advice, "Recompense to no man evil for evil." The Lord is our judge. We willingly leave all to Him whom we earnestly reposed great confidence in, to whom we all must answer for our stewardship.

BROTHER RUSSELL'S CHARTER

SHALL BROTHER RUSSELL'S CHARTER BE RECOGNIZED AND SUPPORTED BY THE FRIENDS, OR SHALL ALL THESE BE SET ASIDE AND DISREGARDED?

WE BELIEVE BROTHER RUSSELL'S CHARTER SHALL BE RECOGNIZED AND SUPPORTED.

THE BOARD'S VIEW:

1. We believe Brother Russell's plans for carrying on the Harvest Work after his death should be followed: "The corporation is to be managed by a Board of Directors consisting of seven members." (Extract from Society's Charter, written by Brother Russell.) "It is also provided that they (the Board of Directors) shall be appointed by the President, to hold for life." (Extract from booklet published by Brother Russell.)

2. Personally interprets resolutions passed by Shareholders on Jan. 6, 1917, at Pittsburgh, Pa., to give him practically absolute control of the Society's finances and affairs in general. He has uniformly acted in harmony with this interpretation, and we approve of it. As President, during his term of office, he has full power to execute the legal responsibility of the Corporation both to the Shareholders for the use of funds donated to the Society, and to the Business Public for the obligations of the Society, rest, not on the President alone, but upon the full Board of Directors. They cannot escape this responsibility.

J. (a) Upon the best legal advice we can obtain, and concurred in by Attorney Brother McGee, assistant to the Attorney General of New Jersey, it appears that Brother Rutherford's interpretation of these resolutions is erroneous, and we are still the legal Directors of the Society.

(b) We recognize a still higher law—Divine Justice—and a moral obligation to fulfill the trust reposed in us by the Lord and Brother Russell. Three of us having been elected under the direction of Brother Russell, served harmoniously with him on the Board for years, and whose wish it was that we continue to serve as Directors during our life time, unless removed by a two thirds vote of the Shareholders. Extract from Charter, "The Directors shall hold their respective offices for life."

"It is required of stewards that a man be found faithful, every man according to his several ability, and our greatest desire is to be faithful to the Lord and to the Shareholders of the Society, organized by Brother Russell and conducted so successfully by him for 34 years.

We, and hundreds of other friends, have endeavored to find some legal means of calling a special meeting of the Shareholders of the Society to pass upon these matters, but so far without success. If he cannot himself rule absolutely, he has apparently determined to put to the front the Peoples Pulpit Association, of which he claims to be President for life.

In regard to the relationship of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society to the Peoples Pulpit Association, and to the J. B. S. A., our dear Pastor, in The Watch Tower of Dec. 1, 1915, page 359, 2nd col., says:

"Thus the whole management is by the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society, and these auxiliary organizations merely help in carrying on its work."

"In other words, the Peoples Pulpit Assn., cannot transact business except through the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society. The Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society has the management, and the Peoples Pulpit Assn. does the work—absolutely."

Brother Rutherford now repudiates all this and says he will act through the Peoples Pulpit Association, and has issued a command that Brothers Wright, Ritchie, Hoskins and Hirs shall, like Brother Johnson, be required to leave Bethel.

In conclusion, dear friends, our only desire is to be found faithful to our trust. We believe this is the essence of the text: "It is required of stewards that a man be found faithful."

The Lord bless you and keep you. Pray that all concerned may have wisdom and grace to walk humbly and circumspectly before our Maker, that we may thus be prepared for His presence and kingdom.

Your brethren and fellow-servants of our dear Redeemer and King,

A. N. PIERSON

"FEAR NOT!"

"Lo, I am with you alway"
A REPLY TO THE PAPER CALLED "LIGHT AFTER DARKNESS"

[Prepared by the President of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society by request of the Board of Directors. Not for general free on request.]

BROOKLYN, N.Y.

No. 2

By our one accord, I believe, all the consecrated will agree that our great Adversary would be pleased to occupy our time in the discussion of our differences, to the neglect of the Harvest work, especially as the Harvest work is drawing to a close and greater efforts in that direction must be put forth.

All of us are inclined to exclaim, "How strange that we should have such trials in the Church now!" Then we are reminded of the words of St. Peter, "Beloved, think it not strange concerning this fire among you." (1 Peter 4:12.)

It will require calmness, sobriety of mind, purity of heart and an increased measure of the Lord's Spirit to weather the storm. The Lord will supply all the needed grace to those who keep in mind the ultimate purpose of our warfare. The Kingdom of Heaven is at hand, and everything that can be shaken will now be shaken. (Hebrews 12:26-28.) Our great desire is to enter into that Kingdom. Uppermost in the mind of every Christian should be the thought, What can I do to insure my gaining that great prize?

To say that any of us are free from mistakes is not in keeping with the truth. We are all imperfect, and the judgment of everyone is more or less warped. Surely it is due time for us to heed the words of the Apostle, "Above all things, have fervent (overspreading) love amongst yourselves, for love covers a multitude of defects." (1 Peter 4:8.)

"Light after Darkness" is a misnomer for a paper issued by Brothers Hirsh, Hosking, Wright and Ritchie, and is not in fact a reply to Harvest Siftings. I shall refer to it herein as "Opponents' Paper," having in mind the brethren who prepared and published it. Among them are not included Brother A. N. Pierson, because, as I am advised, he had no part in the publication of said paper. When it was ready to be published he was asked for his signature, but refused to sign it, and stated he would have nothing more to do with their publications, or words to that effect. It will be observed, however, that a letter formerly issued at Boston and containing the name of Brother Pierson was so adroitly arranged at the conclusion of "Opponents' Paper" as to lead the unsuspecting to believe that said document had been signed and issued by Brother Pierson. The authors of the "Opponents' Paper," with freedom of speech and peace of mind, contains no less than one hundred untruthful charges and misleading statements, and since there are much less than half that number of points discussed in Harvest Siftings, it follows that the authors of "Opponents' Paper" play myself, Brothers Van Amburgh, Hudgings, Macmillan, Wisdom, Cohen, Herr, Hemery, Warden, McCoy, MacKenzie and members of the Bethel family in the Annanias Club. The rashness of such a charge must be apparent to all who look at the facts from an unbiased viewpoint. I am reminded that St. Jude said that even our Lord did not bring a railing accusation against Satan, but contented Himself by saying, "The Lord rebuke thee."—Jude 9.

THE REAL ISSUE

Let us look for a moment at the real issue in this matter. The issue is not Brother Van Amburgh and Brother Rutherford vs. the others named—far from it. We have nothing against any of those brothers, but would be glad to help them.

Neither is the issue whether they were put out as members of the Board of Directors in a proper or improper manner, because they were not legal members of the Board, and therefore could not be put out. The President has no power to remove the Board, and the Charter provides that the President, after these vacancies have existed for thirty days, shall appoint proper persons to fill such vacancies. That is all I did. The reasons for making the appointment are set forth in Harvest Siftings, pages 16 and 17.

Neither is the issue whether or not the Directors were Brother Russell's Directors and whether the present Board are Brother Rutherford's Directors. Brother Russell never had a Board of Directors. I have none. The Directors of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society hold office by reason of the law of the State of Pennsylvania and the Charter of the Corporation. Brother Russell's Will did not name any person as a member of the Board of Directors.

The real issue is, Was the President justified in appointing members of the Board of Directors, which he did on the 19th day of July, 1917, to fill vacancies then existing, and to hold office until the next annual election to be held by the Shareholders on the 5th day of January, 1918? Anything aside from the facts bearing upon this question clouds the issue. The paper published by our opposing brethren seeks to bring in a great many other things which have nothing to do with the real issue, but which have a tendency to confuse.

They even attempt to show that some of us are criminals and should be sent to jail because of the action taken to safeguard the interests of the friends generally. Not in defense of myself do I publish this statement of explanation, but that those who desire an explanation may have it. To this end, and that the side issues may be eliminated and that the friends may see the real situation, I am making this reply, which will be sent to those who wish it.

Harvest Siftings the facts leading up to the action taken by myself, I now here call attention to some of the statements made in the "Opponents' Paper" relating to the facts in connection therewith, and let every one of you determine whether or not I am a liar, a "usurper", and am "grasping for power", as I have been charged. Personally, the charge does not affect me, but I have been reminded by some of the brethren that my position is more or less a public one, hence it is due others that I make this statement. First, I dissect some of the side issues before examining the real issue.

BROTHER RUSSELL'S WILL AND CHARTER

The "Opponents' Paper" charges (page 8, second column) that "Brother Russell had not been dead more than a few days when his Will was declared to be illegal, and therefore not binding." The evident purpose was to convey the thought that I am the guilty one. I here state that I have never declared Brother Russell's Will illegal and therefore not binding. The only question ever raised about Brother Russell's Will was concerning his voting shares, the facts of which are clearly set forth on page 10, column 2 of Harvest Siftings, which it is not here necessary to repeat.

Some were disappointed when they heard Brother Russell's Will read, I was not among that class. Shortly thereafter Brother Hirsh began to sound out the friends to see what would be the sentiment with reference to setting aside Brother Russell's Will. In proof of this I submit herewith the affidavit of two witnesses:

State of New York) ss.

WE, the undersigned, Mrs. J. B. Walbach and Miss Mary B. Walbach, both of Brooklyn, New York, do voluntarily make the following statement under oath:

That on or about Nov. 2d, 1916, about two days following Brother Russell's death and prior to the arrival of his body in Brooklyn, Brother R. H. Hirsh came out of the Bethel Home and joined us on the opposite side of the street and walked with us two blocks, during which time he made the following remarks in our presence, the time being about 2:30 in the afternoon, following the reading of our dear Pastor's Will in the Bethel Dining-Room at the noon meal. He said:

"What do you think of Brother Russell's Will? I, myself, do not think it represents his more recent wishes. It was written, as you know, some years ago; and I think it should be broken, as the Will as it stands, is not the best arrangement for carrying on The Watch Tower, and is really unjust to members of the Bethel Family. Most of the brethren whom it mentions for the Editorial Committee are not now members of the Bethel Family, and I haven't had experience with such work anyway; whereas there are brethren right here in the Home, now myself, for instance, who have had years of experience in handling matters of the Tower; and I am certain that if Brother Russell had written that Will more recently he would have made it different, particularly in connection with the Editorial Staff. It takes experience to publish The Watch Tower properly."

The above quotation is as nearly verbatim as it is possible for us to recall. The conversation is quite clear in our minds as it made a lasting impression on us both. We felt appalled that Brother Hirsh, or anyone else, should be discussing or even thinking about such matters at such a time, even before our beloved Pastor's body had been buried. When he asked us if we did not agree with him that something should be done to break Brother Russell's Will we merely replied that we had nothing to say about it. He was much exercised, and it was readily apparent to us that he was exercised over not having been mentioned in Brother Russell's Will as a regular member of the Editorial Committee instead of being only named as a substitute. He declared to us that three of the Committee should be asked to resign.

WILL AND CHARTER JUGGLED

"Opponents' Paper" has so juggled the Will of Brother Russell, the Charter of the Corporation, and the paper written in 1894 by Brother Russell, as to confuse the minds of the reader the whole matter, and anyone not familiar with these papers is apt to be misled.

The Charter, of course, provides for a Board of Directors, but not one of the opposers is named in that Charter, nor did Brother Russell ever name them, or any one of them, as Directors in his Will or in any document he has ever written. Brother Russell's Will only incidentally mentions that "The Society's Board of Directors shall make proper provision for the Editorial Committee." No one is named in his Will as a member of the Board of Directors. Why, then, should these brethren continually hold before our eyes the thought that the President has set aside Brother Russell's Board of Directors? Nothing is further from the real truth.

Time and again they quote from a booklet issued by Brother Russell in 1894, more than twenty-three years ago, at which time calling attention to the work he and his wife, Mrs. Russell, should control the Society. Therein he said, "Their [the Directors'] usefulness it was understood would come to the front in the event of my death." When he wrote this the Society was composed of those whom we now know as Brothers Ritchie, Wright, Hoskins or Hirsh, because at that time none of the members were connected with the Society. These words do not occur in Brother Russell's Will, nor in the Charter; then it is manifestly unfair that an attempt is made to try to incorporate these words in Brother Russell's Will in the Charter.

Another evidence of unfairness is clearly manifest by the statement on page 5, column 1 in "Opponents' Paper". There they quote extracts from the Will of Brother Russell and from the Charter, with the evident purpose of trying to show that they were in the mind of Brother Russell at the time he wrote his Will, and that he was safeguarding them against a spirit of ambition, or pride, or headship. By carefully reading it you will see that the excerpts quoted will refer to the fact that he was to have control of The Watch Tower and other publications during his life. This had no reference whatsoever to the management of the affairs of the Society. It will be noted that the quotations from the Will were made, and the Committee and have no reference whatsoever to the Directors, for the manifest reason that Brother Russell knew that no one person can name and provide for the Directors of a corporation. After stating that he had a right to name three of the Committee with reference to the Editorial Committee, then the "Opponents' Paper" proceeds to draw a conclusion, saying, "Thus it will be seen that after Brother Russell's death the Board of Directors becomes his successor in the control of the Society's affairs, whereas not one word in the Will even intimated such a thing.

Permit me to say here that I have never for one moment denied or even questioned the right of the Board of Directors to control the affairs of The Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society. The Board of Directors are now in control, but there is a vast difference between being in control and managing the details of the work of a corporation. My position has always been, and still is, that the four questions at issue were not legally members of the Board of Directors in July of this year, and because of their avowed threat and purpose to disrupt and disorganize the work, I exercised the power which the law and the Lord had placed in my hands to work in harmony and for the Society's general welfare. Had the four brethren continued in a quiet, orderly manner to perform their duties, and had not manifested a disposition to disrupt the work and make threats that they would disrupt the funds of the Society, there would never have been any attempt even to call in question the legality of their presence.

The step was taken only as a last resort and as a safeguard until there could be an election held by the Shareholders of the Company, and I have always held that an unlawful invasion of the property of an incorporated body can be only vindicated by a judicial proceeding, particularly on page 16, the moving cause for appointing the four members of the Board.

"Opponents' Paper", page 4, paragraph 21, says, "The purpose of the Board of Directors as By-Laws was not that the four members of the Board might take over the control of the Society, but that the Board might be restored to its proper position according to Brother Russell's Will and Charter." Again we reiterate that Brother Russell's Will did not name a single one of the four as members of the Board of Directors, nor did he attempt to do that which he could not do, namely, provide in his Will for a Board of Directors. The Charter, of course, provides for an organized Board for the Society, which in fact has, and has had, full and complete control of the affairs of the Society, and which is working in harmony with the Shareholders' wishes and the policies followed by the Society for the past thirty-three years, namely, that the President shall be the executive officer and the four members of the Board of Directors, subject, of course, to the control of the Board of Directors, and the Board subject to the control of the Shareholders.

THE BY-LAWS

"Opponents' Paper", in an attempt to convey the thought that I am an autocrat, in a bald headline on page 5, says, "Brother Rutherford's By-Laws Passed." We sometimes forget that men can mistake mistakes for knowledge! Why do they have such a lapse of memory? With stronger reason should brethren in the Truth speak in harmony with the facts.

Shortly before Brother Russell's death he had stated that he desired to put the Society more particularly on an efficiency basis, and that all who remained at Bethel should be able to render and should render efficient service. Such facts were brought to the attention of the Executive Committee, which was composed of me, and I have now, in fact, a new constitution in charge of the Secretary, which puts the Society on an efficiency basis, and which in fact is what Brother Russell had in mind. We discussed the matter and decided to ask the Shareholders to pass some by-laws at Pittsburgh, proceeding upon the theory that the voice of the people, the Shareholders, should be heard. Accordingly, I was requested by the other members of the Executive Committee, presumably because I am a lawyer by profession, to draw up such by-laws and submit them to Brothers Van Amburgh and Ritchie, which they fully approved, Brother Ritchie, as Chairman of the Annual Meeting at Pittsburgh, appointed a committee of three brethren to examine and report to the convention these by-laws and resolutions. He carried these by-laws to Pittsburgh and and by his own hand delivered them to the committee. When the committee returned I asked if I might see their report. Now note the discrepancy between the statement of "Opponents' Paper" of the brethren statements that I had a well laid plan to get control of the affairs of the Society, and that by threats and intimidation I forced the committee to report a by-law giving me control. The facts are, not one word was said about that section which refers to the executive officer and manager of the corporation, and the word "control" does not even appear in the by-laws. The by-laws, as drafted, provided that the President might appoint an Advisory Committee of three to advise him upon any matters of importance, and that therefore the President alone should be privileged to select his advisors. If you desire to employ a lawyer, you wish to have the choosing of that lawyer; if you desire to employ a physician you desire to select that physician, because you think he is best qualified for you personally. On the same theory, if the President needed and wished advice he alone should be privileged to select his advisors. Thus I argued with the Committee and they agreed with me. Brothers Ritchie, H. R. Wilson, and Wright were on the Committee of four, and they know that my statement here is the exact truth. Why they have had such a lapse of memory I am not able to state. I append herewith the statement of a member of the Committee on By-laws who was present and who corroborates my statement and the real facts as to my handling the by-laws. I wish to state for the record that the By-laws provided that the Secretary and Treasurer should always be a member of the Board of Directors. None of the four brethren, or any others to my knowledge, have found fault with my management, or shown any instances of mismanagement.

In the first article, the By-laws were passed under foot the wishes of the Shareholders, trying to repeal the by-laws which were passed without question, and take the management of the Society's affairs out of the President's hands and put it into the hands of the "four" to manage the same. I have never attempted at any time to get control of the Society. I have merely diligently tried to perform the duties of manager, and there is no corporation in the land, of any consequence, but what has a manager aside from the Board of Directors. None of the four brethren, or any others to my knowledge, have the confidence in my management, or shown any instances of mismanagement.

The By-laws provided that the Secretary and Treasurer should always be a member of the Advisory Committee, and two others to be appointed. The thought of the committee on by-laws was, that these two members should be appointed by the Board of Directors, while your thought was, that as this committee was to be the President's Advisory Committee, that the President should appoint these two members of the Committee. One of the members of the Board of Directors (possibly more) was present at that time and he agreed with you on the matter, and the committee then made the change, giving the President authority to appoint the members of the Advisory Committee.

This was before the election, and had some one else been elected it would have applied to him just the same as to you.

The bringing up of this matter of the By-laws has helped us to form a better estimate of the value of the remainder of "Light after Darkness", and make a large discount.

I wish to say, dear Brother Rutherford, that I still believe that 'The Lord of the Harvest' has full control of the situation, and that He is amply able to direct the work, yes, even without the aid of a Board of Directors at all. I believe that the Lord makes no mistakes, and I am sure that if the Lord wanted these four brethren to direct the affairs of the Society, that there is no power in Heaven or on earth that could hinder their doing so.

"The words of the poet express my confidence and the desire of my heart in this and all things: "

"Peace, troubled soul; then need not fear;"

"He who led thee last will lead thee still;"

"Be calm, and sink into His will."

"May the Lord continue His guidance, and grant you the needed strength to finish in the service, and grant the Lord that place in your hands, is the earnest prayer of,"

"Yours in the service of the Master,"

R. H. BRICKER.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors following the annual meeting, these by-laws were passed by the Board of Directors because that is the technical and legal requirement of the Charter. Then you might ask, why were they presented to the Shareholders? Because the Shareholders constitute the Corporation, and while, technically, the power to enact by-laws resides in the Board, yet everyone should desire to abide by the voice of the majority of the Shareholders, believing that the Lord would speak through them. We are all familiar with the time-honored statement, "The voice of the people is the supreme law." It is recognized that Congress alone has the right to pass laws, and yet Congress must respond to the voice of the people who are, in fact, the elected representatives of the people. What did the Advisory Committee of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society have no moral right to utterly disregard the wishes of the Shareholders. These by-laws were not my by-laws, but the by-laws of the Board of Directors, and had been passed by the Shareholders, and then passed by the Board of Directors. Their enactment constituted a solemn compact which should be binding on the parties unless their enactment was procured by fraud or coercion. The brethren in question seem to think it necessary to set aside the wishes of the Shareholders. At the time of the passage of these by-laws Brother Russell was not on the Board, but later he and three others with the avowed purpose of trampling under foot the wishes of the Shareholders, trying to repeal the by-laws which were passed without question, and take the management of the Society's affairs out of the President's hands and put it into the hands of the "four" to manage the same. The brethren in question seem to think it necessary to show some excuse for their trying to set aside the wishes of the Shareholders. At the time of the passage of these by-laws Brother Russell was not on the Board, but later he and three others with the avowed purpose of trampling under foot the wishes of the Shareholders, trying to repeal the by-laws which were passed without question, and take the management of the Society's affairs out of the President's hands and put it into the hands of the "four" to manage the same. I have never attempted at any time to get control of the Society. I have merely diligently tried to perform the duties of manager, and there is no corporation in the land, of any consequence, but what has a manager aside from the Board of Directors. None of the four brethren, or any others to my knowledge, have the confidence in my management, or shown any instances of mismanagement.

The Peoples Pulpit Association Charter gives the executive absolute control. I have stated heretofore why that Charter was thus written, and why the Board of Directors of that corporation to provide for an Executive Committee of four to perform certain duties with reference to the control of the Bethel Home and office, but this does not in any manner affect the office of the President-General Manager. There must be one head to every institution. I am free to confess many might have been found to perform this duty better than myself, but since I had nothing to do with putting myself in office it can hardly be consistently charged that I am responsible for being there.

REMOVAL FROM PEOPLES PULPIT ASSOCIATION

On the 8th of July Brothers Rutherford and Hoskins were removed from the Peoples Pulpit Association for good cause. In this connection "Opponents' Paper" charges that other brethren and myself are "guilty of criminal offenses, subject to criminal indictment and to swift and severe punishment. The evidence to show prejudice in the minds of the friends against us, and to prove that we brethren are high-handed lawbreakers. Now, if the brethren really believe this charge, they should at once cease to address either of us as "brother." For this reason I feel sure that they do not believe it.

In 1911, at the instance of Brother Russell, a by-law was passed providing for the removal of a member of the Peoples Pulpit Association upon grounds therein stated. The by-law providing that the removal shall take place at the annual meeting. Of course it is understood that when the annual meeting is convened it can be legally adjourned from time to time until final adjournment, and each adjourned session is still the "annual meeting." At the annual meeting, January last, several of the brethren who could not be present gave their proxies to others. The proxy, of course, carries the authority to the holder to vote on anything that comes before the annual meeting. The annual meeting adjourned until some date in March, to take up unfinished business. At the subsequent meeting the President was absent and the adjourned meeting, adjourned to a still later date. The record shows that the annual meeting was regularly, legally and properly adjourned until the 27th day of July, 1917, and of course when it met at this adjourned session on the annual meeting its powers were not less than those at the first meeting. All proxies were still in force, unless revoked in writing. One brother who had moved away held some of these proxies and new proxies were afterward given to other brethren to vote, thereby reviving the proxy system in proper and legal form. The People's Flock Association convened on the 27th day of July in regular order and legally so. Previous notices had been given to the brethren and the record shows that that meeting adjourned again adjourned until the 31st of July, to give them more time to present their proxies. The charges were read and testimony was heard on both sides, and then votes were taken. Five votes were legally cast that the two brethren named should not be removed, and one of these was a proxy. These seven votes cast the two indicted brethren could not legally vote on a question involving their own removal from the association. Twenty-three votes were legally cast in favor of removing the brethren named, and legally approved, as required by the by-laws. Not all of those who voted by proxy have since addressed letters to the brethren who held their proxies, approving the action; and thus they were not only legally cast but subsequently had the approval of the members. These facts are shown by the official record of the People's Flock Association, which any one is at liberty to inspect.

"BROOKLYN EAGLE" ATTACKS

Personally, I do not know who gave the information to the "Brooklyn Eagle" which it published. I do know that a reporter from that paper called on me and related the details of the trouble with the brethren who issued "Opponents' Paper." I asked the reporter to state to whom he had just related, and he refused to tell me. The reporter then called upon me to make a statement. My only reply was, "I have nothing to say." I do know that the statement in the "Brooklyn Daily Eagle" seriously reflected upon Brother Russell as well as other brethren. Subsequently I had a talk with Brother Hirs and told him that notice had been given to me that on the 17th of July (while he was making an impassioned speech in the Bethel dining room), a newspaper reporter was waiting in the parlor and had called for Mr. Hirs. Brother Hirs, said he refused to speak to the reporter at that time, but that a few days later he did meet this newspaper reporter on the street and told him something about the matter. It is due for me to state here that this newspaper reporter was not an accredited reporter of the "Brooklyn Eagle." Whether he gave the information to the "Brooklyn Eagle," or not, I do not know.

THE PILGRIM BRETHREN CHARGED

"Opponents' Paper" charges that the president and others have been secretly carrying on a campaign amongst the Bethel Family and the Pilgrim Brethren, spreading false reports regarding the Board and others, and that the Pilgrim brethren were not informed of the action. Among the charges made were that the truth or falsity of this statement I call upon everyone of the Pilgrim brethren in the service to make known if any such representations have been made to them and if they were asked to sign proxies, my charges, and then to the breaking of the storm I talked with not a single Pilgrim brother present from Brother Wisdom, and it was Brother Wisdom who brought the information to me at Chicago. For three months while I was being harassed at the Bethel Home and in the work by these two brethren, some of whom did not know it, the Pilgrim brethren visited the Bethel and not one word was uttered by me to them about the difficulty. So far as I have knowledge, the matter was not discussed by other members of the Family. Some of the Pilgrims have voluntarily written me about this. I here append some of their letters.

"DEAR BROTHE R RUTHERFORD-

"I feel constrained to write you in regard to a statement appearing in the pamphlet, 'Light after Darkness.' I am not writing this with any feeling of ill-will toward the brethren instrumental in writing that pamphlet but I feel it is really my duty to refute, in my case at least, the statement in the above mentioned pamphlet regarding some of the brethren being brought into the Bible House, filled with information and sent out. I was not once approached, by any of the brethren implicated, so far as they personally were concerned.

"Yours with brotherly love in the only thing worth saving.

"DEAR BRETHREN-

"In the paper issued by the opposition, I noticed a statement to the effect that the members of the Bethel Family, the brethren at the Tabernacle, and the Pilgrim brethren had either been bribed or intimidated by the President and therefore were permitted to remain in the service of the Society.

"As one of the brethren above designated, I enter my protest against such a false assertion.

"During the month of August last I was privileged to be at Bethel and in all those four weeks, not once was I approached on the subject: Not a word was written to me by the Society either before coming or since my going away from there, regarding the matter.

"With Christian love, I remain.

"MY DEAR BROTHER RUTHERFORD-

"Greetings! I am writing you in regard to your letter in the last "TOWER" just received. The statement on page 9 of 'Light after Darkness' regarding the Pilgrims being influenced by anything outside the publications, which have come into my hands does not in any sense apply to me.

"My judgments are formed wholly from the statements received from the Society and the brethren who have a grievance. I feel this confidence, that this Society has its work to do. It cannot be hindered, nor in any way be interfered with until this work is completed. Then will be the time for it to go to pieces, but not before.

"Your brother in Christ,

"W. J. THORN.

"Clayton, N. M., Sept. 26th, 1917.

"DEAR BROTHER RUTHERFORD-

"I see by the pamphlet entitled 'Light after Darkness' on page 9 that you or your representative is accused of 'whispering in the ears of the Pilgrim Brethren and pertaining minds' concerning the former Board of Directors. I will say the first 'Whispering' I heard was from the four brethren who make the accusation. In the first pamphlet they sent out I learned of the trouble.

"Yours by the Lord's grace,

"R. O. HADLEY."

"Logansport, Ind., Sept. 18, 1917.

"DEAR BROTHER RUTHERFORD-

"Since reading "Light after Darkness" which would more properly be styled, 'Darkness after Light,' I have decided to write you so as to let you know that you have my entire confidence, as well as all the support I can give you in any and every way. The Lord's hand is so manifestly upon your work that it cannot fail. There is not the slightest doubt that He has overruled it, and that His will has been done.

"The charge made in 'Darkness after Light'—that the minds of the Pilgrims have been tampered with by your representative, Brother Macmillan, is surely false, as far as I am concerned or have any knowledge.

"It appears from 'Darkness after Light' that they are being worked by passion instead of principle and that they are appealing to the sentiment of the friends instead of to their sanctified reason. This matter is manifest by their use of our Pastor's picture on the front cover.

"Yours in Him joyfully,

"J. A. GILLESPIE."

CONCERNING "AUDITOR'S" LETTER

The "Opponents' Paper" contains a letter from Brother F. G. Mason which could well be submitted without comment. I shall not here attempt to discuss it. In big headlines, The "Opponents' Letter" is the "Auditor's Letter," which writer himself so styles himself in the communication. Brother Mason was never Auditor of the SOCIETY at any time. He was a subordinate clerk in the Purchasing Department, but was asked to leave Bethel because he was not familiar with the work and was not able to check up, because he had been working in the Shipping Department and his treatment of other brothers and sisters working with him had been so unkind and rough that he was removed from there and put in a subordinate clerical position in the Purchasing Department. Bills checked by him were not paid until verified and passed upon by others, particularly by one who has charge of the Purchasing Department. Everyone who knows Brother Van Amburgh well knows that he has safeguarded the treasury and never paid any bill unless he had a voucher for it and knew that it was correct. The charge that hundreds of dollars are being paid out without record is wholly out of harmony with the truth. Several years ago a system of vouchers was put in force and approved by Brother Russell, ably assisted by Brother E. W. Brennenise, who is a trained accountant and auditor. This system eliminates a lot of unnecessary bookkeeping and was adopted to save time and labor devoted to other important work. However, the system fully safeguards every avenue. The brother's criticism, therefore, is not a criticism of myself, but of Brother Russell, who adopted the system used by the SOCIETY for years and which he did not refer to in his letter. He referred to an invoice of $11,000, which he says he refused to check up. The fact is that he could not check it up, because he was not familiar with the account, and was not an experienced bookkeeper or accountant. The account was checked by Brother Hudgings, who has charge of that department and who had several years training under Brother Brennenise. It was paid in the regular course, and a proper record thereof exists. There were many similar instances in which Brother Mason gives the impression that Brother Hudgings was lazy in his work where special care is required. On one occasion he drew a voucher asking the Treasurer to issue a check for $250.00 in payment of a small bill of $9.50. The matter was caught by the head of the department before the voucher reached the Treasurer's office. After repeated blandishments of serious nature Brother Mason admitted that he had "never kept books or done office work in his life" previous to his being transferred to the department from the shipping room at the Bethel dining room two days prior to the departure. Brother Mason was asked to remove from the Bethel because of his uncouth conduct, and because of his seemingly uncontrollable disposition to be unkind and rough. He says he was asked by the opposing brethren to "write some article for the 'Brooklyn Eagle'" and that he "positively refused." The other statements in Brother Mason's letter are not worthy of consideration here.

No one has ever been asked to leave Bethel because they had no personal experience or knowledge of the SOCIETY, nor by reason of their being engaged in the management. Some who were engaged with others in disturbing the Home and office devoted the larger portion of their time in talking about the difficulty, striving to formulate plans to disturb the work and were offered a position in the management is that those who receive the benefits of the Home and SOCIETY should render adequate service therefor, and that the Bethel should be a place of peace and quietness and consecrated labor for the Lord, not a place of strife and contention. It has been the feeling of those present for some time that the time has come to publish the rule, long ago made by Brother Russell, that "it is a privilege to be at the Bethel Home, not a right," and anyone's stay may be terminated at any time.

It is needless to say that no force was used on Brother Johnson the day he and some others started a disturbance in the Bethel dining room. They were asked to be quiet, and when he refused, he was taken by the coat sleeve and asked to go out. No force whatsoever was applied. He was at the Bethel Home fomenting trouble, in open defiance of the management, and repeatedly said he would not go unless the Board did so, meaning by the "Board" the four who were opposers; and seeing they had pursued in England, it seemed imperative that I publish what I did. What Brother Wisdom told me was sufficient to put any reasonable man on guard, and to warrant him in taking action to safeguard that which was placed in his hands.

BIography AND AFFIDAVIT

With the evident purpose of trying to prove that I have been seeking notoriety, the "Opponents' Paper" sets forth at length a statement about my biography. Evidently Brother Hirsh wrote this part of "Opponents' Paper" because he is making a peculiar effort to show that he had been trying to keep it secret, but that now he must publicly declare that I had written my biography. He there says, "I had thought I would never mention this matter to anyone, but since the dear Brother [Hudgings] had read my biography for some time and was talking to Brother Hirsh; that they were anxious to get hold of it and had offered some money to pay his expenses to his home in Columbus, Ohio, where he had not been since last November. This he declined. We feel sorry for Brother Johnson and regretted it was necessary to publish so much of the facts as are related to his visits to this country. But that is a question for another time. The affair is not over yet. Brother Hudgings has been repeatedly found in communication with Brothers Ritchie, Wright, Hoskins and Hirsh, and several times approached me saying that I should yield to them, that I was a "usurer" and that the Lord was displeased with me that the Scriptures proved it, and that we are consulting a lawyer and we know what we can do," and many other statements which were in identical language to that used by the four who were opposers; and seeing they had asserted a scheme or plan of publishing the book, it seemed imperative that I publish what I did. What Brother Wisdom told me was sufficient to put any reasonable man on guard, and to warrant him in taking action to safeguard that which was placed in his hands.

The second week or ten days prior to the Shareholders meeting of last January, Brother Sturgeon called at my office and said that a newspaper man and a lawyer were in the Home and were talking to Brother Hirsh; that they were anxious to meet me. I first declined to see them, but on reflection agreed to see them a few minutes. These two gentlemen, together with Brothers Hirsh and Sturgeon, came into my room and the newspaper man and the lawyer plied me with questions for two hours and elicited from me all the information my memory could recall. After I had thought of a small bill of $8.00, which Brother Mason had been asked to remove from the Bethel department. He was told by the opposing brethren to "write some-
I am informed he had the printers reset three times at unnecessary cost, before he got it composed exactly as he wanted it. Brother Budgins, seeing the manifest injustice, wrote to him, 'You can't do this,' and the printer made this affidavit clearly setting forth the facts. Like other things published in the "Opponents' Paper," this matter of the biography is immaterial to the issue, but it is told in an evident attempt at discrediting me as much as possible. Brother Ruissell and others who were not legal members from carrying out a threat in contracts, which, because of Brother Russell's admission, the Angelophone Company. It was then that I told him—that I would not assume the obligations and take over the Angelophone Company. I made an affidavit of Brother Hirsh was now trying to do, voluntarily, because of the constant disturbance and would have done so, doubtless, if Brother Russell had not prevented it. I called on him to see him incur a burden which he could not carry. The board of Directors had under the Board's instructions. It is untrue that Brothers Van Amburg, Macmillan and myself ever despised anything that Brother Russell inaugurated. The Angelophone Company had been involved in constant dissensions, because of Brother Russell's death, threatened a heavy loss to the Society, the outstanding obligations amounting to approximately Forty Thousand dollars. Brother Ritchie once said to me that he would assume the obligations and take over the Angelophone Company. I told him that I would not wish to see him incur a burden which he could not carry. It was later at a Board meeting that he asked that the Eighteen Thousand Dollars be turned over to him, as set forth in the minutes. It is not shown in the statements of "Brother's Paper" that a "sister from Illinois came forward and paid $1,600 to have the lectures recorded." This money was paid by the Secretary of the Angelophone Company, as shown by the books.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The new members of the Board of Directors were not appointed because I had any desire to injure anyone. They were appointed to fill vacant places and to prevent those who were not continuous legal members from carrying out a threat to institute legal proceedings, stop the work and tie up the money of the Society and wreck it unless they could get control. I acted out of necessity, not out of choice. I was not appointed by the brethren if this message had not been made because we got along smoothly for several months until the opposing brethren began to hinder the progress of the work.

WHY SENT FROM BETHEL

These brethren in question were asked to leave Bethel because of the constant disturbance created by them, and their opposition to the work. The entire Bethel family and office force was kept in a state of constant apprehension, and the work could not progress satisfactorily under such conditions. The opposing brethren were constantly spending their time in holding conferences during eight hours in total disregard of all rules, and doing no Harvest work. They were preparing to institute legal proceedings, and would have done so, doubtless, if Brother Pierson had not prevented it. I called them to a conference and asked them what they were going to do. They said they were going away on my western trip, for two months, and wished to make arrangements for the work before going; that if they intended to institute an action in court I did not care what arrangements were made; arrangements before I left. I said, "Brothers, do you intend to proceed and put me out of business or will you quit your disturbance and get to work?" They replied, "We will not talk with you unless your lawyer is present." I replied, "Surely it is not necessary to have a lawyer present; why can't we talk with you and you refuse to give an answer. Then I said, "I will give you an ultimatum; if you are going to fight you must go outside of this Home to carry on your fight. You cannot remain here and go on with this fight, this injury and disturbance of the Harvest work."

A few days later Brother Pierson came to see me and he spoke to me in behalf of the four brethren. Brother Pierson asked if there was not some way by which these brethren could be kept in the work. I replied, "Yes, I would be glad to have them stay in the work." Brother Pierson said, "If you would only give us legal protection we would not go away on a two months vacation, or each take the three hundred dollars and go away on a vacation, or each take the three hundred dollars and get out tomorrow without any conditions." Brother Pierson communicated this to them, and returned to me within a short time saying that they preferred to accept the three hundred dollars and get out the following day at noon. The next day at noon three of them went out, in a quiet manner, taking with him $300. My heart was sad to see them go, but what else could I do? The work must be done, and we must have peace in order to do the work. I would be delighted to see each one of them get back into the Harvest work, but let them not start this business of interfering in the work of the Harvest. Their present course only tends to hinder it.

OPPOSITION TO THE SEVENTH VOLUME

Volume Seven is published by the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society, and we have every reason to believe it has the approval of the Lord. The greater majority of the brethren throughout the world are rejoicing to have it. It is "meat in due season" for the household of faith. It is helping many to stand and press on to the finish of the race in the world. The distribution of this volume is now very important in the Harvest work. "Opponents' Paper," shows that these brethren are against the Seventh Volume. They say (Page 14), "Let us be cautious how we receive the same, and regard it with suspicion." Thus they would retard rather than aid in the Harvest work, which is now drawing so near to its close.

"Opponents' Paper," for the first time, denies Brother Hirsh came to me and offered, if he was placed back on the American ground, to go to Philadelphia for aid and have his proposition re-drafted by retyping the statements made. The fact remains, however, that Brother Hirsh himself, before the Philadelphia ecclesia, on the evening of July 14th, repeated a series of statements of the conversation between us in the Sunday School, and thereby licensed me to tell all he had said to me in the drawing room, as it has been herefore published in Harvest Siftings; and although Brother Hirsh followed me in a speech from the same platform that evening he did not deny that he had made such an offer, and several of the brethren afterwards commented upon the fact that he had not denied it.

THE PRESIDENT'S MANAGEMENT

At a Board meeting Brother Wm. Amburgh requested the objectors to point out a single instance in which the President had mismanaged the affairs of the Society, and they were unable to do so. Seeing the importance of this admission the brethren wished to make arrangements for the work before going; that if they intended to institute an action in court I declared to them the issue, and further declared, "The Society shall make similar provision for Brother Hoskins and his wife in the United States if he will go into the Pilgrim service, preach the Truth and that alone. As to the other two brethren, we will make suitable provision for them, if they will do the work also, upon condition that we have peace."

Brother Pierson expressed himself as much pleased at this suggestion and immediately went to the brethren with the proposition. Within an hour he returned to me and said that they had refused to accept such an arrangement. Then I said to Brother Pierson, "I am going away on a two months convention tour. I cannot leave this Home and the office in this state of turmoil; these brethren cannot stay here under present conditions." Brother Pierson replied, in substance, "I can see that you are right about that, brother." Then I said, "Brother Pierson, I suggest that the four brethren go away for a vacation, at the expense of the Society. This proposition was left with the brethren, who left their rooms furnished as they are, go away and study and pray over this matter, and when I return at the end of two months we will see if we cannot come to a settlement. This proposition was also left with the brethren, who refused to accept it, saying that they did not want a vacation. Then I said to Brother Pierson, "They must go away; I have done all I can do." Then Brother Pierson asked, "Cannot some provision be made for their support for a while; they should not be turned out without some money." To this I agreed:

When Brother Pierson asked how much should they have, I replied, "Brother Pierson, you fix the amount and I will agree to anything you say." Brother Pierson then suggested they take three hundred dollars, and I said, "Now Brother Pierson, suggest to them that they take one hundred and fifty dollars of this and go away for two months on a vacation, or each take the three hundred dollars and get out of the work, which is now drawing to a close. Thus they would retard rather than aid in the Harvest work, which is now drawing so near to its close.

"Opponents' Paper," for the first time, denies Brother Hirsh came to me and offered, if he was placed back on the American ground, to go to Philadelphia for aid and have his proposition re-drafted by retyping the statements made. The fact remains, however, that Brother Hirsh himself, before the Philadelphia ecclesia, on the evening of July 14th, repeated a series of statements of the conversation between us in the Sunday School, and thereby licensed me to tell all he had said to me in the drawing room, as it has been herefore published in Harvest Siftings; and although Brother Hirsh followed me in a speech from the same platform that evening he did not deny that he had made such an offer, and several of the brethren afterwards commented upon the fact that he had not denied it.

Brooklyn, N. Y.
REAL ISSUE EXAMINED

Having disposed of the immaterial issues, which tend to confuse, let us now look for a moment at the real issue, namely—Was the President justified, in view of all the facts and circumstances, in appointing four consecrated brethren to fill vacancies on the Board of Directors to act such as to disturb the annual election to be held next January?

FACTS CONCEIVED

The following facts are admitted by the opponents and by all who know anything about the situation:

The Brethren of the Towne Bible and Tract Society acted as its manager, without question, from organization until his death last year; that the Shareholders at the annual meeting in January, 1917, by unanimous vote, expressed the wish that the President should always be management in person and that the Society's agents possessed the right to appoint him. It is further admitted by opponents that the Board of Directors, one of the brethren, who was a party to a by-law with reference to the management, and that the President had no right or authority to appoint any of the hands of the President, as the executive officer, to act quickly to procure the legal opinion of some disinterested lawyer and to proceed in order the Board might act.

The President ruled that the resolution thus offered was out of order, and the brethren did not attempt to pass it over his veto; and thus assumed the responsibility, but, as above stated, one of them immediately produced and introduced another resolution previously prepared, to deprive the President of the management of the Society and to put into the hands of the four mentioned: Up to this point everything relating to the controversy was wholly on the defensive.

in seeking to put through a resolution approving the actions of Brother Johnson above stated? Or were they not, in so doing, wrongfully attempting to override the Shareholders and the President of the Society, by virtue of the long continued custom of the Society, and by virtue of the by-law duly passed and approved both by the Shareholders by the Board, the question now here for consideration is

2) that thus the real issue of the management (not control) of the Society came to the front and led to the introduction of the resolution to repeal the by-law. Be it known that this was the beginning of the trouble on the Board and that there had been trouble on the Board prior to the consideration of Brother Johnson's episodes. Having in mind that the President was then the manager, by virtue of the long continued custom of the Society and by virtue of the by-law duly passed and approved both by the Shareholders by the Board, the question now here for consideration is in attempting to repeal a by-law which they had solemnly agreed and which by-law the Shareholders ratified in 1917; especially when the Charter, and the Shareholders expressly stated it should continue to be.

It is admitted by them that the consideration of Brother Johnson's episodes in England was the beginning of the trouble, and that the consideration thereof, which occurred some time after his return from England, led to the introduction of the resolution to repeal the by-laws. "Opponents' Paper" expressly admits (Page 6, column 2) that "thus, the real issue, the management of the Society came to the front and led to the resolution to repeal the by-laws."

It stands admitted and not denied that the four brethren in question, as a committee, spent a week in examining the papers relative to Brother Johnson's English episodes, and their conclusion was that they reported to the Board of Directors a resolution approving Brother Johnson's course there—even that part of his action, namely, the institution of a lawsuit and the tying up of Brother Johnson's solicitors at the annual meeting in January,

"Opponents' Paper" expressly admits (Page 6, column 2) that they had received notice from the President of the Society not to do so. (Brother Hirsh introduced this very resolution, which the chair ruled out of order, and then Brother Hirsh retorted that it had been filed with the Secretary that it would be published here.) The President ruled the resolution out of order on the ground that it is the duty of the executive and manager of the Society to recall any Pilgrim brother when necessity arises, and that the lawsuit had been instituted by Pilgrim Brother Johnson without any rightful or legal authority, and that it was the duty of the President, as the executive officer, to act quickly to procure the legal opinion of some disinterested lawyer and to proceed in order the Board might act.

In view of the fact that the other four brethren, on different occasions, had said practically the same thing, would any sane man for a moment believe that all were consulting together? In addition to this I personally saw them together several times and without a single fact and circumstance, in appointing four consecrated brethren to fill vacancies on the Board of Directors to act such as to disturb the annual election to be held next January?
A DIFFICULT SITUATION

One brother, acting in Great Britain, had discharged two of the managers of the London office, forced them out of the house, had taken possession of the books, mail and money of the Society, had instituted a law suit in the High Court of London and tied up the funds of the Society and thus hindered the work. This brother had returned to America now, and because he could not have his own way about what action should be taken in returning him to Great Britain, he appealed to the four brethren who were supposed to be legal members of the Board of Directors. He writes out a paper and takes it to these four and has them sign it, and then he himself presents it to the President of the Society demanding that the Board of Directors be convened to give the paper another hearing. (This would have meant the third hearing.) This led to the offering of the resolution by Brother Hirsh, hereinbefore mentioned, approving Brother Johnson's course in England; and that being overruled led to the introduction of the further resolution that four brethren should take the management of the Society's affairs out of the hands of the President where it was legally placed by the Shareholders and the Board of Directors and to put it into the hands of the four who were advised by Brother Johnson.

This was met by several weeks of correspondence in a disturbance of the office force by the four brethren in question; and also a disturbance of the Bethel family. A number of the office force had expressed their intention to leave if the four brethren got control of the management. One of the four brethren mentioned had made a covert threat to me in the presence of others with reference to tying up the funds of the Society.

I expected a meeting of the Board shortly after my return from Chicago. I waited until the meeting and resisted their course of action then it was reasonable to expect that they would carry out their threat without delay and institute such a suit before I could do anything. Was it wise, then, for me to wait, or was it the part of wisdom to act quickly? After prayerful consideration of this matter, I deemed it best for the interests of the work for me to act without any delay. Hence I went from Chicago directly to Pittsburgh and appointed the four able brethren heretofore named to fill the vacancies on the Board.

When I procured the legal opinion from the Philadelphia counsel it was not my purpose then to appoint others to fill the vacancies on the Board, but to be able to convince the brethren of the true situation. Not until Brother Wisdom subjoined to me the facts as herefore published, which showed the dangerous situation and the necessity of immediate action, did I determine what to do. It was then that I decided to fill these vacancies. I called a meeting on the 17th of July, inviting Brothers Wright, Ritchie, Hirsh and Hoskins to be present, with the purpose of reading to them the legal opinion, then to advise them of the situation; and was hoping that they would quietly acquiesce, that the trouble would end and the question go on smoothly. They were all in the Bethel Home that day but refused to come to the meeting, and thus forced me to make a statement in the dining room before the family and others with reference to the appointment of Brothers Spill, Bohmle, Fisher and Hendricks as the reason for the action which had taken this.

This occurred on the same date the Seventh Volume was first announced and given to the family, and because of which I had asked all the family to be present at the noon meal. I moved that the question of the four brethren in taking this action? No, not at all. I have no ill feeling against any of the four brethren in taking this action. By the opposing brethren, I then and there offered to resign as President if such resignation was desirable. And the brethren -事后 made a similar statement in the dining room in the presence of the entire family, and in the presence of these four brethren - I greatly deplore strife and trouble; such will tend to keep out of the Kingdom all who engage in it. I want to get into the Kingdom of all those who want to work in harmony for my brethren. I have tried to avoid this trouble.

Let us have peace! The Harvest work is of paramount importance above the honor or interests of any man. Let us honor the Lord first, and love all let us unitedly go forth into His work. The words of the Apostle seem so appropriate at this time:

"Look to yourselves, that we lose not things which we have wrought, but receive a full reward. With much love for and prayers on behalf of all of God's dear children, I beg to remain,

Your brother and servant by His grace,

J. F. RUTHERFORD.
AN OPEN LETTER TO THE PEOPLE OF THE LORD
THROUGHOUT THE WORLD

DEAR BRETHREN IN THE LORD:

Loving greetings in the Master’s Name!

Following we present a copy of a petition which we have sent to Bro. Rutherford and the four deposed Directors of the Society. This petition has been prepared after prayerful and careful consideration and with an earnest desire to see the distressing controversy which has shocked and grieved us, and no doubt all of you, settled in a just and equitable manner.

Most of the undersigned reside in Brooklyn and the immediate vicinity and have had abundant opportunity to view the injurious influence of these unsettled questions here in our midst. We have seen this controversy grow until it now seriously threatens the harmony of the New York City Ecclesia;
we have seen a growing coldness and lack of sympathetic understanding developing amongst brethren we feel sure possess the spirit of the Lord, and we have heard of similar conditions elsewhere. Our hearts are grieved beyond measure by these conditions. What shall we do?

The issues are not so clear that we can quickly judge as to the right and put these matters out of our minds. It is impossible for us who know the character of the brethren who differ with the present management of the Society to accept the suggestions made by some who superficially view the matter, namely, that “they have gone out of the Truth”; that they are “opposed to the Channel,” etc. We know to the contrary, that they love the Lord and are endeavoring to serve Him and His people daily.

What then can be done to decide the important principles involved and to bring this great controversy to an end? How can we assist our brethren to right what is wrong and become able to again dwell together in purity and unity and so to become reconciled to one another? How can we take our stand as the Lord’s people in an effort to thwart the evident intention of our Adversary to distract our minds from “the better things” — the Lord’s Word and the service of the Truth? Will this be accomplished by closing our eyes and ears to the trouble and permitting prejudice or ignorance to sway us to one side or the other, and thus “judge the matter before we hear it”? We are convinced, dear brethren, that the course which will have the Lord’s approval and accomplish His Will is to follow His Word and “hear” these questions which have arisen between our brethren and render an impartial decision.

To us it seems clear that both sides of this controversy have appealed the case for settlement to the Lord’s people in general. We have a responsibility, therefore, to render such as-stance as we can in harmony with Matt. 18: 15-17, and Bro.

Russell’s comments thereon in Volume 6. We cannot all meet and give these questions our united attention; but we can urge that an impartial committee hear the matter and present their findings, decision and recommendations to the Shareholders’ meeting in Pittsburg, which is as near a full assembly of the Church in the flesh as it is possible to have.

The suggestion may be made that such a committee could be appointed and a hearing had at the Pittsburg meeting in January. A little reflection, however, will convince that this would be impossible. Sufficient time could not be devoted there for an orderly and thorough hearing. Unless this committee is appointed before the January meeting and has time to thoroughly investigate these questions, which are of such importance to us as the Lord’s people, we will not have the information we need to intelligently express the Lord’s choice for Directors and Officers, and His mind on other matters which may come before the Convention.

Do you wish to help in securing a fair hearing and settlement of this controversy? You can do so if you will.

The proposed “straw vote” to be taken on Nov. 21, 1917, will require us, unless we refuse to vote for any of those who are concerned in this controversy, to cast our votes for brethren as Directors and Officers of the Society (who if elected, will occupy positions as general overseers of the Church throughout the world), who are lying under serious charges, which should prevent their being elected as Elders in any local congregation, until these are heard and disposed of. This would not be in harmony with good order according to the Lord’s Word.

The real election comes in January; the “straw vote” on Nov. 21 is not necessary; nor, under the circumstances, does it seem wise. Instead of taking part in this vote at that time, we suggest to the friends that they present in their local meeting a resolution embodying a petition to Brother Rutherford and the deposed Directors for the appointment of an Investigation Committee, as is proposed below. If this resolution is passed, see that a copy is forwarded to Brooklyn. If you wish to further show your approval of this action, send a personal request to Bro. Rutherford and the other brethren.

The Lord may use this means to enable all concerned to come to an amicable understanding and agreement, by clearing away all evil, in fact as well as in thought; and, by righting all wrong, so make it possible for love to operate effectively in us all. This will, we think, tend to clear the reputations of the brethren on both sides, whom we dearly love in the Lord and whose welfare we seek, and to the great relief, comfort and blessing of His people everywhere.

With much love and praying for you and us all the Lord’s guidance and blessing and an ever-increasing measure of His Spirit we are

Your brethren in the Lord.

A PETITION TO BRO. RUTHERFORD AND THE FOUR DEPOSED DIRECTORS OF THE W. T. B. & T. SOCIETY

DEAR BRETHREN—

The undersigned, together with many others throughout the world, have been greatly distressed by the controversy which has arisen among the Directors and Officers of the Society as constituted at the time our dear Brother Russell left us about a year ago and since, and which has involved the good reputation of all of you and a number of other brethren whose standing among the Lord's people has been good heretofore. It seems to us the great need at this time is to seek the Lord's instructions and, acting in harmony therewith, use your best and united efforts to secure a just, impartial hearing and settlement of the matters which have troubled, and which continue to distress, the Lord's people throughout the world, and even threaten the unity of the congregations in some places.

The necessity for prompt action looking toward such a hearing of the persons and matters under criticism is especially apparent in view of the near approach of the annual election of Directors and Officers of the Society; and that owing to the several publications which have been sent out by the parties to this controversy, the reputations of all have been impaired; and at present it is impossible for many, including the undersigned, to harmonize the statements of these opposing papers, as they are quite contradictory. This very fact puts all of you at a disadvantage as respects the coming election. Some of the friends are disposed to place the greater confidence in the publications of Brother Rutherford, and are thus prejudiced against the other brethren; while the reverse is true of other friends, who have greater confidence in the statements of the deposed Directors and others.

Such a condition, and especially that we and the other friends throughout the world should nominate and elect as Directors and Officers of the Society brethren now lying under such serious charges, as all of you are, seems to us the reverse of good order in the Church, as outlined in the Lord's Word and Brother Russell's expositions in Volume Six. The Directors and Officers of the Society surely occupy as responsible a position in the Church as an Elder in a local congregation, practically the only difference being that the Elders' sphere is local, while the representatives of the Society have a general charge as respects the oversight of the Church throughout the world. The character requirements of these officers of the Society should, then, be quite as stringent as if they were being elected as Elders in a local congregational election. Brother Russell points out in Volume Six, page 418, that slander against an Elder of a congregation is a slander against the congregation electing him. It is apparent to all that serious charges have been brought against all of you and other representatives of the Society; and thus the entire Church has become involved and has a responsibility regarding the hearing and judging of these.

We are aware that the claim of all of you, no doubt, is that your circulation of uncomplimentary statements about the other side was not slander and evil-speaking, as it would have been, had you taken this course as elders of some local congregation. We presume that your thought in publishing these statements which have so shocked the Church, was that you had every right to settle matters amicably among yourselves without avail, and that you were in these papers appeal-
mittee to hear and report on such important matters, and seems in harmony with Brother Russell's views on a similar question, namely, the committee constituted to hear and judge charges against any member of the Editorial Committee of the Watch Tower, which would approximate that number.)
That these brethren be chosen because of their known soundness in the Truth, faithfulness to the Lord's work and possession of a good measure of His Spirit; that they be charged both by the principals in the controversy and those whom they would represent namely, the Church in general and especially the Shareholders, to hear the matter without prejudice, and in the fear of the Lord to render their decision, and to report the same, together with their recommendations, to the Shareholders' meeting in Pittsburg on January 4.
That this committee be called together as quickly as possible, so that ample time may be had for the hearing and formulating of their report and recommendations.
With Christian love and praying for you and us all the

FACTS FOR SHAREHOLDERS OF THE
Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society

"What doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, love mercy, and walk humbly with thy God?"

November 15 Brooklyn, New York 1917

This Paper is issued for the purpose of assisting the friends in expressing their views and wishes properly with sufficient knowledge at the January election at Pittsburgh, so as to place the responsibility upon each individual, where it should properly belong.

It is also intended to have the same purpose and effect with reference to the voices of the Classes which are to be heard on November 21, 1917.

The “ousted” Directors desire merely to fulfill their responsibility to the Lord and the brethren, so that the mouths of the friends may be stopped as against them hereafter.

It is a legal maxim that a man intends the consequences of his acts, and it is presumed that the friends of the Truth likewise intend the consequences of the action they are about to take. Such being the case, they must each one bear the responsibility for his own decision in the matter.

PROXIES

The Pennsylvania statute authorizes voting by proxy. A form for use in voting by proxy is furnished herewith. The proxy sent out by the present management of the Society is not correct. The Pennsylvania Statute requires a witness to the signature of the person executing the Proxy, and there is no place indicated for the signature of the witness on that form. The forms issued herein will be found legal and effective and can be filled in with safety.

A Proxy in Pennsylvania is valid for only two months from its date, therefore any Proxy dated prior to Nov. 5, 1917, will be invalid.

A LATER PROXY REVOKES AN EARLIER ONE

A Proxy dated subsequently would, if presented for voting, be proper and valid and would revoke the former Proxy if already executed and delivered.

If any one gives a Proxy for the meeting, and then attends in person, the Proxy is superseded and revoked by the presence of the voter himself, who must then do his own voting.

The Proxy sent out with Nov. 1 Tower is one which permits the person voting for another to disregard his wishes. It permits the one holding the Proxy to vote at the Annual Meeting, or at any adjourned or subsequent session of the Annual Meeting for the election of Directors or Officers, as the person holding the Proxy may decide.

An ordinary Proxy gives only the right to vote at Annual Meetings for Officers and Directors, and things incidental thereto. We furnish two Proxies, either one of which may be used, but not both by the same individual. One gives complete discretion to the one designated to act, the other gives the special and particular authority to vote for particular persons only. A Proxy may be given, of the latter kind, restricting the agent to act as directed, or not at all. The friends will make their own choice. This latter method is the one always suggested by Bro. Russell for Church matters. Each voter, that is, each person having donated ten dollars at any time or larger sums, is entitled to one vote for each ten dollars. He cannot be deprived of his vote or votes lawfully!

Each shareholder is entitled to a certificate showing the number of shares he may vote.

DIRECTORS NEED NOT BE RESIDENTS OF PENNSYLVANIA

The Pennsylvania statute laws concerning corporations which require that three Directors of such corporations shall be residents of Pennsylvania, after a careful examination and study of the Pennsylvania decisions, do not apply to the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society, therefore the shareholders are not restricted in voting for Directors to vote for brethren who reside in Pennsylvania. The Watch Tower Society is not a religious Society for public worship, such as a Church, but is a business corporation, not for profit, and statutes requiring religious corporations of that nature to have three Directors in Pennsylvania do not apply. The statute requiring one-third of the Directors of certain companies to live in that State does not apply to the Society, and section six of the corporation law, requiring three of the original subscribers to live in Pennsylvania, does not require the Society to have three local Directors.

THE RIGHT TO VOTE

The right to vote is a Charter right, and such right cannot lawfully be taken away by means of a by-law! A by-law may be made regulating the right to vote, but may not take away that right.

It is unlikely that enough people would desire to vote as to the management of the Society, having the right to do so, who are not believers in the Present Truth to make them dangerous to the Society; nevertheless, recognizing the spirit of the by-law (which the President of the Society says exists), prohibiting those out of harmony with the Society from voting, the fact that all who take a conscientious wrong agrees to be in harmony with the purposes which have been set forth for years on page two of "The Watch Tower" under the caption, "This Journal and its Sacred Mission," are fully qualified to vote at the election within the spirit and letter of the by-law, and to answer "yes" to the question on Proxy furnished with the Nov. 1, 1917, Tawzen.

Such may, of course, also conscientiously say that they believe the Society is the Lord's agent in the execution of the Harvest work, until the shareholders themselves decide at some time in the future to change the policy of the Society. Surely, one man such as Bro. Rutherford cannot be the Society, and all the shareholders the followers of his will or cajolery, unless they decide for themselves to do so, and unless they have so decided, and they cannot do so until Jan. 5, 1918, when a shareholder's vote at the Annual Meeting--because they are the Society!

The Society has a right to close its books a reasonable time before election (viz., Dec. 10, 1917), so as to enable the Secretary to ascertain how many votes each one is entitled to cast; but the Society has no right to say that no one may vote unless the Secretary endorses him and says he may do so.

The Secretary must be prepared at the place of election with a voting list and the books of the Society. The books are the test of the right to vote as of the 10th day of December. Any one can see that this is true, because if a person votes personally he will go to the meeting and not send himself to Bro. Van Amburgh at Brooklyn on Dec. 10, 1917. He could not be required, either, to send his Proxy to Brooklyn. The Inspectors may at the meeting check his right to vote as the books stood on Dec. 10 previously.

Had the certificates been sent out as they were last year, the voting would have been more simple. The method now suggested will work, if adopted, to take the control from the friends.

The friends all know how many votes they were entitled to last year and how much more they have donated since then, and so each knows the shares he or she may vote.

The Classes, if they adopt the suggestion in the Nov. 1, 1917, "Watch Tower," will vote to suggest their preferences on Nov. 21, 1917. This Class-vote of those professing consecration has nothing to do legally with the Society. No one is a member of the Society of the Directors of certain. The Society is a business corporation, not for profit, and is a creation of the law of Pennsylvania, and is not (legally) a religious corporation!

There possibly is no objection to sending the Proxy to Brooklyn to be checked by the Secretary, but if a Brother or Sister does not receive his Proxy again in time to deliberate and take into consideration, it is a breach of duty to the Annual Meeting from his own Class or county or State, he may execute a new Proxy and date it later than the earlier one, and the later will be the lawful one, and the Inspectors of Election should so decide.

It will be entirely proper for all the consecrated in the Present Truth to answer "YES" to the question on the Proxy, as the President has no right to impose such a condition in such a way; and he is not the Society—or Channel!

It is like a state of effort to exclude the one from voting who do not agree with the three principal brethren who have subverted affairs by force and craft.

INSPECTORS OF ELECTION

The law requires that the ballots be taken by Inspectors of Election. The law requires that they make oath to execute the office properly. These Inspectors should be selected by the vote of the Shareholders present, voting either in person or by Proxy. The Inspectors must receive the vote and do the deciding. The books must show who may vote and how many shares. If any Shareholder is able to demonstrate to the Court of the State of Pennsylvania that the Election is to be conducted fraudulently or by force, the law provides that he may apply by Bill in Chancery to the Court to designate a Master in Chancery to conduct the election. It would be well for the friends to select two lawyers, brethren, to act as Inspectors of Election, or one lawyer and another brother, but, of course, should be disinterested personally.

There Were No Vacancies in the Board of the W. T. B. & T. Society—Hence There Was No Room for New Directors

"Harvest Sittings," No. 2 (page 1), states that the four Directors were not legal members of the Board. This statement, we believe, to be untrue. In fact, we are sure it is untrue!

The Pennsylvania statute holds that "in case of the death, removal or resignation of the President or any of the Directors, Treasurer or other officer of any such company, the remaining Directors shall supply the vacancy thus created, until the next election."

The Pennsylvania Courts have held that "Directors appointed to fill vacancies hold until their successors are elected!"

Bro. Rutherford states in the Nov. 1, 1917, "Watch Tower" (page 328, col. 2, par. 2 and 3) that after the original Board of Directors was chosen (in 1884) there never was an election of Directors. He says "Successors to those original Directors were never elected by the Shareholders."

The Pennsylvania Courts have expressly held that as the statute in that State provides that the Directors or Trustees shall be chosen annually by the stockholders or members at the time fixed by the by-laws and shall hold their office until others are chosen and qualified in their stead, that means until an election for Directors has been held.

The case of Pennsylvania Milk Producers' Assn. vs. First Natl. Bank (20 Pa. C. C. 540) expressly holds that "Directors appointed to fill vacancies hold until their successors are elected!"

The Courts of Pennsylvania hold that Directors hold over until an actual valid election takes place, even though the time for the election for Directors may have passed.

It is general, also, in the various States that "hold-over" Directors may hold meetings, fill vacancies in the Board and vote to sell property, the same as though regular elections had been held. (See Kent Co. Agricul. Society vs. Houseman, 81 Mich. 609.)

The text books, too, on the subject say that the old Directors continue in office until their successors are duly elected. (See Cook on Corporations, 7th Ed., Sec. 242.) Section 61, act of 1891, of the Pennsylvania Corporation Law says that "the Directors shall be chosen annually at the time fixed by the by-laws, and shall hold their office until others are chosen and qualified in their stead. Hold-over Directors must perform the duties enjoined by the laws as regularly elected Directors." (See Kenard vs. Wood, 130 Pac. R., 194; Cook on Corp., Sec. 713, 7th Ed.)

prepped to realize that the following statement on page 1, “Harvest Siftings,” No. 2, Col. 2, is not true. The statement as made was:

“The real issue is: Was the President justified in appointing four members of the Board of Directors, which he did on the 12th day of July, 1917, to fill vacancies then existing and to hold office until the next annual election to be held by the shareholders on the 5th day of January, 1918?”

All can readily see that the President is establishing a false premise, because the real issue was the question: Were there any vacancies to be filled at all? and we can answer the question in the negative.

Supposing it had been true that there had been vacancies in the Board to be filled, was Bro. Rutherford justified in deciding that such vacancies existed and to so act?

We have seen that having recognized these Directors he could not himself re-pudiate them, but additionally we find that while the Charter authorizes the President to appoint, when the Directors do not do so after a time, we know that this could not possibly mean that the President could act secretly and make such appointments when the allegation of vacancies were not apparent to the Directors, so that they could first elect to act or not to act and thus fill the vacancies if they wished.

Surely the Shareholders would have preferred to act according to the plans outlined in various ways by Bro. Russell, particularly as expressed in such legal matters as the Charter of the Society; but all can see that if the legality of the contents of the Charter and other papers are to be questioned by the President, it then becomes necessary to follow what is legal to the exclusion of that which is not so.

Bro. Rutherford acted on the advice of his Philadelphia lawyer and states that the provision in the Charter that the Directors shall hold office for life is illegal and that they must be elected annually. His lawyer went on to say that “any provision of the Charter which is contrary to the statute will be disregarded, and that part of the Charter which is in harmony with the statute will be upheld.” Turning, then, to the statute of Pennsylvania we find that the statute says that in case of the death, removal (viz., lawfully) or resignation of the Directors, the remaining Directors may supply the vacancy thus created until the next election. We find then that the statute only permits the remaining Directors to fill the vacancies. As this can be done only where a majority of the Board exists to constitute a quorum and as a minority cannot fill vacancies, because a quorum is necessary, we see that where less than the majority acts a Shareholders’ meeting must be called to elect them, and the courts have so decided in other cases.

Strictly, then, the Charter provision that the President shall appoint is contrary to the statute and so, on those decisions, the President had no power to make the appointments, and Bro. Rutherford is wrong on both propositions, as he is merely one of seven Directors, a very apparent minority of the Board.

In New Jersey the vacancies in the Board of Directors may be filled, if the by-laws so provide, by the President alone, or a minority if the Board so elect, because the statute does not require in that State that the vacancies must be filled, until the next election, by the Board of Directors, but merely provides in the statute that the vacancy may be filled in such manner as the by-laws of the company shall provide. We can see, therefore, that if the Society had been incorporated in New Jersey, the case would be different as to the President filling a vacancy than it is in Pennsylvania.

STATUTE AND CHARTER OF SOCIETY WITH REFERENCE TO DIRECTORS HOLDING OFFICE FOR LIFE

A great deal of significance has been placed upon the fact that the Court of Common Pleas of Pennsylvania, by Judge Collier, examined the Charter in 1884 and certified it to be in proper form and within the purposes named in the first-class specified in Sec. 2d of the Act of April 29, 1874, and its supplements, and that the amendment to the Charter in 1896 was certified by the same Judge to the same effect. The amendment, of course, relates here to the original Charter (as in amendments to statutes) and from then on must be considered in the same light as if originally a part of the Charter. That amendment, however, does not operate to make a corporation amenable on that account to a statute passed after the incorporation and before the amendment, where it was not otherwise within the previous law; as an amendment is different from a revival of a corporation whose Charter had expired.

The charter says: The ‘corporation shall have as officers a

"President, who shall preside at the meetings of the Board of Directors; a Vice-President, who shall preside in the absence of the President; and a Secretary who shall also be

"Treasurer; and these officers shall be chosen from among the members of the Board of Directors annually on the first Saturday of each year, by election of the shareholders of the corporation in Allegheny City, Pennsylvania. The members of the Board of Directors shall hold their respective offices for life, unless removed by a two-thirds vote of the shareholders, and vacancies in the Board occasioned by death, resignation or removal, shall be filled by vote of a majority of the remaining members of the Board, who shall meet for that purpose within twenty days from the time when such vacancy, or vacancies, shall occur, and in the event of a failure to fill such vacancy or vacancies, in the manner aforesaid, within thirty days from the time when such vacancy or vacancies shall occur, then the said vacancy or vacancies shall be filled by the appointment of the President, and the person, or persons so appointed shall hold his or their office, or offices, until the next annual election of officers of the corporation, when such vacancy, or vacancies, shall be filled by election, in the same manner as the President, Vice-President, and Secretary and Treasurer are elected.'

THE PRESIDENT RESPONSIBLE FOR THE TROUBLE

We have seen that Directors elected by Stockholders, or by Directors, to fill vacancies hold over in office until the next election for Directors; therefore, as long as and until the election for Directors takes place such Directors are legal, and the court may have considered that there would be no harm in allowing the Directors to hold over, if the Shareholders acquiesced in it.

We can see now, however, that as the new President has raised the issue the Shareholders must hold an election for Directors and select the officers from among such Directors. Bro. Russell was always a valid Director of the Society as held-over, and that was the reason he was never elected a Director afterwards, and it is not true to say that his election as President, by reason thereof, constituted him a Director. The Charter provides that the President shall be elected from among the Directors, and not that those elected President, Vice President or Treasurer shall be considered as elected to the Board of Directors, and no such arrangement was made in the Charter authorizing any such construction. The Directors are valid until an election for them takes place; and so there did not need in all this time to be an election for Directors, although the officers were chosen from among them.

Consequently, if all acquiesced in the Charter, everything would have continued year after year, and the new President is to blame for the change.

PURPOSE OF THE DIRECTORS THAT SCARED THE PRESIDENT SO

What action did the majority Directors contemplate to take on July 20, 1917, in accordance with statement to Bro. Rutherford at the Directors' meeting of June 20, 1917?

The answer will be found by reading the proposed by-laws, which were handed to the lawyers in New York, N. Y., viz., Davies, Auerbach & Cornell, before Bro. Rutherford announced the attempt to fill the alleged vacancies, which proposed by-laws have just been obtained from the law firm for insertion in this paper.

Let it be remembered that these by-laws were partly for the purpose of eliminating Bro. McMillan from the management, as the Directors thought he should have been removed after trial of the by-laws suggested by the Shareholders.

It is these by-laws that were meant to be proposed by the Directors, as they would have been at final passage, as undoubtedly the New York lawyers would have made some legal changes, but they do show the purpose of the Directors, and that they had no such absurd intention of wrecking the Society, as charged by the President.

"BY-LAWS, RULES AND ORDINANCES FOR THE GOVERNMENT OF THE WATCH TOWER BIBLE AND TRACT SOCIETY"

"Whereas, in the Providence of God, our beloved Pastor and late President of our Society, Brother Cha. T. Russell, passed from us, after having conducted the affairs of this Institution for approximately forty years, to the apparent satisfaction of all concerned; and

"Whereas, at the regular annual meeting of the voting Shareholders of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society, held at Pittsburgh, Pa., on Jan. 6, 1917, when our new President, Brother Jos. F. Rutherford, was elected, a copy of written by-laws was presented to the Convention that was recommended to the Board of Directors by the Shareholders of the Society; and

"Whereas, the Board of Directors were thus influenced by the Shareholders' vote to adopt for trial the by-laws thus outlined for them, and hoping the by-laws would prove practical and useful; and

"Whereas, we now learn, to our grief and sorrow, that said by-laws are a detriment to our work, threatening the stability and harmony of all its parts, and are subversive of the rights, privileges, and powers of its legally and properly constituted Managers, the Board of Directors, in whom the power to make by-laws and manage the Society exclusively resides; therefore, be it resolved,

"Resolved, that we, the Board of Directors, do now take into our hands the rights, privileges and powers vested in us by the Charter written by the hand of our departed and beloved Pastor, and strive by the help of God and our Lord Jesus Christ to be faithful to the trust which has thus been transferred to us. Be it further resolved,

"Resolved, that the by-laws and resolutions described foregoing be, and are hereby repealed and rescinded, and that the following are hereby enacted instead:

By-Laws

"(1) It shall be a law governing the Board of Managers of this Society that, while a majority of the members shall constitute a quorum, as specified in the Charter, no matter of business shall be decided with less than a majority vote of the seven members of the Board.

"(2) There shall be a regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors, held the first Thursday in each month, at which general reports shall be made concerning the status of the work, and especially as to the state of the Society's finances; and otherwise to enlighten its members fully as to what our Society is doing. Special Board meetings may be called at any time by four of its members."
"(3) The Board of Directors shall reserve the right always for its several members to have such individual work in connection with the offices of the Society (the Vice-President excepted, for obvious reasons), and to do whatever they may best be able to do to advance the work and consistent with their position as Board Members, and as their abilities warrant, and which will enable them so far as possible and practicable to be present at each and all of the meetings of the Board of Directors for decision. In the absence of any member of this Supervisory Committee for a brief time, the two remaining members thereof shall designate who of the Board of Directors shall serve instead. No new feature of the work shall be instituted, no contract shall be entered into, nor any purchase involving more than $100 expenditure, without the permission of the Board of Directors by a majority vote. The President, aside from his duties as a member of the Supervisory Committee and presiding officer of the Board, shall publicly represent the Society as authorized by the Board, and his duties shall be limited to this extent."

"(5) The Supervisory Committee may appoint whosoever it may seem advisable to the Working Force, except the Secretary, Treasurer, to the various departments of the office work, subject to ratification by the Board of Directors, only, provided as in Section 3, concerning Board members. New office help shall not be brought into the Bethel Home, or into the office, nor discharged from either, nor from the employ of the Society, without the consent of the duly constituted Board of Managers—the Board of Directors."

"(6) Any department or departments of the work which may seem advisable to be established shall be presented to the Board of Directors for their permission and advice."

"(7) It is reported that which is proper to be done by this Society, respecting the home and foreign fields, shall be performed in a manner that calculated to do the most good to all concerned, and to keep all the members of the Board of Directors thoroughly informed in respect to every part of the work, and reports of heads of all departments and foreign fields shall be made regularly at each regular Board meeting and maintain as far as possible the high standard of efficiency established by our late Pastor and President "Brother Russell."

"(8) All monies received by the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society shall be "looked after" in the name of the Society, and all such funds received "which are not needed for immediate use in the management of the business of the Society in the Nassau National Bank of Brooklyn for the present, but may be transferred in whole or in part to such other depository as the Board of Directors may direct."

Vice-President's Statement Against the Management in August

The following as quoted was handed to Bro. McGee at the Boston Convention last August by Bro. A. N. Pierson. Vice-President of the Society, as a statement of what he and the Directors should know, and which they did not know, and which they were called to give an account. We should be forced to say that we knew nothing about it. That would be a lame excuse for Directors.

"WE NEVER HAD A SATISFACTORY REPORT FROM THE TREASURER SINCE I HAVE BEEN A DIRECTOR. We do not know how the trust fund stands, nor how the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society stands. What are our financial relations between the Watch Tower B. & T. Society and the Peoples Pulpit Association? How is the trust fund treated? What are the securities? What interest do they draw?"

"WE WANT THE BOARD RECOGNIZED, AND TO BE PERMITTED TO GO ON DOING BUSINESS UNTIL THE END OF THE YEAR, OR UNTIL SUCH TIME AS WE CAN RESIGN, WHICH WE SHALL DO IF WE SEE NO FURTHER FINANCIAL OR OTHER RESPONSIBILITY."

"What is the condition of the Society's funds? Where was the amount of $100,000 borrowed for the Drama work? To whom was it returned? What interest was paid on this borrowed money?"

"In event of this matter coming before the courts, these features, of course, will be made public. Why not instead give us this information as members of the Board, to whom it is due? If the current should say, 'What about the trust fund?' each member of the Board would necessarily answer that he knew nothing about it. If the money had been poorly invested, the Directors, as members of the corporation, would be held responsible, and may not be responsible for transactions made during the life time of Bro. Russell; but the Board is entitled to a full explanation of the accounts subsequent to his death."
"President or Vice President, and the other, either the Auditor or the Assistant Auditor (who also shall be a Board member), when these are present, but never by both President and Treasurer, or by the Auditor and Assistant Auditor on the same occasion. The Auditors shall be elected by the Board. The Assistant Auditor shall act in the absence of the Auditor, and the President in the absence of the Treasurer, and vice versa. In the event of both President or Vice President and Treasurer being absent, or both Auditor and Assistant Auditor may sign or any Director and the Office Manager may sign instead. Care shall be taken that never shall all of these be absent from the same premises at the same time; and no member of the Board of Directors shall at any time be required to be absent from the Society's safe or vaults unless in the "same manner as required herein governing the checking of such bank accounts."

(9) Where it is possible and compatible with the laws of the State of New York to do so, the name 'Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society,' shall be kept prominently before the constituent members of the Society, since THIS IS THE INSTITUTION IN WHICH THEY HOLD THEIR VOTING SHARES. To this end, the Society's letter-heads and envelopes shall be "used, and the Society's imprint shall be kept upon all labels, books, etc., etc.

(10) The Board of Directors shall have authority to provide reasonably for such maintenance and support as may be reasonable and kind for those serving the Society in case of ill health and incapacity.

(11) All letters of a doctrinal character, and those letters asking questions pertaining to the Bible teachings of the Society, or any letters concerning matters of importance in the estimation of the Board of Directors, shall be answered by a Committee of the Board, composed as the Board shall by rule, from time to time, direct; except such letters as relate to the Editorial Committee, which shall be delivered to that department by the one assigned to distribute the mail. All other letters addressed to the different departments shall, of course, be distributed by rule, as designated by the Board.

(12) Any other by-law, by-laws or resolutions upon the Society's books which are contrary to the foregoing sections are hereby rescinded.

(13) These by-laws are to go into effect at once on their passage by the Board of Directors in regular session assemblled.

Order of Business

(1) Calling to order.
(2) Reading the Minutes of the previous meeting and their approval.
(3) Report of Special Committees.
(5) Report of Treasurer.
(6) Unfinished Business.
(7) Report of President.
(8) Report of Supervisory Committee.

Ordinances

(1) Be it ordained by the Board of Directors assembled on July 20, 1917, that the WULL of our late and beloved Pastor and Brother Russell be accepted, and is hereby adopted as the order, policy and spirit of this Society, especially as touching the management and the editorial of "The Watch Tower," which is the property of the Society by his donation; and also in respect to Brother Russell's "other" share of the property of the Society by his donation for at least ten years prior to his death, and which were by him placed in the hands of a Board of five "sisters, who are styled "Trustees."

(2) Be it further ordained that the several names by which our Society's work is designated refer to the "same thing," as stated by Brother Russell, in the Watch Tower of Dec. 1, 1915, as follows:

These three different Societies were made necessary by the Laws of different States and countries. For some things the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society is the preferable name. It is the parent Society and the one to which contributions are made. Whoever makes a donation is expected, if he will, to make it in the name of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society. The Peoples Pulpit Assn. is the only one of the three that can do business here in New York, and the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society deals "with the Peoples Pulpit Assn. and the Bible Students' Association as the "dependent organizations. Nevertheless, they are the same—just as with the different Societies of the nominal Churches, which would have, perhaps, the same Treasurer. [The Board of Directors, after this was written, knew in July that the Watch Tower Society was to operate in New York on advice of the New York attorneys.]

(3) Thus the whole management is by the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society, and these auxiliary organizations merely help in carrying on its work. We sometimes use one name and sometimes another, just as any one would have the right to use any names appropriate to his work. It is equally appropriate to say that we are the International Bible Students' Association. We are Bible Students, and are helping Bible Students in all parts of the world, by the "printed page, by financial assistance and in other ways. It is also appropriate to use the name Peoples Pulpit Assn. in connection with persons who are engaged in preaching and "are acting under guidance of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society."

(4) In other words, the Peoples Pulpit Assn. cannot transact business except through the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society. The Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society has the "management, and the Peoples Pulpit Assn. does the work—absolutely.

(5) The International Bible Students Association has no legal status except in Great Britain; the Peoples Pulpit Assn. has none except in New York State. We keep the Watch Tower "prominent on letter-heads, etc., so that the friends would not "misunderstand us and think that the Watch Tower has gone "out of the work."

(6) Be it still further ordained, and enacted, that the Board of Directors of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society shall, at every meeting of the Shareholders of the Peoples Pulpit Assn., and of the International Bible Students Assn., for the election of officers, and the transaction of any "other business which shall properly come before those "bodies, be represented by whomsoever the Watch Tower "Board of Directors shall designate by a majority vote of "said Board, and said representative shall vote as directed by "that Board. And any other by-laws, rules, ordinances or "regulations for the Bethel Home, Tabernacle or Temple "which may be contrary to the foregoing hereby rescinded."

A perusal of these will show that the Directors had no intension of deposing the President or wrecking the Society, but of safeguarding it.

It was proper for the Directors to attempt by-laws to correct the faults in the Executive Committee, as discovered in practice use of the by-laws suggested by the Shareholders at Pittsburgh, which were drawn by Bro. Rutherford. The courts hold that by-laws adopted by Stockholders are invalid when the power is exclusively vested in the Directors, as is the case in the Society. When the statute permits Directors to make by-laws and does not reserve the right to the Shareholders also, the power resides in the Directors, if the Charter so provides, as in this case. There is no such provision as the latter preserving any right to the Shareholders in the Pennsylvania statute. Nevertheless, the Directors passed the by-laws at a Directors' meeting in New York, as suggested by the Shareholders at the January election and endeavor to carry them out, and, as will be seen by the by-laws, which were to be passed by them in July, they are retained as they were then. It is by-laws of the "Committee," and retained the President on the committee, the only change being that the committee which recommended the by-laws at Pittsburgh endeavored to change them, and were thwarted by Bro. Rutherford, so as to provide that the Directors shall name the members of the Advisory Committee, or Executive Committee, instead of the President, who insisted upon naming them.
PEOPLE'S PULPIT ASSOCIATION

The President and Vice President of the Peoples Pulpit Assn. (Bro. Rutherford and McMillan) used Proxies on July 27, 1917, at a meeting of the Peoples Pulpit Assn., which they claim was an adjourned annual meeting. Bro. Rutherford states in "Harvest Siftings," No. 2 (page 28, col. 1) that the Proxies given for the January meeting were still in force, and that the powers of the members were identical to what they had at the original annual meeting. The meeting was adjourned to July 31, 1917, because of a question that the length of time of notice was legally insufficient. Bro. Rutherford says that the Proxies voted at the meeting of July 31 were unusable, and of course carried the authority of the holder to vote on anything that could have come before the annual meeting.

The statement is very misleading and erroneous. It is true that Proxies for use at an annual meeting may be voted at an adjourned annual meeting, but such Proxies may be voted only on matters that would have come before the annual meeting, and not on new matter of a different nature arising subsequent to the regular annual meeting. Not only so, but the form of Proxy did not permit any such use to be made of it, as it was merely a Proxy for use to elect Directors, and its use was entirely unlawful, and Bros. Hirsh and Hoskins are still lawful members and Directors of the Peoples Pulpit Assn. (See form of Proxy used as printed on page 10 of "Light After Darkness").

The Proxy said to have been voted by the deposed Directors, if voted at all, was not voted by either Brother Hirsh or Hoskins.

QUESTION THAT NEEDS AN ANSWER

What we would like to know is who wrote up the record in the Peoples Pulpit Directors' minutes, so that the record shows the annual meeting was adjourned to July 27, 1917? How did the Directors know they would want to meet on July 27, 1917, to expel members? When was the record written? They did nothing else at that meeting. (See Harvest Siftings, Part II, p. 28, Col. 1.)

The law of New York relating to Membership Corporations, such as the Peoples Pulpit Assn., places all the power in the Board of Directors; but any such unusual power as claimed by Bro. Rutherford under the Charter cannot be lawfully exercised by him.

He claims to hold office for life under the Charter, but the Charter may be amended by the members when they get ready.

If Bro. Rutherford is not re-elected to the Presidency of the World Tower Society, he should, of course, resign as President of the Peoples Pulpit Assn.

It looks like a reasonable suggestion that the Classes vote on the matter. But the difficulty is that the Class voting does not in such cases operate at first satisfactorily, because the friends, knowing little of the true circumstances, and not being so well informed as the influential Shareholders, are unable to protect themselves, and are swayed by the Class influence in meeting assembled by those who are willing to influence them by spontaneous suggestions. They would arrive at proper knowledge and conclusions about a year later than the better advised Shareholders.

The right way to do things is generally the best way. There is, however, nothing to prevent the Shareholders following the wishes of the Classes, if they feel they conscientiously may do so; but it is, of course, the Shareholders' votes which will decide the matter on Jan. 5, 1918, at Pittsburgh, Pa.

In most business companies the Shareholders elect the Directors, and then the Directors elect the officers, such as the President. This enables the Directors to protect the Shareholders, because the officers are accountable to the Directors, who can know what they are doing.

If the Shareholders desire to safeguard their affairs in this way they should do so by amending the Charter of the Society.

FREEHOLD, N. J.
FRANCIS H. MCGEE

AS TO THE BRETHREN

DO YOU KNOW that it was Sister Mary Walbach herself who made the remark re Bro. Russell's will found in her affidavit, and attributed to Bro. Hirsh?

DO YOU KNOW that she suggested him as a better editor than some of Bro. Russell's other nominees and said many more things, too numerous to mention, but that he said nothing in assent thereto?

DO YOU KNOW that the mother of this Sister whose name is also signed is not in the Truth, and that the Sister herself is well known to be very inaccurate in her usually voluminous statements? (It is not to be wondered at under the circumstances that she thus violates both Jesus' and St. James' instructions to "swear not at all.")

DO YOU KNOW that "Light After Darkness" states that there were objections among Board members to Bro. Rutherford controlling the Society's affairs before Bro. Johnson returned from England, while Bro. Rutherford in "Harvest Siftings," Part 2, claims that the Board's majority conceded that all were satisfied with his conduct of affairs until after Bro. Johnson's return?

DO YOU KNOW that Bro. Mason was doing the work which Bro. Russell called "auditor's" work—checking bills and drawing vouchers for checks?

DO YOU KNOW that after the publication of "Harvest Siftings," No. 2, requested Bro. Rutherford to discuss matters in dispute between them in the presence of two witnesses (Matt. 18), and that Bro. Rutherford refused to have anything to do with it?

DO YOU KNOW that a zealous, faithful sister placed her life earnings in Bro. Russell's hands, to be used in the work and to be returned to her in case of need, and that she engaged in the work, paying her own room rent outside of Bethel, but boarding at Bethel at Bro. Russell's special invitation, and was called in by Bro. Rutherford not long after his election and charged with idleness and suggested that she pay Bro. Amburge $1,500—board for five years, as there "was no record of her having ever done any work"? But do you know that even if she had owed it, at the rate of 7 cents per meal, the cost of providing Bethel meals, as stated by Bro. Russell, it would not have amounted to as much as $1,500?

DO YOU KNOW that such a state of confusion has been created in the Society's affairs by the rash acts of the President that the friends all over the world are perplexed and desire light on the organization of the Society, its finances, the activities of the past year and how best its Shareholders can arrange to carry on to completion the plans of its founder, Bro. Russell?

DO YOU KNOW that Bro. Rutherford dictated a resolution which was put through the New York City congregation which makes him Permanent Chairman of the Church, so that he controls everything in the Church, and that those who do not follow him in everything are looked upon as enemies?

DO YOU KNOW that Bros. A. I. Ritchie, I. F. Hoskins, J. D. Wright, R. H. Hirsh, Menta Sturgeon, W. J. Hollister, J. J. D. Cooke, W. T. Nelson, and J. G. Kuehn, all Elders of the New York Ecclesia, have been denied general service as Elders because they are advocates of Bro. Russell's arrangements being carried out according to his Will and Charter?

DO YOU KNOW that Bro. Rutherford in his "Harvest Siftings," No. 2 (page 1, Col. 2), says that "Light After Darkness" seeks to bring in a great many other things which have nothing to do with the real issue, but which have a tendency to confuse. (He had just stated what he considered
AS TO THE "CHANNEL"

DO YOU KNOW that while it was not improper for Bro. Rutherford to write his own biography, it was not proper to allow the friends to gain an erroneous impression as above, and that in his "Harvest Siftings," No. 2, where he attempts to explain the matter, he states that he dictated the biography to his stenographer, and that Bro. Hirsh took it away, implying that Bro. Hirsh was present when he dictated it, whereas Bro. Hirsh was not present when he did so, but received the paper from him afterwards?

DO YOU KNOW that in justice to Bro. Hudgings it should be stated that although he made the affidavit himself, he is now thought he confessed this biography of Bro. Rutherford's with a biography of Bro. Russell's, which Bro. Hirsh did write with his own hand?

DO YOU KNOW that the insanity charge made by Bro. Rutherford against Bro. Johnson and spread all over the world in Bro. Rutherford's "Harvest Siftings" was one of the greatest delusions ever foisted by one fellow servant against another and that Bro. Johnson's sweet spirited reply, now out in print, against such great wrong, refuting, too, every charge made against him, is another contribution to the truth which is bound eventually to bind hand and foot the ones who have been committing such great wrongs?

DO YOU KNOW that you will do great injustice to Bro. Johnson if you do not read his statement of facts which clearly refutes the grossly erroneous statements made concerning him by the President of the Society.

The real issue to be, namely, whether he was authorized to appoint Directors to fill possible vacancies.) And can you not see if such is the case that Bro. Rutherford himself endeavored to confuse the real issue by stating what he did about Bro. Johnson in his "Harvest Siftings," No. 1, because Bro. Johnson's conduct in England has nothing to do with the possible vacancies on the Board of Directors and the power of the President to fill any possible vacancies? Is not the above tendency on the part of the President to so confuse the issue and thus compel the brethren to reply thereto, what the French call in war "Camouflage"? Camouflage is painted scenery to conceal the real scene. On the sea, naval vessels obscure their movements by smoke screens. Did not Bro. Rutherford endeavor to make Bro. Johnson and the 7th volume a "camouflage," or smoke screen, for the real issue, and does he not admit it in his "Harvest Siftings," No. 2?

DO YOU KNOW that in his "Harvest Siftings," No. 2, Bro. Rutherford, on page 29, admits that he wrote the biography of himself and handed it to Bro. Hirsh, and that he accepted from Bro. Hudgings an affidavit that Bro. Hirsh had written his biography, and that he, Bro. Rutherford, placed Bro. Hudgings' affidavit in "Harvest Siftings," No. 1, after he had read it, knowing, of course, that it made it appear that Bro. Hirsh had composed it? The biography appeared in print as it was written by Bro. Rutherford, who furnished not only the facts, but wrote it up as it appeared in the newspapers, and later in "The Tower," with the exception of some cuts to make it fit the page.

DO YOU KNOW that Bro. Russell's traveling companion and secretary, who so faithfully ministered to his personal needs on his last journey on earth, has left the Society and the Bethel Home, because he realized that Bro. Russell's wishes have not been carried out as he directed?

DO YOU KNOW that some sixty efficient workers have been removed from Bethel since the present management took control?

DO YOU KNOW that practically everything at the Tabernacle and in the Bethel has been changed within one year after Bro. Russell's departure?

DO YOU KNOW that on the anniversary of Bro. Russell's death and glorification the last service was held in the New York City Temple, and that the Temple has now passed out of the hands of the Society and to that of the Church?

DO YOU KNOW that the Society no longer represents Bro. Russell's ideas respecting the work?

DO YOU KNOW that on the morning after Bro. Russell's death Bro. MacMillan assumed to direct that the Angelophone contracts be cancelled?

DO YOU KNOW that a sister offered to donate $1,500 to have the Angelophone records recorded, as stated in "Light After Darkness," and that the statement was true; but that when Bro. Rutherford learned of the circumstance he suggested the delay of the contract for recording the lectures and in the meantime arranged to accept that sum from the Sister by the Society, and at once gave the Society's check to pay for the recording and so, though technically the money was paid by the Society, as shown by their books, it was given by the Sister as previously stated, and so the statement on page 30, "Harvest Siftings," No. 2, is misleading?

DO YOU KNOW that after the acts and sayings of the President of the Society against its four Directors he invited them to enter the pilgrim service; but by making such an offer he belied his own attitude to the friends and was inconsistent in bringing so?

DO YOU KNOW that a misleading thought about the Channel for the Lord's work has been spread abroad—the point being stressed that the Lord wants continue to use the same channel, notwithstanding the well-known fact that life has repeatedly changed from one channel to another, whenever the channel became corrupted—setting aside the Catholic and various Protestant denominations? The channel is important only so long as its contents are satisfactory. Truth may easily become contaminated with error, and mixed or corrupted truth is much more dangerous than plain error. Besides, the six volumes of "Scripture Studies" were written by Pastor Russell. The Seventh is written by other men with prejudice and probably comments from still other men—a totally different channel.

DO YOU KNOW that many of the upholders of the present management of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society publicly state "they know Bro. Rutherford is absolutely wrong, but that they must stand by the "Channel"? DO YOU KNOW that while God approved Bro. Russell as the Channel, no false statements corrupted the water?

DO YOU KNOW why the Lord permitted the Watch Tower Bible to the Church to be the Channel?

DO YOU KNOW that it was because the Chosen Reservoir for the pure waters of Truth was "that Servant," who alone was permitted to open the sluices that the water might flow through the Channel?

DO YOU KNOW that only pure water could flow through a Channel approved by God?

DO YOU KNOW that the six volumes of "Scripture Studies" often are no longer mentioned in public meetings as guides to the proper understanding of God's plan, but that instead the Seventh Volume is set forth?

DO YOU KNOW that Bro. Rutherford, after Bro. Woodworth at the Boston Convention had preached Bro. Rutherford as the Steward of Matthew 20:8, forthwith sent Bro. Woodworth to the Aurora Convention, where he again preached Bro. Rutherford as the Steward—all this, too, after Bro. Rutherford had scorned at mention of Bro. Johnson as being the Steward?

DO YOU KNOW that since Bro. Rutherford's two editions of "Harvest Siftings" passed through the Channel (?) all right, it is, perhaps, safe to say that almost anything will now pass safely through the "Channel"?

DO YOU KNOW that Bro. Rutherford's admitted untruthful statements to the authorities to make sure of a passport to send Bro. Johnson out of the country was but one of the many flies which have found their way into the ointment during the past year?

DO YOU KNOW that Webster defines a channel as "that through which any thing passes"?
DO YOU KNOW that Calvin's burning of his Christian brother Servetus at the stake was due to the proper opposition of the latter to the so-called channel?

DO YOU KNOW that there are those who do not yet seem to know that the Channel through which the knowledge of the Divine Plan flowed for 40 years was transferred to other realms about a year ago and that to continue the work of this channel, we must "follow him even as he followed Christ"?

DO YOU KNOW that the 7th Vol. is not the posthumous work of Pastor Russell, for it does not present anything that Brother Russell prepared beforehand which was published after his death for the first time?

DO YOU KNOW that the 7th Vol. is a misfit penny so far as the parable of the "Penny" is concerned?

DO YOU KNOW that many of the strongest advocates of the 7th Vol. are those who have never read the book?

DO YOU KNOW that the Seventh Volume did not go through the Channel? and that it was not mentioned in "The Tower" previous to its distribution, and did not pass the inspection of the Board of Directors or of the Editorial Committee?

DO YOU KNOW that the publishing of Vol. 7 was an expediency to forestall any others who might publish one, not because of any new light; and that Bro. Rutherford, before his election, in recommending that it be published, said, because of the long desire of the friends for it, any one who published one could get from forty to fifty thousand dollars out of the friends and to forestall this, without the knowledge of the Directors or the Editorial Committee, the volume was prepared and issued?

DO YOU KNOW that in March Bro. Woodworth prophesied to Bro. Ritchie that Vol. 7 would be published in October, and that it would immediately "bring great persecution to the saints," but that for special reasons Bro. Rutherford hurried it out in July and it has not yet brought the predicted per-secutions?

DO YOU KNOW that Vol. 7 prophesied that the war would cease on about Oct. 1, but that the war is more severe than ever?

DO YOU KNOW that the interpretation of the Song of Solomon in Vol. 7 is not the posthumous work of Bro. Russell, but was written by Bro. Woodworth and sent to Bro. Russell several years ago, and that he laid it away and it was found and returned to Bro. Woodworth at his request after Bro. Russell's death?

DO YOU KNOW that Vol. 7, page 58, states that Bro. Russell was seen to "stand in one position all night in prayer," whereas in the Bethel dining room on two occasions he very plainly said he had never prayed all night, nor over half an hour at a time; and that he did not see how any one could do so without ignoring the Lord's injunction to avoid "vain repetitions"?

DO YOU KNOW that page 229, Vol. 7, teaches that Bros. Woodworth and Fisher "trod the winepress" at Scranton; but that Bro. Rutherford et al. now urge the friends to use Vol. 7 to gather the clusters of the vine of the earth—after the winepress has been trodden?

DO YOU KNOW that Vol. 7, page 230, sets forth an assumed proof of the Divine origin of the book, and that it is based upon the distance from Scranton to Bethel; but that the 1200 furlongs is an error, found in only one obscure MS. and rejected by all scholars, and none of the work was done at the imaginary point between the authors' homes, and that none of the mail travels the route selected by Bro. Woodworth to make the distance agree, but it goes over the Brooklyn Bridge to the Brooklyn Post Office, five-eighths of a mile beyond Bethel, and is carried back to that place, and that it is very improbable that any portion of the manuscript came that way unless Bro. Woodworth specially brought a portion to make guesses at?

DO YOU KNOW that the Author of the six volumes of "Studies in the Scriptures," Bro. Russell, was the Editor of "The Watch Tower"? Do you think it proper for the President of the Society to permit and encourage two outside brethren to write the book and then for him to secretly issue it without the knowledge of the Society and the Directors, and without the knowledge or participation in the writing or correcting of the volume by the Editors of "The Watch Tower"? Do you think that if, as Bro. Rutherford claims, the Watch Tower Society has been used by the Lord as the channel for business matters for the Harvest Work under Bro. Russell as the Lord's servant that the 7th Vol. should be copyrighted in the name of the People's Pulpit Assn. instead of the Watch Tower Society?

DO YOU KNOW that the money for the 7th Vol. did not come from the Watch Tower Society, but was diverted from it to the direct issuance of the volume without the knowledge of the Directors or Editors of "The Tower," and that therefore the volume has not been issued, as stated, under the patronage or copyright or order of the Society and is not, therefore, a product of such channel? Do you care about this, or will you stand for anything or anybody who is able to control the Society by craft or force or otherwise, whether they be right or wrong? Does it not seem probable that Bro. Rutherford's action in appointing new Directors at Pittsburgh, July 12, was because he feared that if the Directors discovered what he was doing with regard to the 7th Vol. that they would insist on having the Editorial Committee edit it and that the by-laws which they might pass on July 20th would enable them to take some control and to learn of his secret plans and purposes so as to hinder the distribution of this doctrinal matter? Why was it that Bro. Rutherford was afraid to have the Directors and Editorial Committee pass on the book? What made him think that it would be objectionable to them? Has he not said in his "Harvest Siftings," No. 2 (page 26, col. 2, par. 2), that the four brethren continued to be quiet, and had not shown a disposition to look into what he was doing in the Society's affairs, there would never have been any attempt even to call in upon the legality of his office? Do you think it right for Bro. Rutherford, thinking they were illegally in office [and the strange part of it all is he was just as much illegally in office as they were], to countenance and act with them as Directors and then to throw them out when he got tired of them, knowing he could do it all the time, as he thought? Do you not see that anyone wishing to do wrong would probably have done the same thing? Do you not see that he claims he had no quarrel with them before June 17, about which time the 7th Vol. was finished and being put out by the publishers? What do you think caused him to deceive these brethren with whom Bro. Russell found no fault, and of whom up to this time Bro. Rutherford had no reason to complain? Who gave him authority, as one member of seven, to act thus? Do you think that Bro. Russell would have approved of such conduct? Do you think that the Lord approves of it? What is there about the 7th Vol. that makes it necessary to put it out in this way? Do you care whether it is doctrinally correct or not?

DO YOU KNOW that Bro. Rutherford's Penny is printed in only one language, and that it will be impossible to have it translated into the various languages before his time set for the glorification of the Church—springtime? and thus, if this be the Penny, the foreign-speaking brethren are greatly disappointed?

DO YOU KNOW that since it will be impossible to translate the 7th Vol. into all the different languages by springtime, the prospects for foreign language brethren getting into the Kingdom, if the 7th Vol. be the Penny, are very remote?

DO YOU KNOW that the 7th Vol. teaches that the Great Company will be developed after the resurrection? (See page 585.)

DO YOU KNOW that Bro. Russell always set forth the fact that "the truths recorded in the Revelation are not for the world, nor for nominal Christians, but for the Church, the Body of Christ, the saintly ones—the Church of the First-Borns, which are written in Heaven"? (See Foreword, page 3, top of page—"Battle of Armageddon").

DO YOU KNOW that Bro. Russell never resorted to the method that if you do not get out and sell one of his volumes you will not get into the Kingdom, as some have done respecting the Seventh volume?

AS TO THE CHARTER

DO YOU KNOW that Bro. Rutherford has stated publicly before large congregations that the Charter of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society was the best written and finest document of its kind that had ever come to his attention in all his legal career?

DO YOU KNOW that the Charter states that only Directors are eligible to office in the Society, and that if there were no legal Directors there could have been no legal election and we are without a legal President?

DO YOU KNOW that the Charter states that Directors hold office for life, unless they should resign, or be removed by two-thirds majority of the voting shares?

DO YOU KNOW that for this reason no Director was elected to the Board more than once, though most of them held office for years?

DO YOU KNOW that Bro. Russell, like all others, had to be a Director before he could be eligible to candidacy for President of the Society?

DO YOU KNOW that Bro. Russell said it would be no proxy for you to give another person power to cast your vote as he thought best? that if you were present you would cast your vote for whomsoever you pleased? He said in politics there is a spirit trying to take advantage of the other party, but this should not be among the Lord's people; that when we meet for an election we want every Brother and Sister to have the fullest opportunity of expression; we want to thus find out what the Divine will is; we want to express what we think God's will is. The absent may send their proxy—but it would be no proxy in his viewpoint in the Church to give another power to vote for you as he thought best. (See Bro. Jones' book, "What Pastor Russell Said," page 233, first edition, page 245, second edition.)

DO YOU KNOW that Bro. Russell said that while parliamentary rules are generally wise and just and fair, still, Love comes in ahead of all the parliamentary rules in the world? Love wants all (Shareholders) to have equal voice in elections, and will not deprive any of the right to vote. He said someone might be of sharper practise and more experience and twist others all up until they would vote for something they did not understand and would afterward be dissatisfied. A satisfactory election is one in which all is done so openly and fairly that everybody's rights would be considered and all would be contented with the results. He said it was not proper to move to close nominations after one's own choice was nominated, thus cutting off the more timid brethren from opportunity to nominate and vote for their desired candidate. (Page 238, first edition, "What Pastor Russell Said").

DO YOU KNOW that the laws of the land and the Charter of the Society provide that certificates of membership shall be issued by the Secretary and countersigned by the President to the persons entitled thereto, showing the shares at the rate of one vote for every ten dollars donated, and that therefore the failure to issue such certificate this year was done last year, and requesting you to send your Proxy to Brooklyn on or before Dec. 10, is an attempt to evade the law and thereby control who shall vote?

DO YOU KNOW that the arrangement of Proxy forms issued by the management for the next Annual Election differs from that of other years, and is designed to exclude the votes of hundreds—if not thousands—of the Lord's consecrated people from that election, unless they confess themselves to be in harmony with the present administration and conduct of the Society's affairs?

DO YOU KNOW, or can you believe, that Proxy forms were last year sent to persons who were known to be—and to have been for many years—enemies of the truth, on the ground that they had contributed in former years to the funds of the Society? And that now the attempt is being made to exclude true friends of the Society and the Present Truth on the ground that they are not friends of the Truth because they do not as to the internal management by three brethren, viz: Bros. Rutherford, Van Amburgh and Macmillan?

DO YOU KNOW, or can you recall, that "The Watch Tower" of Nov. 1, 1917, under the subhead (on page 328) "Who Are Entitled to Vote?" is not in harmony with the Charter when it states that the voting-shares cannot be transferred?

DO YOU KNOW, when article VIII in the Charter says, "vacancies in the Board occasioned by death, resignation or removal, shall be filled by vote of a majority of the remaining members of the Board"; that in thus filling such vacancies they are "perpetuating" the Board, and not merely appointing to fill vacancies temporarily?

DO YOU KNOW, or would you not at least think, that "the spirit of a sound mind" would readily discern that the provision of the Charter, that a two-thirds vote of the Shareholders might remove any or all of the Board members, for cause, would be ample security to the Shareholders against any number of men fastening themselves upon the Society against its will?

DO YOU KNOW that the President's reasoning is utterly fallacious when he writes (in "Watch Tower," Nov. 1, 1917, p. 328, col. 2, 2d par. from bottom), "If the Directors were permitted to hold office for life, and to elect their successors, then it would be possible for seven men to absolutely and perpetually control the affairs of the Society in utter disregard of the wishes of the Shareholders"? Would not this also apply to the Presidency of the Peoples Pulpit Assn.?

DO YOU KNOW that the Charter of the Society provides that "Each donation of ten dollars to the funds of said Corporation shall entitle the contributor, or his assigns, to one non-forfeitable, non-assessable and non-dividend-bearing share, and to one vote for every such share in said Corporation"?

DO YOU KNOW that it would be wrong for the present management of the Society to seek to force any Shareholder to forfeit his voting shares, since the Charter states that these shares are "non-forfeitable"?

DO YOU KNOW that this last instruction to Shareholders—which is partly a quotation from by-laws voted on January 6, 1917, is a contravention of section V of the Charter, which states that these voting shares are "non-forfeitable"?
DO YOU KNOW that the Directors always elected Bro. Russell's nominees to vacancies on the Board, and that therefore he left the Board as he wanted it?

DO YOU KNOW that if the places of the four ousted Directors were vacant, then the place of Bro. Rutherford was also vacant?

DO YOU KNOW that this would have made him ineligible as a Presidential candidate and his election likewise illegal?

DO YOU KNOW that this would also make his by-laws illegal, and that therefore he could not have executive and managerial authority in the Society at home and abroad?

DO YOU KNOW that this would also make the Society without a Board?

DO YOU KNOW that thirteen able lawyers, including the Assistants of the Attorney Generals of Pennsylvania and New Jersey, have given it as their opinion that Bro. Rutherford's course in ousting the four Directors was not only morally, but also legally, wrong? And all are amazed, too, that anyone professing to be a Christian would attempt any such practice upon his Christian brethren?

DO YOU KNOW that while the Directors saw the possibilities of too great power being seized by the new President, they considered it wise to let him have what he asked, so that his purposes, whether modest or ambitious, might be rapidly revealed?

DO YOU KNOW that under his regime no financial reports were made to the Board, and they were frequently told, "These things are none of the Board's business"; and that in his "Harvest Siftings," No. 1, Bro. Rutherford makes the claim that he is in full charge; while in his "Harvest Siftings," No. 2, after he has a so-called Board subservient to him, he says that the Board has full control?

DO YOU KNOW that the four Directors could not, without stultifying themselves, possibly accept the President's offer to go into the Pilgrim work until after the President had righted the wrongs of which he had been guilty?

DO YOU KNOW that the original Board of Directors wished to investigate the finances of the Society so as to best conserve the interest of the contributors, but that they were summarily dismissed, so as to prevent this investigation, and were then charged with trying to wreck the Society? Don't you think that there is something wrong—that there is something that will not bear investigation?

CONTROLLERSHIP—ALSO VOTING, ETC., JAN., 1917

DO YOU KNOW that Bro. Ritchie, when Vice-President, knew nothing about the proposed resolutions for the Shareholders to pass last January, until after they were prepared and were shown him by Bro. Rutherford?

DO YOU KNOW that Bro. Ritchie said not a word in favor of those resolutions, nor did he take them to Pittsburgh, nor give them to the Resolutions Committee, as stated by Bro. Rutherford?

DO YOU KNOW that Bro. Van Amburgh and Bro. Rutherford alone of the Executive Committee engineered these resolutions until they were passed?

DO YOU KNOW that Bro. Van Amburgh gave them to Bro. Margeson, the Chairman of the Resolutions Committee, recommending that the Committee report them as not only clearly, but also legally, wrong? And all are amazed, too, that anyone professing to be a Christian would attempt any such practice upon his Christian brethren?

DO YOU KNOW that one of these resolutions provided that the person that holds the office that he has held for about fifteen years, be perpetually a member of the President's Advisory Committee?

DO YOU KNOW that Bro. Rutherford and Van Amburgh could thus gain and retain control of the Society's affairs, if the other Directors did not appeal to the Courts or the Shareholders did not attend to the matter?

DO YOU KNOW that the provision for the Advisory Committee was one of the methods used to deprive the Board of control over the Society?

DO YOU KNOW that there would have been no need for an advisory committee had Bro. Rutherford intended to submit to the control of the Board?

DO YOU KNOW that the Resolutions Committee amended the resolution on the Advisory Committee because through the Board they wanted to limit the President?

DO YOU KNOW that "Light After Darkness" expressly states, bottom of page 5 and top of page 6, that the matter of dispute between Bro. Rutherford and the Resolutions Committee was on the Advisory Committee?

DO YOU KNOW that Bro. Rutherford in his "Harvest Siftings," No. 2, at great length accuses the Board's majority of denying this?

DO YOU KNOW that those sending proxies designating other candidates for President were shut off from having their votes cast for the candidate they preferred? and that they were cast for our new President?

DO YOU KNOW that on more than one occasion after Bro. Russell's death, Bro. Rutherford outlined a procedure where one might be nominated for office at the Convention, and that the nominations might be closed after seconding speeches, thus preventing further nominations, and that strange as it may seem, Bro. Macmillan adopted this course of procedure at Pittsburgh, and later exulted in the presence of witnesses at his own cleverness?

DO YOU KNOW that Bro. Rutherford, who has for years posed among the friends as being profound in knowledge of the law, is no doubt undergoing chastisement to reduce him to his proper level, for it is now clearly seen that he has been very wise in his conclusion upon nearly every important question raised during his term as President, and that for this reason, among others not yet mentioned, it would be committing a double wrong to re-elect him in January; and

DO YOU KNOW that a second term would no doubt result in committing many more mistakes, thus involving the company in such a tangle that it would not be considered worth while to try to straighten it out?

DO YOU KNOW that a wise man would have been glad to accept the kindly advances of co-operation of the Directors and to profit by their advice? And a humble brother succeeding to such a position would properly desire to manage the Society as one of seven Directors, and as the agent of them, rather than to attempt to rule over or do away with them entirely, as he has attempted to do?

DO YOU KNOW that the "policy" of the Society referred to in "The Watch Tower," Nov. 1, 1917, page 329, No. 2 of quotation from present By-laws, is, that the President shall rule without restraint, and that the Shareholders shall not be permitted to say what the President may or may not do, because they would be prevented from voting?

DO YOU KNOW that the aforementioned "policy" goes even so far as to determine that the majority members of the Board of Directors must be forbidden to enter the Tabernacle office, where their duties as Directors under the law and office duties require them to go?

DO YOU KNOW that this policy further authorizes violence toward the persons of those Directors and has forced them out of the Bethel Home?

DO YOU KNOW that the said policy has already developed a campaign of slander which has assumed world-wide proportions?

DO YOU KNOW that this policy has already put the Society in disrepute with people who were at least friendly toward its work?

DO YOU KNOW that Bro. Rutherford claims to be the head of the Society, and that headship implies control?

DO YOU KNOW that he engineered matters to secure headship for himself?

DO YOU KNOW that Bro. Rutherford's present claim that he never claimed the right to control the Society's affairs is contradicted by many brethren, who heard him assert his controllership in the Society's affairs?

DO YOU KNOW that the Board is the "one head" in the Society's affairs, and that this excludes the Society's highest individual officer from being that "one head"?

DO YOU THINK that the Board, either alone or controlling a subservient Board of Directors of the Society or as President of the Peoples Pulpit Assn., which he claims to have absolute authority over for life, should be permitted to say who shall be Pilgrims, and so make the Church and the three corporations (viz., the Watch Tower Society, the Peoples Pulpit Assn. and the International Bible Students Assn.) as he said the Society is in its "Siftings," No. 1, and that mind his mind? Honestly now—do you think so?

DO YOU KNOW that at the annual meeting of the New York Church last month the required number needed to elect Elders is a three-fourths vote, and that even with the aid of the Bethel Family the President and others would not have been able to have been elected as Elders for the ensuing year, and hence the election was postponed until January?

DO YOU KNOW that it was suggested, with the concurrence of the President and others, that the brethren named in "Harvest Siftings," No. 1, and in "Light After Darkness," should not be voted on for Elders of the New York Church, and that, if so suggested by the brethren that those who are acting as Pilgrims are Elders of the Church at large anyway, and would not need to be voted on at all, and that this plan would have eliminated the four "deposed" Directors as Elders, because they have been discharged as Pilgrims by the influence and direction of the President, and that the brethren named in and participating in "Harvest Siftings" as acting Pilgrims would, by reason of being Pilgrims, be Elders of every Church in the world, without being elected as Elders by any Church, not even the New York Church? Thus the President would create a hierarchy that would rival the hierarchy of the Catholic Church. Do you think that such a scheme as outlined in the preceding section was an honest one? Many in the New York Ecclesia did not think so. They showed their disapproval of this by calling attention to a resolution already on their records to the effect "That no one be considered an Elder of this congregation unless duly elected as such."

DO YOU KNOW that the persons who are subjects of many false statements put into your hands are denied any and every opportunity of clearing their reputations of these untruths?

DO YOU KNOW that by upholding this course of conduct, and not protesting against it, you are violating the Scriptures?

DO YOU KNOW that the Management is requiring that the Society is receiving an average of one thousand dollars a day for the work?

DO YOU KNOW that you don't know what it is being used for, and that no one else knows, either, among those who should know, but that the knowledge is confined to Bro. Rutherford, Van Amburgh and Macmillan?

DO YOU KNOW that some of the Lord's saints were coerced by personal influence to assure one another? Their disapproval of this by calling attention to a resolution already on their records to the effect "That no one be considered an Elder of this congregation unless duly elected as such."

DO YOU KNOW that the Vice-President of the Society should have acted in the place of the President at the time of Bro. Russell's death until the next election, but, instead of that, he was put aside by the Counsellor?

DO YOU KNOW that the term Counsellor in the Church applies only to the Lord Jesus and is the work of the Advocate? How Counsellor to the Church is different from legal counsellor employed by the corporation.

DO YOU KNOW that when Bro. Rutherford, in fact though not in name, assumed the duties of the President previous to the election he thereby set aside the provision of the Lord for that work during the time between Bro. Russell's death and the election in Pittsburgh on the following January?

DO YOU KNOW that between October, 1916, and January, 1917—from the time of Brother Russell's death until the election of another President—Bro. Rutherford took possession of practically all the work of the Vice-President, and then used his personal influence on the floor of the Pittsburgh Convention to defeat Vice-President Ritchie in favor of a Vice-President who lives in Connecticut?

DO YOU KNOW that Bro. Rutherford was so much interested in the Pittsburgh Resolution that he intercepted the Committee on its way to report to the Convention, and coerced them for an hour into changing it back to the way he had prepared it, so that he and Bro. Van Amburgh would have control of everything?

BRO. RUSSELL'S WILL

DO YOU KNOW that Bro. Russell donated "The Watch Tower," the B. S. M. and the copyrights of the "Studies in the Scriptures," and various other booklets, hymn-books, etc., to the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society with the explicit understanding that after his death they should be conducted according to his direction and wishes? (See Z, Dec. 1, 1916, page 358.)

DO YOU KNOW that for 24 years he put more money into the Society than all others combined?

DO YOU KNOW that only one of the five brethren named in Bro. Russell's will as the Editorial Committee is really acting?

DO YOU KNOW that Bro. Russell in his Will named five other brethren as among the most suitable from which to fill vacancies that might occur on the Editorial Committee, and that the last living one named among this second selection has been first on the acting committee since Bro. Russell's death?

DO YOU KNOW that Bro. Hirsch, whose name appears in "The Tower" as one of the Editorial Committee, has not been permitted to act in that capacity for some months past?

DO YOU KNOW that Bro. Rutherford claims that the five sisters whom Bro. Russell designated years before his death to vote his shares in the Society are not recognized by the President as trustees for that purpose, but that when charges were preferred against Bro. Hirsch as a member of the Editorial Committee, as provided in Bro. Russell's will, it was proposed, as indicated by the charges, to consider such sisters as trustees?

DO YOU KNOW that the charges actually served on Bro. Hirsch were in substance charges against him as being guilty of having criticized Bros. Rutherford, Van Amburgh and Macmillan, and that thus these brethren expected, by convicting Bro. Hirsch, to prematurely try the greater question?

DO YOU KNOW that the charges preferred against Bro. Hirsch, whereby he was suspended from acting on the Editorial Committee, and thus unable to check matters going into “The Watch Tower,” were to be tried before the Board of Judgment within 60 days, namely, on or before Nov. 4, 1917, and that he was never brought to trial before that Board on those charges or any other charges and that he is still kept from service on the Editorial Committee?

DO YOU KNOW that the list of the Editorial Committee published on the second page of “The Watch Tower” has never yet been truthful, since some of the brethren named have not been serving? Bro. Robison has not been allowed to serve, Bro. Rockwell’s name appeared for months after his resignation, Bro. Hirsch is not now allowed to serve and Bro. Fisher lives over a hundred miles distant from the office.

DO YOU KNOW that Bro. Russell’s Will was not observed in that a headship or hierarchy is established, contrary to his general policy?

DO YOU KNOW that the People’s Pulpit Assn. has gained the ascendency over the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society within one year after Bro. Russell’s death?

DO YOU KNOW that the Society, the Church and all concerned would have been much better off if the management had carried out the Will and wishes of our dear departed Pastor?

DO YOU KNOW that many classes in and near New York City are no longer satisfied with the Pilgrim service supplied by the present administration, and that Deacons and less than Deacons are frequently used in this important branch of the service?

DO YOU KNOW that the present management frequently refer to Bro. Russell’s “mistakes”?

DO YOU KNOW that it is under the present management that the Church at large has been rent with controversies and almost split in two? Does this speak well for the management?

DO YOU KNOW that the work is now managed on the basis of policy, expediency and favoritism instead of on the basis of Justice and Love?

DO YOU KNOW that the Bible says, “If the foundations be removed, what shall the righteous do?”

DO YOU KNOW that with the foundation of Justice removed that the super-structure will eventually fall into the pit?

DO YOU KNOW that the very persons that Bro. Russell wisely held in check are now advanced and favored by the present administration?

DO YOU KNOW that the President is injuring himself, the Bethel Home, the Tabernacle, “The Watch Tower,” the Society and the Church by not receiving some word of admonition and caution from the dear Saints of God scattered throughout the world, indicating to him your conviction that it would be better for the work in every way for him to carry out the thoughts of Bro. Russell, as expressed in the Society’s Charter, his will, and the approved methods and policies of some forty years of actual experience in the Harvest Work?

DO YOU NOT KNOW that loyalty to the Lord includes the thought of loyalty to His steward?

DO YOU NOT KNOW that the Lord has permitted evil in the Society and the channel so as to test and develop the more than overcomers? To cooperate with wrong is disloyal to God and to the Truth.

DO YOU NOT KNOW that one can go out of the Truth in practice as well as in doctrine? One may even hold down the Truth in unrighteousness.

DO YOU KNOW that the reported great increase in work at headquarters does not necessarily indicate that the interests of the Truth are being more widely or effectively served?

DO YOU KNOW that the new Volunteer B. S. M.’s have not been made up of “reprints from Bro. Russell’s published sermons,” as he requested, and that the first Volunteer number this year was filled with Bro. Rutherford’s two articles?

DO YOU KNOW that Bro. Russell’s article on “Justice” was lifted from one issue of “The World on Fire” and supplemented by one from Bro. Rutherford and that in cutting out they left unfinished an article by Bro. Russell, not even completing the sentence?

DO YOU KNOW that although the Church stands overwhelmingly for the carrying out of Bro. Russell’s policies, as outlined in his Charter and Will, a strong delusion seems to have taken possession of them, and they are, largely for the sake of peace, joining with those who are subverting everything we hold dear?

The Scriptures say: “The wisdom from above is ‘First—Pure!’ ‘Then—Peaceable!’

PRESENT MANAGEMENT

DO YOU KNOW that a great amount of this increased expenditure of money, time and labor is due to (1) Bro. Russell’s death; (2) Unnecessary changes in work outlined by Bro. Russell; (3) issuance of Vol. 7; (4) issuance of “Harvest Siftings” with the resulting confusion and distress upon the Church; (5) the seeking “approval and endorsement for the present management”; (6) an unprecedented succession of Conventions for some months past, largely to boom the President for reelection; (7) the arrangements for the coming election as outlined in Nov. 1 “Tower,” which will surely produce an unparalleled correspondence report for this year?

DO YOU KNOW that while it is admitted (Vol. 7, p. 227) that the W. T. B. & T. So. was organized for the purpose of carrying forward Bro. Russell’s work (Z. 17, p. 22), nevertheless, under its present management, practically every branch of work laid out by him has been either greatly curtailed or eliminated?

DO YOU KNOW that although Bro. Robison desired to take up his duties on the Editorial Committee of “The Watch Tower,” he was prevented from doing so by some trumped-up charges eagerly seized upon by Bros. Rutherford and Van Amburgh?

DO YOU KNOW that they made Bro. Sturgeon’s life so miserable while he was endeavoring to serve on the Editorial Committee that he resigned, not only his position as one of the Editors of “The Tower,” but also his position on the V. D. M. Board and also as a member of the Bethel Family?

DO YOU KNOW that although Bro. Rutherford’s name was not mentioned by Bro. Russell as a member of the original Editorial Committee, but was tenth on the list, he desired to cooperate with the large majority of them have either been driven out of Bethel or are not permitted to enter to take up their duties?

DO YOU KNOW that the support which the Truth friends are now giving Bro. Rutherford, in plain view of what he has done and is still doing, is looked upon by him as an endorsement of all his wrongful acts and an encouragement to continue to disregard his obligations to Bro. Russell?

DO YOU KNOW that Bro. Russell no doubt would have given to the Society all his possessions if he had known in advance that his Charter would be declared illegal and shamelessly violated, his Will set aside and his Board of Directors put out of office, and that the Church all over the world would continue to support the President who is doing all these things?

DO YOU KNOW that the delusion which Bro. Rutherford has thus far thrust upon the Church—in making it believe that he is supporting Bro. Russell's policies and carrying them out, when he is not—and may be one of the "strong delusions" ("energy of delusion") referred to by St. Paul in order that those who do not hold the Truth in absolute righteousness may "believe a lie"?

DO YOU KNOW that the Board of Directors entered into a solemn promise with Bro. Russell before he donated to the Society all that it holds dear, and that that covenant was that the Board would conduct the Society's affairs according to his wishes during his life and also according to his expressed wishes after his death? and

DO YOU KNOW that when the majority of the Board preferred to be true to their covenant made with Bro. Russell, Bro. Rutherford showed his disregard for his share in the covenant to which he succeeded by violating Bro. Russell's Will, his Charter and thrusting his Board of Directors out?

LEGAL OPINION BY MEMBER OF PHILADELPHIA BAR

LAW OFFICES

J. FITHIAN TATEM

STEPHEN GIRARD BUILDING, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

In view of the fact that Brother Rutherford based his action upon the opinion of a Philadelphia lawyer, it was thought advisable to have a competent member of the Philadelphia bar examine into these questions from the standpoint of the laws of the State of Pennsylvania, the provisions of the Act of November 27, 1865 (Purdon's Digest, Vol. 1, title "Corporations," Sec. 74), expressly authorizing the holding of meetings of Directors either within or without the State, as a majority may from time to time appoint. This provision is, however, applicable only to those corporations where a majority of the Directors thereof are citizens of any other State. The only limitation is that the annual election for officers must be held in the State of Pennsylvania.

In my opinion the proviso of the Pennsylvania corporation act, which stipulates that three of the incorporators must be citizens of Pennsylvania, does not require that there shall at all times be three members of the Board of Directors citizens of this Commonwealth. The requirement applies only to the organization of the corporation. The cases which are sometimes referred to as sustaining the contrary opinion do not, in fact, deal with this question at all. I refer particularly to those cited in 1 Purdon 775, note 1.

5. It is further to be noted that the Charter of this Society, which was incorporated as above, under paragraph two of the 2d section of the Pennsylvania Corporation Act, which provides for the organization of corporations of the first class, as approved and certified by the Court, contains no provision which would require three Directors to be residents of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

6. The Directors of a corporation hold over not only Until the time for the next election of Directors, but until their successors are actually elected. During the time within which they hold over by reason of the failure of the corporation to legally elect their successors they are Directors in a full and complete sense, both de facto and de jure. During this time they may elect officers and can also be required to perform the duties enjoined by law with the same fidelity as regularly elected officers, and are likewise subject to the same liability for any failure of duty occurring during the term for which they may be holding over. (Cook on Corp., 7th Ed., Para. 713.) See also Penn. Milk Producers' Ass'n, 20 Pa. C. C. Rep., 540; Jenkins vs. Baxter, 160 Pa. St., 199.

7. Under the corporation act of Pennsylvania, the power to fill vacancies in a Board of Directors is vested in the remaining members of the Board. Where the statute provides a definite method for doing a thing it must be followed rather than the method prescribed in the Charter, which is contrary to the statute and without authority.

8. The Charter of the corporation having provided that those who had contributed a certain sum were entitled to vote, the officers or Directors or even the Stockholders (so-called), would have no right to adopt a by-law which sets up another and contradictory test as to the right to vote, namely, that one must be in full harmony with the Society. Such a by-law could have no effect on the rights of those who had complied with the Charter provision and were therefore entitled to voting rights. The only way in which their rights could be taken away from them would be by a formal amendment of the Charter.

9. In regard to the Proxies to be used at an election, it is, of course, possible for a corporation to provide by duly adopted by-laws that stock transferred within a certain number of days before the annual meeting shall not be voted. Such a provision makes it possible for the officers to prepare a list of Stockholders entitled to vote. In the absence of such a by-law stock can be transferred up to the date of the meeting, and Proxies can be presented at the meeting and voted. The officers should have a list of stockholders at the meeting, and should also have there the stock ledger and transfer book. As this is a Pennsylvania corporation, it must be remembered that under the provisions of our statute a Proxy dated more than two months prior to any meeting or election is invalid, and that the Proxy must be witnessed. (1 Purdon Corp., Para. 85.)

Trust that I have answered in outline the more important questions which you submitted to me, I remain,

Yours very truly,

J. FITHIAN TATEM.
OUR STATEMENT

This paper was prepared with great care as to the accuracy of the statements made herein, as was done also in the preparation of "Light After Darkness." Five brethren spent much time and labor in the preparation of the latter paper, and we still believe it to be as accurate, both in letter and in spirit, as possible for five brethren to make anything.

The "Do You Know" Questions, which occupy a considerable part of this paper, were written by a large number of well-informed friends of the New York congregation, who, together with ourselves, vouch for the truthfulness of the statements made in their respective queries. The Prefatory was not written by us, nor with our knowledge.

The lamented legal questions, which have been raised by the President in this controversy, have been taken care of on our side by Bro. McGee, who is an attorney well known to thousands of friends, many of whom, including our dear departed Pastor, have at times consulted him regarding important legal matters. Bro. McGee is one of the lawyers on the staff of the Attorney General of the State of New Jersey, and his opinion of the legal questions raised by Bro. Rutherford has been concurred in by 12 lawyers, all interested in the case, two of whom are Pennsylvania attorneys [in which State the Society's Charter was issued], the opinion of one of whom is also printed in this paper.

We have no pleasure in pointing out herein the gross errors made, both legal and otherwise, in the management of the affairs of our Society during the past year by the President. The issues, unnecessarily raised by him and spread by him far and wide, are taken up by us only because we believe and know that the information furnished in the "Harvest Siftings" is in many instances so far wide of the Truth as to leave the friends under a very wrong impression—in fact, under “a strong delusion.”

We feel, therefore, that we would be very remiss in our duty if we were not explicit, and our sole object in assisting in the getting out of this paper is in order to furnish a complete service to the Shareholders and, in fact, to all the brethren. The controversy is not a personal one, but involves principles of righteousness, which we cannot properly set aside.

The letter enclosed herewith, handed to us just before this paper went to press, suggesting the submission of the matters in controversy to 15 wise and impartial Shareholders, to report the results of their investigations at the Shareholders’ meeting in January, appeals to us very favorably, and it is our prayer that Bro. Rutherford will take the same view of the matter as we do. We are advised that over 150 signatures of the New York congregation are attached to the appeal, and that many more could have been had, if time had permitted.

HABING at various times during past years donated to the WATCH TOWER BIBLE AND TRACT SOCIETY all of my personal possessions except a small personal bank account of approximately two hundred dollars, in the Exchange National Bank of Pittsburgh, which will properly belong to me if she survives me, I have merely love and Christian good wishes to leave to all the dear members of the Bible House Family—and all other dear colaborers in the harvest work—yes, for all of the household of faith in every place who call upon the name of the Lord Jesus Christ. Having in view of the fact that in donating the journal, ZION’S WATCH TOWER, the OLD THEOLOGY QUARTERLY and the copyrights of the MILLENNIAL DAWN SCRIPTURE STUDIES Books and various other booklets, hymn-books, etc., of the WATCH TOWER BIBLE AND TRACT SOCIETY, I did so with the explicit understanding that I should have full control of all the interests of these publications during my life time, and that after my decease they should be conducted according to my wishes. I now herewith set forth the said wishes—my will respecting the same as follows:

AN EDITORIAL COMMITTEE OF FIVE

I direct that the entire editorial charge of ZION’S WATCH TOWER shall be in the hands of a committee of five brethren, whom I exhort to great carefulness and fidelity to the truth. All articles appearing in the columns of ZION’S WATCH TOWER shall have the unqualified approval of at least three of the committee of five, and, through the three that are supposed to be contrary to the views of one or both of the other members of the committee, such articles shall be held over for thought, prayer and discussion for three months before being published—that so far as possible the unity of the faith and the bonds of peace may be maintained in the editorial management of the journal.

The names of the Editorial Committee (with such changes as may from time to time occur) shall all be published in each number of the journal—but it shall not in any manner be indicated by whom the approval or disapproval of any articles are written. It will be sufficient that the fact be recognized that the articles are approved by the majority of the committee.

As the Society is already pledged to me that it will publish no other periodicals, it also be required that the Editorial Committee shall be written for or be connected with no other publications in any manner or degree. My object in these requirements is to safeguard the committee and the journal from any spirit of ambition or pride or headship, and that the truth may be recognized and appreciated for its own worth, and that the Lord may more particularly be recognized as the Head of the church and the Fountain of truth.

Copies of my Sunday discourses published in the daily newspapers covering a period of several years have been preserved and may be used as editorial matter for The Watch Tower. The Editorial Committee may think best, but my name shall not be attached nor any indication whatever given respecting the authorship.

Those named below as members of the Editorial Committee (subject to their acceptance) are supposed by me to be thoroughly loyal to the doctrines of the Scriptures—especially so to the doctrine of the ransom—that there is no acceptance with God and no salvation to eternal life except through faith in Christ and obedience to his Word and his spirit. If any of the designated ones shall at any time find themselves out of harmony with this provision they will be violating their consciences and hence committing sin if they continue to remain members of this Editorial Committee—knowing that so to do would be contrary to the spirit and intent of the provision.

The Editorial Committee is self-perpetuating, in that should one of these members die or resign, it will be the duty of the remainder to elect his successor, that the journal may never have an issue without a full Editorial Committee of five. I enjoin upon the committee named great caution in respect to the election of others to their number—that purity of life, clearness in the truth, zeal for God, love for the brethren and fidelity to the principles shall be prominent characteristics of the one elected.

In addition to the five named for the committee I have named five others from whom I prefer that selection should be made for any vacancies in the Editorial Committee, before going outside for a general selection—unless in the interim, between the making of this will and the time of my death, something should occur which would seem to indicate these as less desirable or others as more desirable for filling the vacancies mentioned. The names of the Editorial Committee are as follows:

The names of the five whom I suggest as possibly amongst the most suitable from which to fill vacancies in the Editorial Committee are as follows: A. E. Burgess, Robert Hirsh, Isaac Hookins, G. H. Fisher (Scranton), J. F. Rutherford, Dr. John Edgar.

The following announcement shall appear in each issue of THE WATCH TOWER, followed by the names of the Editorial Committee:

THE WATCH TOWER EDITORIAL COMMITTEE

This journal is published under the supervision of an Editorial Committee, at least three of whom must have read and have approved as truth each and every article appearing in these columns. The names of the Committee now serving are: (names to follow.)

As the compensation for their labors must be sufficient to maintain the Society’s course of the past in respect to salaries—that none be paid; that merely reasonable expenses be allowed to those who serve the Society or its work in any manner. In harmony with the course of the Society, I suggest that the provision for the Editorial Committee be that whichever of the three shall be actively engaged, shall consist of not more than a provision for their food and shelter and ten dollars per month, with such a moderate allowance for wife or children or others dependent upon them for support as the Society’s Board of Directors shall consider proper, just, reasonable—that no provision be made for the laying up of money.

I desire that the OLD THEOLOGY QUARTERLY continue to appear as at present, so far as the opportunities for distribution and the laws of the land will permit, and that its issues be the same as at present, but that any names of individuals be removed from the list from which others of that committee may be chosen to fill vacancies and also to each member of the Board of Directors of the WATCH TOWER BIBLE AND TRACT SOCIETY—whoever may be holding that office at that time. The answers of those appointed shall be required in their written form as editors. It shall be the duty of the officers of the Society to provide the necessary arrangements for these members of the Editorial Committee and to assist them in their duties in every possible manner, in compliance with the engagements made with me bearing on this matter.

This journal is published under the supervision of the WATCH TOWER BIBLE AND TRACT SOCIETY all my voting shares therein, putting the same in the hands of five Trustees, as follows: Sr. E. Louise Hamilton, Sr. Almeta M. Nation RBson, Sr. J. G. Herr, Sr. C. Tomlins, Sr. Alice G. James.

These Trustees shall serve for life. In event of deaths or resignations successors shall be chosen by the WATCH TOWER SOCIETY Directors and Editorial Committee and the remaining Trustees after prayer for divine guidance.

I now provide for the impeachment and dismissal from the Editorial Committee of any person found to be unworthy the position by reason of either doctrinal or moral laches, as follows:

At least three of the Board must unite in bringing the impeachment charges, and the Board of Judgment in the matter shall consist of the WATCH TOWER BIBLE AND TRACT SOCIETY’s five Trustees and the five trustees controlling my voting shares and the Editorial Committee, excepting the accused. Of these sixteen members at least thirteen must favor the impeachment and dismissal in order to effect the same.
I desire to be buried in the plot of ground owned by our Society in the Rosemont United Cemetery, and all the details of arrangements respecting the funeral service I leave in the care of my sister, Mrs. M. M. Land, and her daughters, Alice and Mary, or such of them as may survive me, with the assistance and advice and cooperation of the brethren, as they may request the same. Instead of an ordinary funeral dirge, of course, I request that they arrange to have a number of the brethren, accustomed to public speaking, make a few remarks each, that the service be very simple and inexpensive and that it be conducted in the Bible House Chapel or any other place that may be considered equally appropriate or more so.

MY LEGACY OF LOVE

To the dear "Bethel" family collectively and individually I leave my best wishes, in hoping for them of the Lord his blessing, which maketh rich and addeth no sorrow. The same I extend in a still broader sweep to all the family of the Lord in every place—especially to those rejoicing in the harvest truth. I entreat you all that you continue to progress and to grow in grace, in knowledge, and above all in love, the great fruit of the spirit in its various diversified forms. I exhort to meekness, not only with the world, but with one another; to patience with one another and with all men, to gentleness with all, to brotherly kindness, to godliness, to purity. I remind you that all these things are necessary for us, necessary that we may attain the promised kingdom, and that the Apostle has assured us that if we do these things we shall never fail, but "so an entrance shall be ministered unto us abundantly into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ."

It is my wish that this my last Will and Testament be published in the issue of The Watch Tower following my death. My hope for myself, as for all the dear Israel of God, is that soon we shall meet to part no more, in the first resurrection, in the Master's presence, where there is fulness of joy forevermore. We shall be satisfied when we awake in his likeness—"Changed from glory unto glory."

Charles Taze Russell.

THE FUNERAL SERVICES

The remains of Pastor Russell—announcement of whose death was published in the last issue of The Watch Tower—arrived in New York from the West on Friday morning, November 10, accompanied by his traveling secretary, Menta Sturgeon.

When the body reached Chicago, a large number of friends had assembled at the station, and as it was necessary to transfer the casket from one depot to another, a long procession of automobiles bearing the sorrowing friends formed and followed through the city. The casket was opened during the delay here, and many to the sorrowing friends specially impressed, and was kept so closed and handled so much. From Chicago the body was accompanied by a delegation, delegations from other cities joining on route to New York.

The remains reached the Bethel Home on Saturday, where they were received by the Family and by members of the Congregation. On Sunday morning they were removed to The Temple and lay in state until 10 o'clock in the evening. Thousands saw them here for the last time.

All day Saturday and Sunday representatives of congregations in many of the cities east of the Mississippi and in Canada arrived on almost every incoming train. The Temple was inadequate to accommodate them all. The lecture room below was opened for the overflow. Every inch of available space was occupied from the basement to and including the second balcony.

Two services had been announced for The Temple—one to be held in the afternoon for the friends, the other for the public in the evening. But in view of the rapidly increasing number of delegations from other cities and of requests for additional service to be held on Sunday morning. The speaker was Brother Macmillan, whose remarks will be found elsewhere.

The afternoon service, which had been especially announced for the friends, was opened with a solo, "Be Thou Faithful Until Death." These words were especially impressive, because one of the most beautiful floral designs surrounding the casket bore a broad white ribbon on which were the words of this beautiful hymn. The other hymns were 23, "Blest be the tie that binds," so frequently sung at our conventions, and 362, "O God, our help in ages past," when welcoming Brother Russell in their midst; and No. 273, "Sun of my soul, my Father dear," one of Brother Russell's favorite hymns.

Each speaker, when he had completed his remarks at the side of the casket, was provided with a place in the rostrum, and proceeded to the lecture room below and repeated the same address to the friends crowding the smaller Auditorium. All of the addresses are in number—appear in this issue of The Watch Tower.

THE FLORAL DISPLAY

Elsewhere in The Watch Tower will be found a full-page view of the floral display on the rostrum. It was the finest we had ever seen, a fitting representation of the membership of the family of the Lord. The Temple was so completely occupied by friends crowding the smaller Auditorium. All of the available space was inadequate to accommodate them all. The rostrum of The Temple was so completely occupied by plants, ferns, flowers and a most wonderful collection of appropriate floral designs as to leave barely room enough for the speakers and the rostrum. Moreover, the entire length of every balcony and box was artistically decorated with a great variety of ferns and flowers.

At the foot of the casket was placed a broken pillar of flowers, fittingly representing the dear body which, like the Lord's body, had been broken in the service of the brethren; while at the head was a magnificent floral cross and crown, the cross symbolizing his share in the death of Christ, and the crown symbolizing the crown of glory, which he believe he now wears with our dear Lord in heaven.

The rostrum was not large enough to contain all the floral designs, nor was there space available in the interior of The Temple to display all the floral contributions. But how beautiful and full of affection, as for all the dear Israel of God, imperfectly represented the degree of love and esteem in which our departed Pastor was held by all who knew him well.

The Committee of Arrangements were of course desirous of following Brother Russell's suggestion in his Will, and to this end requested several brethren to speak at the services. Among these were A. H. Macmillan, Menta Sturgeon, W. E. Van Ambrugh, P. S. L. Johnson, E. V. Kuehn, Toledo, O.; C. A. Wise, Indianapolis, Ind.; J. T. D. Pyles, Washington, D. C.; I. I. Margeson, Boston, Mass.; F. W. Manton, Toronto, Canada; W. L. Abbott, St. Paul, Minn.; C. B. Shull, Columbus, Ohio; G. C. Driscoll, Dayton, Ohio; Dr. L. W. Jones, Chicago, Ill.; D. Kihlgren, Springfield, Mass.; Dr. A. E. McCosh, Detroit, Mich.; C. J. Woodworth, Scranton, Pa.; George Draper, Wichita, Kansas; C. H. Anderson, his mother, W. L. Abbott, St. Paul, Minn.; and J. D. Ross, Truro, N. S. But to have carried out the program in its entirety would have consumed considerable more time, and as The Temple was so crowded that many were obliged to stand for hours, it was deemed wise to reduce the number of speakers to a few, the addresses of those at the three services following in regular order:

ADDRESS AT MORNING SERVICE

BY A. H. MACMILLAN—NEW YORK

I am satisfied that I am expressing the sentiments of all present when I say that if the English language contains words capable of describing our feelings at the present time, we have not learned them yet. We are happy and sad, confused and perplexed; yet the way is clear—and we are glad! Death invariably causes confusion, the effect is temporary, and appears yet, as the Apostle Paul expresses it, "We sorrow not as those that have no hope." Our glorious hope buoyed us up in this trial hour, and we are happy because we know our Beloved Pastor is even now with the Lord. Numerous questions crowd themselves into our minds: We wonder if the work will continue in the future as it has in the past; whether the waters of Jordan will be "smitten"; who will write the Seventh Volume; to whom shall we go with our perplexing trials as individuals and as ecclesiastics? It is my purpose to answer briefly some of these questions by relating to you the experiences of the following brethren:

Following the Newport Convention in July, Brother Russell had a serious sick spell, during which illness he called me to the Study and spent three and a half hours outlining the work that he felt was yet to be done, and endeavoring to make plans to carry it on. He asked me then if I would
